What About Wages?
4 Corrections. 135 Planes.

—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

"TERRIBLE NEWS" comes from Honduras, headlines shocking.

"Northern Honduras cut off. Thirty-one killed in battle. Communication ceases."

Then your memory goes back a few years to dispatches read when we were shipping our men to Europe by the millions, and our dollars by the billions.

You remember that one single exploding shell would kill more than "31 dead" and one poison gas bomb might ruin the lives of hundreds. Lucky Honduras.

FRANCE IS shipping gold to the United States, and our reserve bank is struggling "to curb the gold influx."

Shipping gold here improves Europe's financial health, raising the exchange value of the pound and the franc. Explain that if you can. It is like the old idea of bleeding a man to cure his disease.

THE FEDERAL Reserve Bank of New York reduces its bill buying rates to the lowest levels in history to stop the gold influx, forcing dealers in bankers' acceptances to slash their rates, and indicating a cut in the rediscount rate.

All this is pleasant for those who borrow money on call to do their speculating. It makes you wonder what "finance and the gold standard" really mean.

WISE MEN who meet at directors' meetings ask each other:

"What do you think about liquidating wages?"

Liquidating means cutting down. The question is superfluous, for wages are being liquidated rapidly now. A man who put up a building for this writer a year ago offered to put up another like it for much less "because I can hire for $6 a day union workers to whom I paid $12 a year ago. And many are hiring men to work hard for 30 cents an hour."

THERE IS something for men of influence to think about, before urging wage reductions. Every dollar cut from the top of the wage scale will come out of industries with big stock issues. However little you pay, the men must eat. But they are not obliged to buy automobiles, radio sets, vacuum cleaners, theater tickets.

If you want a REAL depression, cut about $15,000,000,000 a year off the total U. S. A. payroll.

WALL STREET was oh, so sad, yesterday morning. Nobody had a kind word for anybody else. Big Steel actually touched 124. Think of that, if you bought it at 200. Also, think how foolish you'll feel in a few years for not buying it now. But don't buy anything you can't pay for.

And think of this heartbreaking headline: "$30,000,000 Goes Begging at 1 Per Cent." Three times $10,000,000 offered to anybody that wanted the money at 1 per cent interest, and nobody could think of anything to do with it, or wanted to borrow it. Two years ago call money cost 15, and even 20 per cent.

THIS IS the latest Wall street story, reflecting the "trend." It comes from Kuhn, Loeb, where they are glad they never started an investment trust.

"Yes, I heard about it, but you haven't got it quite right. It wasn't Thompson, it was Johnson. It wasn't cotton; it was copper. It wasn't $1,000,000; it was $100,000. And he didn't make it; he lost it."

RUSSIANS TAKE a good many things seriously to which we pay comparatively little attention here. Some 99,610 have been expelled from the Bolshevik party, some because they are "immoral," others because they are friends of Trotzky.

If you are cheating the government in Russia, they stand you up and shoot you down. If you commit murder, they send you to jail for 10 years.

IN THIS country, if you cheat the government you often go to Europe on a yacht. You always do if you cheat on a big enough scale.

If you commit a murder, you are punished sometimes, not often. You would be surprised to know how few were punished for the last 9,000 murders committed in the United States.

FOUR CORRECTIONS. Speaking of useful work done by osteopaths, the writer wrote "Osteopaths do NOT take the place of other doctors." The "not" was omitted in various newspapers.

Referring to the extremely important Diesel airplane engine developed by the Packard company, which weighs 2.31 pounds per horsepower, the weight was printed as 32 pounds per horsepower, which, of course, would make it impossible for a plane to operate.

The statement that the fighting plane made by Boeing for the U. S. Army can go up and come down 10 miles in six and one-half minutes should have read 10,000 feet in six and one-half minutes. And the later statement about the consumption of meat in the United States should have read 50,000,000 pounds a day, not 50,000,000 pounds a year.

THERE WERE crowds around the Boeing fighting plane up to the time the airplane exhibition closed at 10:30 last Sunday night.

Eighteen of those planes flying together in formation went up 28,000 feet, establishing a world record. Individual Army

Contractor Scores Works Lettings; Evans Claims Papers Burned During Quiz

Developments in the Department of Public Works investigation before City Council today were these:

1—P. J. (Paddy) Ridge, former city contractor, described bidding on city contracts as a "racket" and charged city contracts were inflated by inclusion of contingent items which were never used, but for which city paid.

2—Attorney Henry Oliver Evans charged that books and records had been burned on the M. O'Herron Company property in Chislett street, last Sunday, during questioning of Joseph Kissane, Sr., on destruction of 1928 records.

The former city contractor was on the witness stand most of the morning, during which he charged that many city contractors were dishonest. He said that he had talked with George P. Barnes three years ago and quoted Barnes as saying that improper practices were still in force.

TELLS OF "RACKET"

Resuming the witness stand following the noon recess, Ridge said:

"I might as well tell the real story now.

"The winter before the city let the Lincoln avenue improvement, Barnes came to me and said 'Paddy, why don't you bid on city work any more.' I said I couldn't bid low enough because of my big overhead.

"You don't know the racket, Barnes told me.

"I asked him, 'what do you mean by racket?' Has bidding turned into a racket now?

"Barnes said, 'Yes, and unless you know the racket, you can't get on.' Barnes then got a bidding sheet and showed me how contingent items on bids could be inflated. I told him that I was too old a man to go to prison now."

Ridge then read the preliminary estimates on the Broad street improvement, and poinetd out that

Consumers Pay Propaganda Expense, Quiz Informed; Richardson Stays Away

By ED PRENDERGAST
Staff Correspondent.

HARRISBURG, April 24.—Testimony that domestic consumers were required to "foot the bill" for propaganda activities of the power interests in Pennsylvania, including school text book alterations, was before the House investigating committee today as the utility interests struck back at charges involving their publicity and political activities.

On the stand this afternoon, A. H. Miller, managing director, asserted that the Pennsylvania Electric Association has dropped its education committee on school propaganda. He said:

"Since I became affiliated with the association, there has been no reference to or propaganda in the schools or school books."

PROPAGANDA STOPPED

Miller became director in December, 1927, he testified. He added that no propaganda was being sent out to the public now.

Representative Ellwood Turner, in distinguishing between good and bad propaganda, said:

"We don't want either the best or the worst organization to tamper with the textbooks of the schools. It is true that there are socialistic, communistic, radical tendencies in the schools today."

GEMS TAKEN IN LATEST MURDER

International News Service.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 24.—With discovery of the body of Mrs. W. B. Bibbens, apparently strangled to death, authorities today were faced with the gigantic task of solving three fiendish crimes with all their ramifications.

The latest victim was garrotted with a towel after being struck over the head. Although the crime was believed commited about a week ago, the pajama-clad body of the middle-aged woman, said to have been wealthy, was not found in her home until last night.

TWO GIRLS VICTIMS

Her death follows two others at the hands of fiends, whose crimes have baffled the foremost criminologists of the state. They were:

Louise Teuber, 17, whose unclad body was discovered hanging from a tree near here last Sunday.

Virginia Brooks, schoolgirl, who was kidnaped and murdered last February.

Two suspects, one of whom police declined to name, have been questioned in connection with the slaying of Mrs. Bibbens. William L. Bartelman, 65, a bank employe, denied that he knew anything of the murder. The owner of the apartment house in which Mrs. Bibbens was slain told police that Bartelman was the man who accompanied Mrs. Bibbens when she negotiated for the lease of the apartment last November.

Mrs. Bibbens was a mystery to her neighbors, with whom she associated but little. Zealously, she guarded her life's history.

"She came here last November. She always had money. A man visited her occasionally. She had a passion for diamonds. She was known at the Agua

LEAPS TO DEATH FROM BRIDGE

A man identified by automobile license cards as S. L. Sigal, 7341 Bennett street, hurled himself to death from the Murray Avenue Bridge to Beechwood boulevard this morning. His leap was witnessed by several persons in the boulevard. The man fell about 75 feet.

A crumpled note, signed with the initials, "S. L. S.," was found near the body. It indicated worry over illness. It read:

"Continued severe headaches; unable to work or walk a short distance. Numbness creeping on all over. I've lost my home. What's the use? S. L. S."

E. J. McDonaugh, 5520 Baum boulevard; Mrs. Irene Frick, 3630 Beechwood boulevard, and Joseph Wargo, 42 Tonnage street, passing in the boulevard, saw the body hurtle through the air.

Sigal, 54, retired for several years, told his wife this morning that he was going to visit a physician.

Rising Temperature Follows Frost Here

After two days of winter-like weather, the sun broke through the clouds today, to start the mercury upward. A heavy frost covered this district this morning, but it is not believed by Forecaster W. S. Brotzman that serious damage was done to blossoming fruit.

The lowest temperature reported at the local weather station was 34. In the outlying districts tested thermometers registered 30 degrees, and ice formed. Reports from the West indicate the frigid spell will be followed shortly by rain.

Former U. S. Senator Run Down by Auto

BAKER, Ore., April 24.—(AP.)—Robert N. Stanfield, former United States Senator from Oregon, was believed to be recovering in a hospital here today from injuries suffered when he was run down by a motor car driven by John Stringer, sheep ranch foreman.

BURNS IN HOME FATAL TO BABY

A 5-month-old baby was burned to death at noon today when flames swept the home of Fred Bingham, 313 Ann street, McKeesport. During the absence of the mother, at a store, neighbors discovered flames in the two-story frame dwelling.

The baby was found in a carriage in the dining room, close to the kitchen, where the fire is supposed to have started. Although the baby was carried out by neighbors, it had been fatally burned and was dead when taken to McKeesport Hospital. The mother collapsed when told of the death of her child and also was taken to the hospital.

The origin of the fire is undetermined. Damage was estimated at $1,500, according to the police.

U. S. Recognizes Spanish Regime Before Seeing It

—By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER—

Fine bit of telepathy by our government in recognizing Spanish republic without having seen it.

Certain inevitable happenings assisted us in this identification. Their Senate held its first session, postponed the second and made plans for the third.

Both Barcelona and Madrid want to be the capital city with indications that the summer executive mansion will be a packing case painted white.

The vice president beat everybody to the first cornerstone, made a speech, took a bow and vanished into permanent obscurity.

They seem to be doing things by our own star-spangled blue prints. They're already trying to reduce the budget. It's like sitting down in a poker game. You're trying to get even from the minute you start.

And they even have Daughters of the Spanish Revolution who are exactly one week old and still charming.

We wish our fellow republicans in sunburned Spain long life and hope they enjoy it after their democrats get busy, which means after all, congratulations to the third party.

FRENCH IN BOX FOR OPENER

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

FORBES FIELD, April 24.—Larry French opposed Freddie Blake on the mound here this afternoon as the Pittsburgh Pirates met the Chicago Cubs in the opening contest of the local National League season.

The usual opening-day ceremonies, including the raising of Old Glory, marked the inaugural, delayed two days by cold weather and rain.

French has opened every series the Pirates have played to date. He started against the Cubs in Chicago and against the Reds in Cincinnati.

Jeans in America; Gets Medal May 20

The scientist, who was accompanied by Lady Jeans, will go to Pasadena, Cal., to confer with Dr. Robert A. Milliken, physicist, and Dr. Edwin Powell Hubble, astronomer. Then he will go to Philadelphia where, on May 20, he will receive the Franklin medal, highest award for physical sciences in the United States.

Los Angeles Shaken by Quake

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—(INS.)—Los Angeles was slightly shaken by two earth tremors at 10:28 a. m. today. The shocks were about two seconds apart.

The shocks were distinctly felt in the metropolitan area.

They were also felt at San Pedro, Los Angeles harbor, 20 miles south of the city.

Sue Carol Loses $2,200 Bracelet

CHICAGO, April 24.—(INS.)—Sue Carol, movie actress, has lost a diamond bracelet valued at $2,200, it was disclosed today. Reporting the loss, Miss Carol said she believed she either mislaid the bracelet or lost it on the street.

Goods Levied as Woman Waits Mate's Burial

A penniless widow sat today beside the body of her husband in their modest one-room home at 2501 Penn avenue, a home whose door bore notice of a constable's sale.

The rent—$12 a month—hasn't been paid for four months. The sale sign proclaimed that this afternoon the household goods were to be sold to meet the debt—one stove, one table, a bed, an ice box, six chairs.

Alex Topolewski, 55, died yesterday. The police notified the coroner's office that Mrs. Topolewski was destitute. Deputy Coroner John McQuaid came to take the body.

The widow said they couldn't afford to get a doctor during the eight days her husband was sick.

She said her husband hadn't worked for four years; that she herself managed to get three days' worth a month, cleaning.

McQuaid notified Alderman Martin Griffin, whose office issued the sale notice. Griffin set the sale back to April 29. The debt is owed the estate of James V. McMaster, one-time alderman.

Disease-DoomedManGives Self for Medical Study

CLEVELAND, April 24.—(AP.)—Anticipating his own death within a month or two from distomiasis, a rare disease of the Orient, the Rev. Ralph Thurber, former missionary to Korea, decided today to offer himself as a subject of experiment to the medical staff of the Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore.

Mr. Thurber, in City Hospital here, expressed the desire to go to Johns Hopkins for treatment but said, however, that distomiasis is almost invariably fatal. It has been observed in the United States only four or five times.

Mr. Thurber's present symptoms include alternating chills and fever with his temperature as high as 104 degrees, accompanied by spasmodic contractions of the stomach muscles.

Dr. Harold J. Knapp, city health commissioner, said the parasite is known as "liver fluke" and that when it enters a human body it generally attacks the liver, but sometimes goes to the lungs.

Supt. McMillan said distomiasis was not transmitted from one person to another if proper safeguards are observed.

D. A. R. CENSORSHIP BLOCKS ATTACK ON HOOVER POLICY

FISH OMITS NICARAGUA CRITICISM

International News Service.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The blue pencil wielded by one group of officers of the D. A. R. convention spared President Hoover an attack because of his new policy in Nicaragua, but apparently scribbled "let 'er go" over Secretary of State Stimson's head.

Caustic criticism of the State Department for failing to formulate a definite policy against the entry into this country of Russian Communist workers or learn thoroughly their activities here, was voiced before the delegates this afternoon by Representative Hamilton Fish Jr., (Rep.), of New York.

ADDRESS DELETED

He allowed D. A. R. officers to delete from his address the portions which attacked the administration's new policy of refusing to protect American property and American civilians in the interior of Nicaragua, far from the coastal ports where U. S. Marines are quartered.

While Fish delivered his censored speech, all doors of Memorial Hall were guarded and additional policemen stood about in the streets. The organization requested the police guard in fear Communists might attempt a demonstration, and issued orders to the door guards to "admit no one while Mr. Fish is talking."

In his address, Fish charged that the State Department had not co-operated with the special House committee which investigated Communism in the United States. He asserted:

"I repeatedly asked the Secretary of State in writing what the policy or practice of the State Department was in carrying out the laws of Congress with reference to the admission of Communists, but he never furnished the committee with any satisfactory information."

"KNOW LITTLE"

State Department officials "appear to know little about Soviet Russia or the activities of the Communists here or in European or South American countries," he maintained.

In closing, he predicted that the State Department would learn that "ever since the Communists were expelled from Mexico, New York City has become the central Communist headquarters for propaganda and revolutionary activities in Mexico, Cuba, Panama, Central America and parts of South America."

Declaring the present size of the American Navy places the United States "at a great disadvantage," the D. A. R. adopted a resolution urging Congress to appropriate the neessary funds for the expansion of the Navy to the requirements of the London treaty by 1936.

This action should be taken so that in 1936, when the next naval conference is held, the United States will not be in an inferior position, the resolution said.

The organization also voted opposition to bills now pending in Congress to prohibit or cut down military training in American schools, and emphasized the importance of chemical warfare and urged that this branch of the military system be developed. Other resolutions indorsed legislation designed to restrict immigration.

One of the outstanding events of the day was the landing of an airplane on the side of Flagstaff Hill, adjacent to the Tech campus in Schenley Park. A crowd of several hundred, including a United States Department of Commerce inspector, a State Department of Aeronautics inspector and several Tech professors, witnessed the feat.

Capt. Hal Bazley, manager of Bettis airport, flew the ship, a Curtiss-Wright Junior "flivver," circling low over Oakland and spiraling to a perfect three-point landing with apparent ease in the limited area. The ship will remain on the campus over the week-end as part of the Tech exhibition.

RADIO STUDIO PASSES

Hundreds of special radio passes distributed through the Sun-Telegraph entitle holders to visit the studios of KDKA, WCAE, KQV and WJAS throughout today, tomorrow and Sunday to witness the actual broadcasting of programs over these stations and to meet personally some of the well known starts of the air.

The passes for KDKA studios will be good also for a tour of the 400,000-watt transmitting plant at Saxonburg, Pa., today, tomorrow and Sunday.

At Forbes Field, the Pittsburgh Pirates meet the Chicago Cubs in the season's opener at home. Wednesday's and Thursday's games having been postponed because of inclement weather. A special aerial program, the American Legion meet and airplane tours over the city, have been planned for tomorrow and Sunday at Bettis airport. The 308th Cavalry polo team will play an engagement with the 107th Field Artillery team at Hunt Armory at 8:45 o'clock Saturday evening and there will be volleyball at the Downtown Y. M. C. A. tonight with swimming exhibitions at the Pittsburgh Natatorium today and tomorrow.

The crowds were interested in the liquid oxygen tanks back of the pilot, allowing him to breathe the six miles up, and interested in the machine gun at his left, firing 1,200 bullets of 30 caliber per minute, between the blades of the revolving propeller, and the heavier machine gun on his right hand firing every minute 600 bullets of 50 caliber.

Those bullets, piercing armor plate three-quarters of an inch thick, make armor plate protection against such planes impossible. With such heavy armor a plane could hardly taxi along the ground, much less rise.

Perhaps Mr. Boeing, who made the airplane in his Seattle factory, or Col. Deeds, his associate in United Aircraft, who invented the self-starter, will provide pilots with a small armor-plated turret to protect their heads and hearts. Or, Mr. Mellon's engineers of the Aluminum Company might devise some duralium.

WHEN YOU see that small, powerful one-man fighting plane, able to pounce on the enemy from a height of 30,000 feet, with a safety factor of 12 to 1 to protect the pilot, you can imagine what respect 5,000 such planes would inspire in an enemy nation, if we had the 5,000.

It is a pleasure to know that the Boeing factory has received an order for 135 more of them, to cost one million and a quarter dollars. They cost less than $10,000 apiece. 6,000 of them could be built for the price of one modern battleship, useless in war.

Six thousand of those pursuit and 5,000 bombing planes, plus the world's biggest fleet of submarines, would make the rest of the world say, "I want no quarrel with the United States." And they would cost less than half our present naval appropriation.

Coolidge Cites New Conservation Problem

To the Editor of The Sun-Telegraph:

The old question of conservation of natural resources has become acute again in the inverted form of overproduction. The same producing interests which formerly looked with disfavor on conservation as a limitation on the use of their property regardless of its becoming exhausted, are now the most silicitous for some restriction.

Mr. Coolidge

This is a distinct change of attitude. A few years ago the national government established a commission to propose conservation of petroleum. That industry did not receive the proposal with favor. Improved machinery, new methods of operation and large investments of capital have brought on the market so much oil, copper and lumber that a fall in prices has made much of their production unprofitable. Yet it is generally agreed that these supplies are limited and it is only a question of time when a real shortage will come.

No doubt the public is securing commodities at prices below cost. But things are so ordered in this world that it is not to the final advantage of the public to buy large supplies below cost. The reaction is sure to be bad. Some action for conservation without unlawful restraint of trade is need for the present and future public welfare.

Pittsburghers Rush Food To Penowa Starving

The Helping Hand, refuge of 2,000 homeless men since last fall, has taken upon its shoulders the burden of providing food and clothes for the 200 men, women and children in the mining town of Penowa, near Avella, Washington County. Stirred by reports of privation and suffering in the families of the miners, the Rev. Alexander Gibson, Attorney Harry I. Miller and Leo Altmayer made personal investigation of the conditions.

The men took with them a truck load of provisions for immediate help. They reported they had found conditions actually far worse than had been stated. Trucks will make regular trips to Penowa until the need for relief has been met, the relief party said.

The men reported children were found barefoot, having been without shoes since last fall. For months the younger children have been without milk. Mothers were found trying to keep up their strength to care for their children on a diet of dandelion greens gathered on the hillsides. In many homes pans of dandelion were found cooking.

Arrangements have been completed to open a milk station for all children up to 12 years. Helping Hand funds may not be used for this, and the Rev. Mr. Gibson has made an appeal for funds for milk.

J. V. Stephenson, operator of the Penowa mine, is in the Washington County Jail on charges resulting from his failure to pay his employes.

PAN-AMERICAN GROUP PUSHES WAR ON DOPE

Health Directors Seeking World Aid to Ban Traffic In Western Hemisphere

By EDWARD L. RODDAN
Universal Service.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Delegates to the Pan American Conference of Health Directors have laid plans for a united drive to eradicate the illicit drug traffic from the western hemisphere.

This far-reaching step was taken when resolutions were introduced, aimed at concerted action to eliminate "dope" smuggling and asking the help of producing countries in Europe and the Orient in shutting off the sources of supply. These resolutions will be combined into one and adopted probably today.

EFFECT ON LEAGUE SEEN

The attitude of the conference, expressing as it does the united sentiment of health authorities of all the American nations, is expected to have a powerful influence upon the meeting of the League of Nations opium advisory committee at Geneva next month. It will show for the first time that the nations of the western hemisphere are combined in a drive against dope.

The appeal for international co-operation in stamping out the drug menace on this hemisphere was made by Dr. Hugh S. Cumming, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, who said:

"The conviction has been reached by the government of the United States that no great improvement in the smuggling situation is possible until there is control, in countries other than the United States, over the manufacture of narcotic drugs which will prevent their sale to any but licensed importers in countries which maintain an import license system or, in the case of countries which do not have such a system, to any but reputable firms and individuals and in quantities commensurate with the estimated legitimate needs of the country."

WILL EXCHANGE DATA

Dr. Cumming revealed that the United States has already made arrangements with 20 foreign countries for the exchange of information regarding the operations of dope smugglers.

Dr. Cumming's appeal for concerted action by the Pan-American countries awakened a quick response from the delegates. Resolutions were introduced by Drs. Waldemar Coutts, of Chile; Fernando Rensoli, of Cuba; Carlos Enrique Paz Soldan, of Peru, and Walter F. Treadyway, assistant surgeon general of the United States.

Dr. Carlos Padilla, of Guatemala, suggested that the dope problem should be approached from a Pan-American viewpoint and if advisable a central office be established for the gathering and dissemination of statistics.

Dr. Rensoli, of Cuba, suggested regulations to be included in a "model code" for control of the drug traffic which might be enacted by the various nations.

Dr. Pedro Albuquerque, of Brazil, said the regulations in his country were so strict that even physicians were making complaints about their severity.

Discussing the smuggling situation, Dr. Cumming said:

"During last year, officials of the United States government seized and confiscated almost one and a half tons of dangerous habit-forming narcotic drugs that were smuggled into the United States. This quantity of drugs is sufficient to poison a large portion of the population.

"There is an underworld market for them, however, among those addicted to their use, and the concensus of public opinion demands that every effort be made to prevent an increase of drug addiction and that the source of the illicit supply be cut off."

SYRIA SHRINERS JOIN FIGHT ON TOWN HALL

Damage Claimed to Mosque If County Builds on Schenley District Site

The Syria Improvement Association, owners of Syria Mosque, today joined the effort of the Schenley property owners to enjoin the County Commissioners from purchasing the Nicola site for Allegheny County's $6,000,000 town hall.

Alleging that if the public auditorium is built in Oakland, it will cause "great loss and irreparable damage to Syria Mosque," a petition asking that the Syria Improvement Association be permitted to join the litigation of the Schenley property owners, was filed in Common Pleas Court. The petition was prepared by Attorney Ralph C. Davis. A hearing upon the application for an injunction filed last week by Attorney Oliver K. Eaton, has been scheduled for Monday.

Two other suits, attacking the sale of $1,500,000 bonds to finance the purchase of the Schenley Farms Company site, have been filed. One of these was filed at Harrisburg and the other in the county courts. Both are said to be sponsored by the Allegheny County Town Hall Association and the Town Hall Association of the North Side.

3D STRANGLING SPURS HUNT

Caliente race track, which she frequently visited, as 'Dolly.'"

That was all that neighbors of the murdered woman could tell police.

BELIEVED STRANGLED

Because of the latest crime, police believe that Virginia Brooks, too, may have been strangled slowly to death by a fiend. Because of the condition of the child's body, from mutilation and exposure, the cause of death never was determined.

That Miss Teuber came to her death by strangulation before her body was suspended from a tree was established today through Dr. F. E. Toomey's autopsy. Dr. Toomey arrived at that conclusion because the girl's arms followed closely the contour of the body, despite the fact that the body was hanging at an angle, with the heels of her slippers touching the earth.

HANGINGS UNDER INQUIRY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—(INS.)—The strange similarity of the hanging of John Porcellano near here and that of Louise Teuber, 17, at San Diego, continued to occupy the attention of investigators today.

Dr. J. C. McGovern, San Mateo coroner, announced he would, if necessary, fly to San Diego with the rope used by Porcellano, a former San Diegoan, to compare it with that used by the slayer of Miss Teuber. The bits of skin found under the girl's finger nails also would be compared with Porcellano's skin, Dr. McGovern said.

Meanwhile Sheriff McGrath was searching for the room of Porcellano, who apparently killed himself. It is hoped the man's personal effects will throw some further light on his strange interest in spiritualism.

Girl Reported Slain Found With Mother

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—(INS.)—The search for Miss Christina Miller, 16, of San Francisco, ended today when it was learned that she had been found at Los Angeles with her mother. A state-wide search was started for the girl after a letter addressed to her father had been turned over to the police. The letter intimated the girl had been killed and that her body was going to be used "for medical experiments."

Flapper Bandit Wife Aids Convict in Suit

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 24.—(INS.)—Cecelia Cooney, probably the first "bobbed-hair bandit," today was permitted to leave Auburn prison to testify in the suit of her convict-husband, Edward Cooney, against the state for $40,000 for the loss of his left arm in the license plate shop of Auburn prison seven years ago.

Cecelia was called the "flapper bandit" back in 1924, when she was convicted for a series of robberies in Brooklyn. Cooney is serving a term in Dannemora prison.

SPAIN ELECTION SET JUNE 21

MADRID, April 24.—(INS.)—The Spanish electorate will go to the polls on June 21 to choose its future regime, it was announced today by Provisional President Alcala Zamora.

The general elections, in addition to electing a constituent Cortes, will determine once and for all whether Spain remains a republic or reverts to a monarchy. The recent overwhelming Republican victory at the municipal balloting forced King Alfonso XIII from the throne, but he refused to abdicate until the people of Spain have definitely voted a republic.

PARIS, April 24.—(AP.)—Don Jaime De Bourbon-Anjou, a cousin of the deposed Alfonso and fifth of the Carlist line of pretenders, today laid claim to the Spanish throne.

He asked the Spanish people to declare in the approaching elections whether they are Republican or Monarchist, and, inviting them to favor the latter, said that the resulting monarchy need have no relations with the former regime but could be "renewed, progressive and decentralized."

More Troops Sent To Attack Funchal

LISBON, Portugal, April 24.—(AP.)—Additional reinforcements are leaving here today on the liner Nyassa for the Maderia Islands, where the principal city, Funchal, is in the hands of rebels.

The troops, with others already en route to the islands, will gather at nearby San Pedro Santo Isle and from there undertake a campaign against Funchal, if necessary, the government says, bombarding the city.

Nuns Aiding Isabel, To Receive Pension

MADRID, April 24.—(AP.)—Miguel Maura, minister of interior, announced today that the Spanish government would grant a pension to the nuns maintaining the hospital in Paris where the Infanta Isabel, aunt of King Alfonso, died yesterday in exile. The pension will be a testimonial of the republican government's regard for the aged princess.

Spain Seeks Return Of Author's Body

VALENCIA, Spain, April 24.—Efforts are to be made to bring Vicente Blasco Ibanez in death back to the country from which he was exiled in life because of his republicanism. The famous novelist died in 1928 and is buried at Menton, France. The municipality is sending representatives to Menton in an endeavor to have his body returned to Valencia and reinterred with honors.

SPAIN'S NEW CHIEF TO GO ON AIR

Universal Service.

NEW YORK, April 24.—A radio broadcasting circuit between the United States and Spain was opened today for the first time, in preparation for the world-wide broadcast which will be made Sunday by Alcala Zamora, provisional president of the new Spanish republic.

Senor Zamora will tell his own story of the fall of the Bourbon regime in the broadcast, which was arranged by the National Broadcasting Company in cooperation with the Hearst Newspapers Radio Service. He will address himself primarily to the United States, but his words will be relayed by American short-wave stations so that all Spanish-speaking countries in Central and South America, as well as the rest of the world, may listen in.

President Zamora will be heard in the United States over the combined nation-wide networks of NBC. He will go on the air at 1 p. m., eastern daylight time. He will face the microphone in Madrid, speaking in Spanish, for seven minutes, after being introduced by George Wheeler Hinman, Jr., Paris correspondent of Universal Service and the Hearst Newspapers.

LAUGHLIN ASKED TO SPEAK

Mr. Hinman will follow the President with an English translation. Irwin B. Laughlin, U. S. Ambassador to Spain, has been invited to speak in the program.

Advices from Madrid today were that a Spanish military band is rehearsing the new national anthem and other appropriate music in the program.

In Washington, special preparations were being made for high officials to listen in to the address of President Zamora at the capital studio of WRC, the National Broadcasting Company station. Similar arrangements are being made for distinguished Spaniards in New York, where WEAF, WJZ and WOR are to participate in the broadcast.

PLANS LAID EARLY

The broadcast Sunday will culminate preparations for an address to the United States by Senor Zamora which began even before the flight of King Alfonso XIII. Charles W. Horn, chief engineer of the National Broadcasting Company, working with engineers of the Radio Corporation of America, began to "build" a circuit from Station EAQ, in Aranjuez, in the suburbs of Madrid, for the first international broadcast ever made from Spain.

E. J. Gough and Clark Kinnaird, of Hearst Newspapers Radio Service, worked with William Burke Miller, director of special events, NBC, in making the necessary arrangements for the national hookup in the United States and the broadcasting from KDKA, Pittsburgh, and WGY, Schenectady, to the rest of the world.

Mrs. Hoover Gets Degree For Latin Translation

BALTIMORE, April 24.—(AP.)—Representatives of universities in all parts of the world were here today to see Goucher College induct into the presidency Dr. David Allan Robertson and confer degrees on four women, including Mrs. Herbert Hoover.

The college, ranking among the first girls' schools in the nation, granted Mrs. Hoover an honorary degree of doctor of laws in recognition of her work in collaboration with the President, in translating from the Latin, Agricola's "De re Mettalica," the first great treatise on mining and metallurgy, published in 1530.

Degrees also were awarded by the college to Miss Lizette Woodworth Reese, Baltimore poet; Winifred Clara Cullis, of the University of London, and Mrs. Florence Rena Sabin, of New York City.

Mrs. Hoover, who has in recent years been similarly honored by other colleges in the West and East, was scheduled to arrive from Washington a short time before the exercises and return at the conclusion of the program without waiting for the dinner to be given in honor of the new president.

ADMITS PUBLIC FOOTS POWER PROPANGADA

Meanwhile, J. S. S. Richardson, former head of the Pennsylvania Electric Association, eagerly sought by the committee, remained out of reach of a subpena at his offices in Washington, where he is now a member of the joint committee on National Utility Associations.

RICHARDSON TOO BUSY

The committee was advised that Richardson told interviewers this morning that "press of business" compelled him to ignore an "invitation" to testify and that he was making no effort "to get out of it."

The committee is anxious to question Richardson relative to his direction of alleged propagandizing of public school textbooks with matter favorable to electric utilities, first light on which was thrown by the Federal Trade Commission investigation some time ago.

Richardson was in Harrisburg this week, and even attended one committee hearing, it was disclosed, but left unrecognized before a summons to appear before the committee could be served.

Following failure of Richardson to appear yesterday, Representative D. Glenn Moore, chairman of the committee, issued a statement intimating the utilities should attempt to induce Richardson to appear before the probe body and testify.

POWER HEAD QUIZZED

J. H. Shearer, president of the Penn Central Power and Light Comany, Altoona, a former president of the Pennsylvania Electric Association, gave the principal testimony yesterday.

He was forced to admit, by Morris L. Cooke, public representative of the committee, that all expenses for propaganda came out of revenue paid by power users, and that allotments of several thousands of dollars paid to the state association were placed in operating expenses. Cooke asked:

"Do you remember when this money was taken from the dividends of the stockholders?"

Shearer said he could not. Shearer denied that he took an active part in the state committee work of Richardson, which had to do with revising school books to fit the utility viewpoint, formation of a state organization in which utility district representatives were to see school superintendents and teachers, and use their position in the community to have them select the "proper" books. Attorney John M. Walker, committee counsel, introduced several letters both to and from Shearer which showed that the Altoona executive had discussed, and asked for data on such propaganda.

SCHOOL PROPAGANDA

Shearer still denied he took active part, and when reminded by Father James R. Cox that he was under oath, he bristled and replied:

"What I said stands. I took no active part. My activities stopped when I accepted the committee work. Lots of committees do not function."

One of the letters was from George M. Gadsby, of the West Penn Power Company, asking Shearer to take over the committee work to "correct the Socialistic tendencies" in the schools. Another was from Shearer to A. W. Robertson, former president of the Philadelphia Company, in Pittsburgh, explaining that a survey had been considered.

FATHER COX TAKES PART

Father Cox asked the witness if Frank Hinnaman, official of the same company, who had previously testified regarding his activities against Pinchot and for Hemphill in the last election, was a member of the Altoona School Board to influence the board in its selection of school books. Shearer answered:

"I emphatically deny that."

Walker, in answer to a question by Investigator Turner, said the selection of school books was entirely in the hands of school boards, and not teachers.

Samuel S. Wyer, consulting engineer, of Columbus, O., told of his surveys into the Clarion River power project for the late A. W. Thompson. He got $25,000 for the survey and recommended it adversely to the former Pittsburgh utility man, he said. Another survey made for a Duquesne Light Company won him a $10,000 fee, he said.

During the course of the questioning of witnesses on school books and other propaganda, Harry Slattery, of Washington, D. C., sat beside Walker at the counsel's table. Slattery was aide to United States Senator Thomas Walsh in the Teapot Dome investigation and also aided materially in the Federal Trade Commission probe into utility propaganda several years ago.

BOSTON FETES, GUARDS PRINCE

BOSTON, April 24.—(INS.)—Heavily-guarded, following discovery of a suspected plot to harm them, Prince Takamatsu and his bride today were welcomed to Massachusetts by Gov. Joseph B. Ely, were cheered when they appeared before the House of Representatives, were cordially greeted by the Senate and were welcomed to Boston at City Hall by Mayor James M. Curley.

Before visiting the Capitol and City Hall the royal honeymooners sent a cablegram to the Emperor of Japan. The prince assured his brother, the Emperor, that he was ably guarded and that, although he had received reports of supposed threats against his life, he knew no reason why such threats should be made.

Cheers and handclapping greeted the prince and his bride everywhere when they appeared about the city.

UTILITY PROBE REPORT READY

HARRISBURG, April 24.—The Moore committee investigating utilities has completed its preliminary report, and injected "some teeth" in it to bite at the Public Service Commission, it was learned today.

The report, which will go to the House of Representatives next week, possibly Monday night, will not be unanimous. Ellwood Turner, of Delaware County, did not sign the report, it was understood. Others members who attended the meeting of the committee were said to favor it.

ROYALTY GOES SIGHTSEEING

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS.)—King Prajadhipok and Queen Rambai Barni, of Siam, were in seclusion today at Ophir Hill, the Whitelaw Reid estate at Purchase, following a day of shopping and sightseeing in New York. They indicated they would spend the next few days quietly at the beautiful Reid estate, declining many invitations.

The King yesterday underwent a short examination and treatment of his eye, the weakened condition of which caused him to visit the United States, while the Queen bought gowns and hats.

They lunched with Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Reid and later rode along Riverside drive, pausing in front of Grant's Tomb. They spent the early evening at the Ogden Reid home and returned to Ophir Hill under a heavy guard.

An elaborate court headquarters has been established at Ophir Hill and arrangements have been perfected for the King to keep in constant touch with Siam through cable and telephone.

Goehring Tax Bill Signed by Pinchot

HARRISBURG, April 24.—(AP.)—Gov. Pinchot has signed the bill of Representative Goehring, Pittsburgh, providing that all collectors of delinquent taxes acting under general or local laws may levy on and sell personal goods and chattels of co-partnerships, associations and corporations as well as those of other persons.

He also signed a joint resolution continuing the legislative committee appointed in 1929 to devise ways and means of financing the commonwealth.

LABOR IN FIGHT FOR SUNDAY BASEBALL

State Federation Indorses Drive for Sabbath Sport; Opposes All Cuts in Pay

HARRISBURG, April 24.—(AP.)—The Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, at the concluding session of its thirtieth annual convention here, today, adopted unanimously a resolution urging passage of legislation to permit playing of professional baseball in Pennsylvania on Sunday. The resolution states:

"Whereas, it appears most desirable that for the recreation of working men, playing of professional baseball on Sunday can serve thousands of lovers of the great American pastime of baseball, who are past the playing age and who must necessarily act the role of spectators.

"And, whereas, legalizing the playing of professional baseball at specified hours on Sunday afternoon will in nowise interfere with the proper observance of Sunday by those so desiring; now, it is hereby

TO NOTIFY LEGISLATURE

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this convention and it go on record that the playing of professional baseball games on Sunday afternoons being a harmless, clean and healthful recreation, has the hearty support and indorsement of this meeting, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to members of the House of Representatives and the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania for the purpose that those representatives and senators will know beyond any doubt the position of labor in the State of Pennsylvania of this most important question which is a social one, affecting the lives of so many working men in this state."

The convention also approved today two other resolutions recommending appointment by the Federation of a standing committee of education in schools and a $200 donation to the Women's Trade Union League.

The next convention will be held the second week of May, 1932, at Reading.

A resolution urging all its affiliated local unions and wage-earners of all classes to resist to the fullest extent any wage reductions was adopted yesterday.

FIGHT SHORT WEEK

The wage-earners and unions also were urged to combat any attempt to institute a shorter work-week in their industry which carries with it the present hourly wage. The resolution also urged support of the proposed constitutional amendment of Representative Matthew Dunn, Allegheny, providing for unemployment insurance.

The convention also directed that letters be sent to United States Senators James J. Davis and David A. Reed calling attention to the construction of a new postoffice building in Pittsburgh, in which, it was charged, the prevailing rate of wages of local labor is not being paid and that the work is being done under non-union conditions.

The federation was placed on record in another adopted resolution as favoring the support of organized musicians and assisting in the effort to reinstate them in theaters in the place of present mechanical sound-producing machinery.

Contractor Scores Practice In Awards; Evans Claims Papers Burned During Quiz

21 of the 26 items were contingent. He said:

"That means that 21 are all in what I spoke of as the racket. That's why I couldn't get the job. The chances of going to the penitentiary were too great for me to try it."

COST QUESTIONS

Attorney Lee C. Beatty, the department's counsel, took up the questioning at this point. He asked:

"How much fill could a contractor have furnished at the unit price of 5 cents a cubic yard?" (the price quoted on the Broad street job).

Ridge replied:

"The contractor would have lost on every cubic yard."

Beatty asked:

"You don't understand these specifications, do you?"

"I don't and no one else would unless it were explained to him."

"What notion did you get from Barnes when you talked with him?"

Ridge answered:

"The quantity would never be used, but would be increased to make the amount of money necessary in the final estimate."

"Then you mean the contractor would not place the material?

"Yes. That's going on every day."

"You got all your information from Barnes?"

DOUBTS ENGINEERS

Beatty asked the witness:

"Then you don't believe that the engineers measured the quantities that went into the Boulevard of the Allies and can prove that they were put in?"

The witness answered:

"No, I do not."

Ridge said he could not name any contractor "who got anything crookedly."

ADMITS CHEATING

Assistant District Attorney William H. Colvin took up the questioning of the witness. He asked:

"Did you ever cheat on any city jobs?"

Ridge replied:

"I have cheated a little bit, we all do, but I didn't cheat to any extent."

Ridge's charges that false entries had been made to "pad" the final estimates was ordered stricken from the records by President John S. Herron, of City Council, and Ridge retracted that part of his testimony.

When the hearing started this morning Attorney Evans called Joseph Kissane, Sr., president of the M. O'Herron Company, for questioning in connection with the destruction of the O'Herron company records in 1928. During the questioning Evans charged that a truck of the O'Herron company had hauled a large quantity of records and papers to the Chislet street property and burned.

Kissane was represented by Attorney W. W. Stoner, who repeatedly objected to Evans' line of questioning. He denied knowledge of the fire Sunday. Many verbal tilts ensued.

Attorney Evans said he would prove that a large quantity of records, papers and books had been hauled to Chislett street in an O'Herron company truck and burned.

Evans asked Kissane if his permission had been obtained for the destruction of the 1928 records. Attorney Stoner objected, saying:

"If the O'Herron Company wanted to destroy its records, that was the company's business, and Mr. Kissane need not answer."

Evans retorted:

"If the witness doesn't want to answer on the ground that he might incriminate himself, that is o. k. with me."

Stoner, replied heatedly:

UP TO BOOKKEEPER

It developed that the matter of destruction of the company books, when the Internal Revenue Department had given them a clearance on its income tax, was left to the discretion of the bookkeeper. Kissane said, however, that very little information could be obtained from the records as to the Boulevard of the Allies improvement, adding:

"We did not keep any records of spoil hauled from the boulevard improvement. We have, however, records of the truck hire."

Evans interrupted:

"That's what we want."

WORD ACCEPTED

Evans sought to obtain the letter which the O'Herron company received from the Internal Revenue Department giving them clearance for 1928. He was opposed by both Stoner and Herron, the latter saying:

"Their word is good."

Ridge, during his testimony, had named George P. Barnes as the city inspector who told him that the "dishonesty" policy was still in force. Barnes was called from his work in another section of the city. Questioned by Evans, he denied Ridge's testimony.

REDISTRICTING IN BOROUGHS APPROVED

Old Vote Zones to Stand in First-Class Townships; Changes O. K. Elsewhere

Appointments of election officials and realignment of election districts in boroughs and second-class townships of the country, as recommended by the Redistricting Commission, were approved by Quarter Sessions Court today.

At the same time the court refused to sanction changes in the present election districts of first-class townships. Judge Harry H. Rowand, before whom the commission's report was filed, holding it was forbidden by a state law.

BALKED BY STATE LAW

In rejecting the proposed change in first-class township districts, Judge Rowand said:

"We do not at this time change the polling places or boundaries of the election districts of the first-class townships due to the confusion created by the passage of the act of 1921, P-L-186, making the wards and boundaries of election districts territorially the same and suggest that legislation be passed to clarify the situation."

Changes in the districts of Pittsburgh, McKeesport, Clairton and Duquesne were approved some time ago, as were the officers appointed for them.

CONCLUDES WORK . . . . .

Today's court action formally concluded the work of the redistricting commission, which reduced the number of election districts in the county from 1,458 to 932 in preparation for installing voting machines this fall.

Each of its nine members, who started to work in December, 1929, will receive $7,000 for his work, with the exception of Joseph G. Armstrong, Jr., who resigned from the commission to become a state senator.

SOVIET LUMBER RULING HELD UP

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP.)—A decision on whether a shipment of Russian lumber will be admitted to the United States was held in abeyance pending receipt of a report from the collector of customs at Providence, R. I., where the cargo was landed.

Treasury officials expressed the opinion the lumber was not from sections of Russia in which convict labor is used in the forests and which would be barred from entry under the tariff law and Treasury regulations.

It had been announced in Russia the cargo was being sent to test the law barring goods produced by convict labor, but the Treasury had information the lumber was from southern sections of Russia, where there had been no suspicion that such labor was used in lumber camps.

Treasury regulations promulgated two months ago barred all lumber produced in Russia north of latitude 60 unless it could be shown by the importer or shipper that convicts were not used in its production.

40,000 Sweepstakes Tickets Confiscated

VICTORIA, B. C., April 24.—A warrant was out today for the arrest of Arthur English, known here as a literary agent, following the seizure by police of more than 40,000 tickets for what was termed a "Canadian national lottery."

Police said they believed they have frustrated the launching of a continent-wide sweepstake involving more than $1,000,000.

The Twentieth Century Club presented Madame Sturkow-Ryder in a lecture-recital yesterday afternoon in the cub auditorium. This pianist was formerly very active in Pittsburgh music circles, and therefore her naive recital was all the more surprising. Does she know the Twentieth Century Club, and does she realize that we have learned a trifle about music since her Pittsburgh days? Every child in our schools comes so closely in contact with great music nowadays; the least sophisticated might have raised his eyebrows at the story of Madame Ryder's cat and the music which "Antics" inspired her mistress to write.

The program included no piano music of importance and was doubtless planned for simpler entertainment. Madame Ryder's playing is brilliant enough, but lacked variety in tone and style.

VETERAN BONUS LOANS IN STATE $35,000,000

Applications in Pittsburgh Already Acted on Total 27,142, Survey Shows

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Approximately $35,000,000 has been distributed to Pennsylvania veterans of the World War on applications for bonus loans, Senator David A. Reed announced today.

On the basis of reports from Regional Managers H. J. Crosson, in Philadelphia, and M. J. Shortley, in Pittsburgh, and officials of the Veterans' Bureau here, Senator Reed made public a tabulation showing the volume of applications received and loans granted by the two offices up to April 18.

The figures are: Applications acted on, 83,138 and 27,142; loans approved and paid, $24,915,415.082 and $10,644,018.15; applications pending, 1,524 and 10,087.

CITES DIFFICULTY HERE

Reed commented:

"Since these figures were compiled, the Philadelphia regional office has caught up completely with its work, and checks are being issued as rapidly as applications are received. The record speaks for itself.

The Pittsburgh office had difficulty, I am told, in getting experienced operators for the machines used in the work. This resulted in an initial delay, but the difficulty has been overcome now, and there is less than 10 days' accumulation on hand. It is expected that the work will be current by May 1, so that there will be not more than a day's delay in issuing bonus checks thereafter. Last week alone, in Pittsburgh, a total of 6,400 loans were paid—an average of more than 1,000 a day.

HUGE TOTAL PAYMENT

"I am informed by Gen. Hines that for the United States as a whole, 1,797,160 applications had been received and $562,360,930.39 paid out by the Veterans' Bureau in loans made directly by the government since the passage of the act of February 27.

"In addition, it is estimated that there is $350,000,000 outstanding in loans made by banks before and since the new law became effective, and by the Veterans' Bureau under the old law."

AGENTS SEIZE STILLS, MASH

Three stills were confiscated and a large quantity of mash destroyed by prohibition agents who arrested four men yesterday.

Jim Christ, alias Jim Davis, was arrested, agents said, in a raid on a garage in Kittanning street, Etna, where a 200-gallon still was seized and more than 3,000 gallons of mash destroyed. Christ was held in bond.

A 50-gallon still found at 39 Highland avenue, Stowe Township, resulted in the arrest of Florindo Leone, according to the agents. Nowod John was arrested when a 25-gallon still was found in a building at 939 Bedford avenue, raiders reported.

Five gallons of gin and moonshine and four barrels of beer were confiscated in a raid at Fiftieth and Harrison streets, agents said. Andy Schanker was arrested.

Mystery Crashes Blamed on Pilots

OAKLAND, Cal., April 24.—(AP.)—Dr. Harvey J. Howard, St. Louis physician, attributes airplane crashes that apparently are inexplicable to loss of the sense of equilibrium by the pilots.

Addressing the sectional meeting of the American College of Surgeons here last night, he said an "artificial horizon" on the instrument boards probably would save fliers from fatal crashes in bad weather.

All In A Day

By Mark Hellinger

People I've Met

NEW YORK, April 24.

MICKEY WALKER. Middleweight champion of the world. I've written a lot about him. Something tells me that, as time goes by, I'll write a great deal more. Because, as long as I've known him, he has always been what we call great copy. And no matter what happens to him, he will continue to be just that.

I know a great many fighters. I like most of them. I can see stories in all of them. But I write more often about Mickey because I have watched his career—in both the ring and the night clubs—and because I know he uses that head of his for something more than a place to grow hair. When you get him in the mood, Mickey can talk a better story than most of our short-story writers can author.

Mickey does any number of things he shouldn't do. The great surprise to me is that he can still fight the way he does. Not for nothing do the sporting writers continue to call him the greatest fighting man of any class in the world. That's exactly what he is.

I thought that Mickey was on the down grade a long time ago. He had a nice wife, a sweet little boy and a fine home over in Jersey. I don't know why Mickey suddenly lost interest in that combination—but lose it he did. He began to visit the Texas Guinan Club with Jack Kearns and wait around until 4 or 5 in the morning when Texas would call on him for a Charleston.

The night that Joe Dundee hung Walker on the ropes in the Garden and took the championship away from him, I was sure Mickey was through completely. I was wrong. Those blows knocked all the Charlestons and Texas Guinan clubs out of Mickey's dome for a long time. He actually worked his way back to the top and won the championship in an even higher class.

Meanwhile, Mickey was quarreling with his wife. I suspect the hand of Mr. Kearns in that because Jack has a habit of interfering in all his fighters' private affairs—including Jack Dempsey's. At any rate, Mickey and his wife were finally unhitched. And Mrs. Walker and the baby wound up with all the property Mickey had been fighting for for years.

Recently, Mickey married again. Now there is talk of an annulment after a mating that didn't last more than a month. And once again I see the fine, old hand of the amiable Dr. Kearns.

Yes, Mickey does very foolish things. How he can dissect himself the way he does and still do the idiotic things he does is something beyond my comprehension. I met him one night, for instance, about a year or so ago. He was drinking beer—and he was loaded with it. He looked at me.

"You know what's going to happen to me if I keep drinking?" he murmured. "Sure you do—but I'm going to tell you anyhow. I'm going to be a bum.

"So you know what I'm going to do? I'm going to cut it out. Yes, Mark, I'm going to cut it out right here and now. I'm through. I've had my last drink. I only drank tonight because I felt blue."

He kept his word. He didn't have another drink that night. Two nights later, he was drinking again. I asked him the big idea.

"Changed my mind," he said laconically. "Besides, I'm happy tonight. I always drink when I'm happy."

Funny guy, that Mickey Walker. And a curious one. Sometimes he is like a child, sometimes like an old man. In the ring, he fights with fury. Outside he wonders why. He had a wife and happy home. When he threw them away, he was sorry.

Champion or no champion, I guess Mickey Walker is pretty much the same as all the rest of us. He doesn't know what he wants . . .

* * *

ELEANOR HUNT. One of Mr. Ziegfeld's recent glorifications. A pretty kid and a good scout. One of those girls, you know, to whom people always refer as "plenty of laughs."

When Eleanor went to the coast just before "Whoopee" was filmed, they gave her the leading feminine role in that picture opposite Eddie Cantor. That surprised me. Somehow or other, I couldn't figure Eleanor as a film star. As a minor player who did it for the fun she might have, yes. But as a star, no.

At any rate, they gave her the big role. Suddenly, the deluge of publicity was upon us. The fan magazines went at it strongly. And the newspapers quoted our Eleanor at great length. It was the usual dribble.

"I am so happy to be in California," she was quoted as saying. "The most entrancing business in the world is the motion picture business. No, I don't think I will ever go back to the stage. Well, perhaps I will. But California is so much nicer than Broadway."

And so on along similar lines. You know the kind of stuff. I'd like to make a collection of these fan interviews some day. If the lot of them wouldn't make the funniest combination of hooey ever assembled under one roof, I'd be a very much surprised hombre.

In the first week she was on the lot there were disquieting reports. How many of them were true I have no way of knowing. I always discredit nine-tenths of any rumor unless I happen to be on the spot. Then I only discredit half of it.

But I do know that she was waxing temperamental. She told several minor players that she was the big feminine interest in "Whoopee" and would they kindly remember it? In the very middle of the filming Eleanor drifted off for a weekend that lasted four days. And when she returned Sam Goldwyn threatened to scrap her portions of the picture and start all over again.

Goldwyn didn't do it, of course. But he did throw a terrific scare into the young lady. And from then until the day the picture was finished Miss Hunt stopped weekending in the Catalina Islands.

Eleanor's claim to fame was a short-lived affair. Unless I am very much mistaken, "Whoopee" was her only feature film. She didn't break into the news again until last April. And this time she had to get married to do it.

On April 9 she motored into Nevada with Rex Lease, the cowboy film actor, and got herself married to him in short order. It must have been a highly successful marriage because it actually lasted a week. On April 16 Eleanor walked out on her Lease and went looking for a new apartment. She was through with him forever, she said. And, for all I know, that still holds good.

It was during the week of April 9, 1930, that Eleanor arrived in Hollywood. In exactly one year, then, she saw herself elevated to stardom, waxing temperamental, almost tossing herself out of pictures, not living up to her advance publicity, marrying an actor and leaving him in a week. Not a bad record, as such records go.

She had every chance in the world, but I guess the game was too much for her. She'll probably wind up where she started—back in a Ziegfeld chorus. Something tells me she'd have been far better off if she had never left it . . .

2 McKeesport Girls Win Literary Prizes

COLUMBUS, O., April 24.—(AP.)—Valette Skillen and Margaret Rush, of McKeesport, won first and third prizes, respectively, for magazine reviews in the national high school awards, Harrison M. Sayre, director of awards, announced.

The contest embraced 18 different fields of creative literary effort among high schools of the United States and territories. This year it was the largest and most comprehensive of its kind ever held. Nearly 1,000,000 boys and girls participated.

HOSPITALITY DAYS

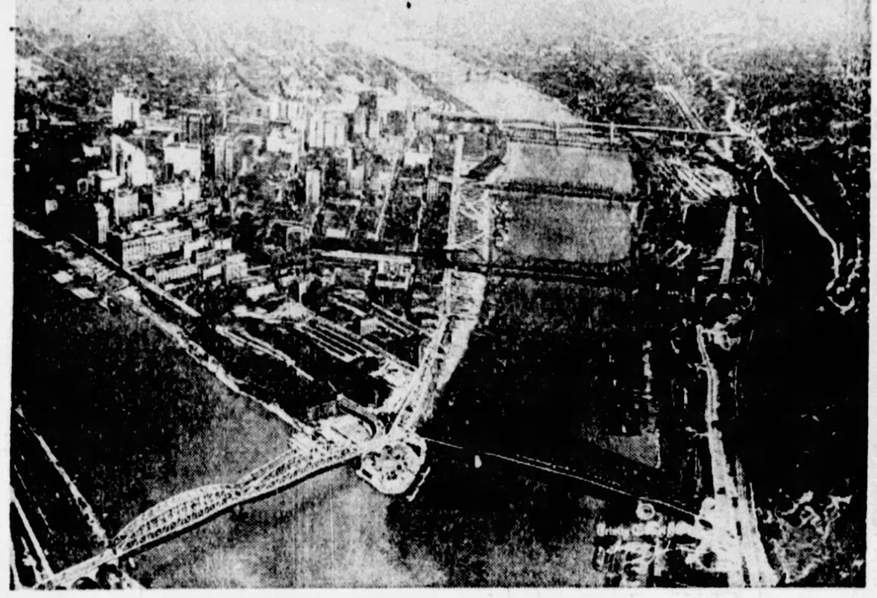
1931



NATIVE Pittsburghers have come to rely upon the Sun-Telegraph to present the most complete editorial and advertising news. We believe that you will find the Sun-Telegraph worth your while during your stay. Through its news columns it will keep you up-to-date in current events; through its city news it will tell you where to go and what to do; through its complete departmental news columns you will learn what is worth while in Sports, Radio, Theaters, Fashions.

The advertising columns display the latest store news of every progressive Pittsburgh merchant. Complete store news . . . including bargains and special offers for your benefit . . . will be found in these columns. Selling events that you cannot afford to miss are completely reported in the Sun-Telegraph advertising columns. In the Classified Advertising columns, too, are many worth-while offerings that should attract your attention.

Just as native Pittsburghers have made the Sun-Telegraph their News and Shopping Guide, you will want to rely upon it during your stay. Study it carefully, throughout, before you plan your program for the week-end. It will save you many hours . . . and many, many dollars.

COBBS SEEKING RECONCILIATION

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 24.—(INS.)—Efforts to effect a reconciliation with Mrs. Marian Lombard Cobb, who filed suit for divorce against Ty Cobb, former baseball star, were under way here today following postponement by mutual agreement of the hearing for temporary alimony which had been scheduled for tomorrow.

Counsel for Cobb and his wife announced late yesterday they had agreed to a postponement of the hearing until next week.

Intimation that efforts were pointed to an agreement for separation and a financial settlement rather than a complete reconciliation was seen in a statement issued by Cobb's attorney. Meanwhile, Cobb remained in seclusion, his whereabouts unknown since he returned here Wednesday from the Pacific Coast.

15,000 Expected To See Air Circus

The American Legion's air circus at the Curtis-Bettis Airport tomorrow is expected to be witnessed by 15,000 persons, according to legion officers. Starting at 10 a. m., it is planned to have feature events during the entire day. The meet is sponsored by 42 American Legion posts in Allegheny County. Among those in charge are Herbert Dewar, Stephen Goodnough, J. J. Evans, Col. Harry C. Frye, Jr., and Donald Burr.

WORLD REDS RAP HOOVER

MOSCOW, April 24.—(INS.)—Charging "imperialists" throughout the world were feverishly preparing for an anti-Soviet war, the eleventh plenary conference of the Communist Internationale today issued an appeal to workers to rally to the defense of the Soviet Union.

Communists of all nationalities were urged to organize a counter-advance against the "imperialist menace," including participation in propaganda against the "capitalist armies."

Josef Stalin and William Z. Foster were re-elected to the executive committee of the organization.

Two Ohio Children Die in Oil Blast

PORTSMOUTH, O., April 24.—(AP.)—Two children burned to death, another was burned seriously and their parents were probably fatally burned by an explosion of kerosene in the home of Arthur Crabtree, 15 miles northwest of here today. The dead were Charles Crabtree, 8, and Harold Crabtree, 6. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Crabtree, 40 and 35, respectively, were so seriously burned that physicians said they could not live. Hope was held for a 6-month-old baby.

Pin in Lung Six Months, Baby In Hospital

Two-year-old Carl Rhodes, who swallowed an open safety pin six months ago, is in Presbyterian Hospital today awaiting an operation for its removal from his lung.

Carl was brought to Pittsburgh by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rhodes, from their home at Kossuth, near Clarion, Pa., for an operation by Dr. Ellen J. Patterson. A silver tube has been inserted in the baby's throat so he may breathe.

EXCURSIONISTS GET SLEEPERS

The Pennsylvania Railroad today paved the way for the elimination of an old American custom—those sleepless all-night excursion rides in day coaches.

The railroad announced that, as an experiment, sleeping-car privileges would be allowed on an excursion to Philadelphia and New York, May 2, at reduced fares.

The round-trip will be $13—$8 for the transportation, $5 for a lower berth.

WOOLWORTH KIN SUICIDE DENIED

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS.)—Despite the fact the official cause of the death of James P. Donahue, stock broker who married Jessie Woolworth, heiress to millions, was given as "mercury poisoning—suicide," his physician insisted today he had died from uremia.

Donahue died yesterday in a hospital where he was removed Sunday after he was said to have left a dinner party at his home and swallowed several pills from a blue bottle.

Dr. Henry Craig Fleming, the Donahue family physician, said no business troubles bothered Donahue and that he was deeply in love with his wife.

Dr. Fleming indicated that the broker had accidentally taken an overdose of mercury which had been prescribed for him.

Committee to Plan Westinghouse Honor

Thomas A. Dunn, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, was named chairman, and Thomas S. Baker, president of Carnegie Institute of Technology, and E. T. Whiter, vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, members of a chamber committee which will work for the erection of memorials to George Westinghouse. The memorials will be located on the new Lincoln Highway Bridge over Turtle Creek Valley in East Pittsburgh.

LOST PHYSICIAN REPORTED SEEN

ST. LOUIS, April 24.—(INS.)—Two new developments today injected added mystery into the strange case of the "doctor's disappearance."

The missing physician, Dr. Isaac D. Kelley, who disappeared after driving into a blustering spring storm Monday night on what is believed to have been a faked sick call, was seen in a restaurant near his office early today, police were informed.

This information followed a report that a letter had been received by the Kelley family, presumably from the physician, and outlining a $100,000 ransom demand. This was denied, however, by Carroll W. Harlan, a friend of the family.

James Markedes, owner of a restaurant in the vicinity of the doctor's office, told police the physician had breakfast in his place early today. He was apparently dazed and bore a bruise indicating he had been slugged, Markedes said.

Two Killed, 2 Hurt As Sedan Overturns

CANANDAIGUA, N. Y., April 24.—(AP)—A man and his wife were killed and another couple seriously injured early today when their large sedan overturned several times on a highway near here. The dead were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, both about 40, and the injured Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Sumner, 39 and 37. All were from Athens, Pa. Brown is proprietor of an automobile agency, and son of the Athens postmaster.

Argentine to Buy Cruiser With Loan

BUENOS AIRES, April 24.—(AP)—The government today announced that negotiations had been concluded whereby the balance of the loan to France by the Banco de la Nacion Argentina during the World War, destined to purchase cereals, would be employed to liquidate payment on the cruisers Almirante Brown and Veinticinco de Mayo, now nearing completion in the Stalin shipyards.

Five Die as Floods Rage in Poland

WARSAW, Poland, April 24.—(AP)—Five persons have been drowned in the floods which are sweeping the Vilna region and threatening the city itself.

Many villages have been marooned, most bridges in the province have been washed away and the waters of the Rivers Dvina and Niemen are full of floating furniture, farm vehicles and bodies of domestic animals.

Mexico Lays Claim To Prehistoric Ruins

MEXICO CITY, April 24.—(AP)—The government today laid claim to all prehistoric ruins in Mexico, discovered or undiscovered, classifying them as "national monuments."

The move assures the government of federal supervision of all archaeological relics already discovered and will permit archaeological exploration and excavation only upon government concession.

Endeavor Union Plans Installation

REFORMED MAN WINS PARDON

COLUMBUS, O., April 24.—(AP.)—Frank Preston, 30, of St. Louis, recently returned to Ohio Reformatory at Mansfield after freedom of 13 years, will receive a full pardon from Gov. White, the Governor announced today.

Gov. White said Preston would be brought here late today from the reformatory to personally receive the pardon. The chief executive said his investigation showed that Preston had become a law-abiding citizen during his years of freedom.

Preston was returned to the reformatory from St. Louis 10 days ago as an escaped prisoner. He walked away from the institution in 1918 while serving a term for robbery in South Zanesville. A trusty job had been given Preston as a reward for his bravery in saving several women who had been attacked by Negroes.

After escaping Preston went to St. Louis and married, later setting himself up in the restaurant business.

PASTOR DENIES STEALING KISS

KANSAS CITY, Kan., April 24.—(AP.)—The Rev. James Cornish mustered witnesses today to emphasize his denial that he had stolen a kiss from Mrs. Pearl Thomas, 37, who asks damages of $5,000 for assault and battery.

The 52-year-old minister, now holding a pastorate in Great Bend, Kan., asserted on the witness stand yesterday Mrs. Thomas' suit was "an attempt at blackmail." He said:

"Her conduct, up to the time she made these charges, was above reproach."

Woman members of his former congregation testified in his support. Mrs. Thomas, a Sunday school teacher, alleged the pastor seized and kissed her when she entered the library of the First Christian Church, December 11, 1929, to confer on church matters.

$5,800,000 Estate Awarded to Harvard

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—(AP.)—Harvard University was awarded approximately $5,800,000 by Judge Lewis P. Van Dusen in Orphans' Court in an adjudication of the estate of Stuart Wyeth, of Philadelphia, who died December 30, 1929.

The testator made individual bequests aggregating $210,000, and Judge Van Dusen ordered an additional $50,000 retained by the executors of the estate until a claim by the commonwealth for personal property tax is determined. The residue of about $5,528,000 was awarded to the president and fellows of Harvard College, plus about $300,000 in income.

Plans Coast Run For Mooney Play

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP.)—California will see "Precedent," the propaganda play based on the Mooney case, if Mrs. John B. Casserly, San Francisco society woman, has her way.

Mrs. Casserly said today she would return to her home next week to organize financial support for the show. "Precedent" opened 10 days ago at the Provincetown playhouse.

Street Car Crash Injures 31 in N. Y.

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP.)—Thirty-one persons were injured, two seriously, last night when two trolley cars collided on the Williamsburg Bridge. One of the cars was stalled and plunged into darkness when the trolley came off the overhead feed wire. Another car struck it from behind.

Legs Diamond Free On $25,000 Bond

CATSKILL, N. Y., April 24.—(AP.)—Jack (Legs) Diamond, gang chieftain, was released from the Greene County jail tonight after $25,000 bail had been deposited by bondsmen.

He had been held in jail since Tuesday on a charge of kidnaping and attacking Grover Parks, Cairo truckman.

2 Students Caught Taking Police Sign

MEADVILLE, Pa., April 24.—(AP.)—Two Allegheny College students last night removed the sign from in front of the state police barracks here and were carting it away in an automobile when they were captured. They were released after making an apology. The youths said they wanted the sign to decorate their room.

Gas Firm Official Falls Dead in Home

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 24.—J. Alexander Mayers, 61, vice president and general manager of the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company, subsidiary of the Columbia Gas and Electric Company, of New York, fell dead at his home today after a heart attack.

Blizzard Leads To Re-Marriage After 20 Years

CHICAGO, April 24.—(AP.)—A blizzard, it seems, blew up a romance for George W. Hayward, city commissioner of Aurora, Ill.

Twenty years ago he and his wife were divorced. Last month he went to visit at Kinmundy, Ill., where she resided. While there a blizzard forced him to remain long enough to start the original romance all over again.

Yesterday Hayward announced they were married on March 10.

RICHMAN BROTHERS CLOTHES

ESTABLISHED 1879

$10 More Quality for the Same $22.50

You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear . . . and you can't get good value out of an inferior suit of clothes . . . no matter what the price.

We, at Richman's, don't believe that people want cheapness at the expense of quality and satisfaction. What you want is more for your money, and we are giving it to you in the only form that counts . . . better woolens, finer linings, better trimmings, more style and improved workmanship all along the line.

That's the Richman Brothers idea of value . . . and men who know that price alone means nothing; that it's what you get for money that counts . . . appreciate it. We are now giving you $10 more quality for the same $22.50, which means infinitely more service, more beauty, more satisfaction.

SEEK PALESTINE FUND SUNDAY

Leaders of the Mizrachi, world-wide Jewish organization, are in Pittsburgh today, preparing for a mass meeting Sunday night in the Beth Hamedrash Hagodol, Washington Place, at which Pittsburgh's Jewry will be asked to contribute to the organization's work of obtaining and maintaining religious institutions in Palestine.

Among the leaders are Rabbi Meyer Berlin, president; Rabbi Aaron Teitlebaum, chairman of the Mizrachi Palestine fund, and Gedalia Bublick, president of the Mizrachi Organization of America. Tomorrow night a banquet will be held in the Adath Jeshurun Synagogue, 5643 Margaretta street, by the Sisters of Zion Mizrachile.

The fund campaign was opened during the Passover by Chaim Peril of Palestine, with the aid of local organizations. Headquarters have been established in the Jewish Day Nursery, 1841 Center avenue.

BOARD OPPOSES SCHOOL BILL

The Board of Education has gone on record as opposing a bill now in Senate committee in Harrisburg, which would amend several sections of the present school code. The opposition has been centered on what is known as the permanent tenure feature of the bill, under which public school teachers, after serving a certain period of time, could not be removed except for certain reasons as set forth in the bill.

Incompetency and immorality are among several reasons set forth in the act as justifying dismissal of a teacher. The act provides that any accused teacher must have the right of a public hearing.

Marcus Aaron and N. R. Criss, president and vice president respectively of the local school board, consider the bill vicious and demoralizing to the school system. Vice President Criss has been authorized to draft a resolution to be approved by the board. The co-operation of other school boards in the state is being sought.

EDITOR URGES MORE EXPORTS

Expansion of markets in foreign countries for American products is possible through the development of a national perspective, David Lawrence, editor of the United States Daily, Washington, said in an address at the tenth annual sales congress of the Pittsburgh Life Underwriters Association in the William Penn Hotel yesterday. He declared:

"We consume about 90 per cent of what we produce, and are confronted with the problem of obtaining a market for the remaining 10 per cent. This has given rise to the belief that overproduction or underconsumption is responsible for business depression.

"We need expansion. If we take the path that leads ahead—expansion—and not the one that lies behind—contentment with the home market—we can readily recover from present conditions."

W. Va. Rotarians To Hear Governor

Fresh as if you stood in a grove and squeezed the oranges yourself, "National Dairy" Orange Juice comes to you sparkling with the goodness and healthfulness that only tree-ripening can give. No other orange juice can be so good.

Nothing is added to "National Dairy" Orange Juice—nothing is removed! 4½ minutes after the juice is squeezed from hand-selected, sound and perfect oranges right in the orange country, it is frozen under vacuum. Packed in an air-tight carton, "National Dairy" Orange Juice is delivered at your doorstep by the milkman in this modern, convenient way.

Order "National Dairy" Orange Juice one day in advance. Left in your refrigerator over a day, the icy-orange cylinder melts to juice only a few hours from the trees. If you can't wait, be careful not to injure the delicate flavor by intensive heat. In liquid form it keeps as long as fresh milk. Fifteen ounce size for 20 cents. You may also order in seven ounce size for 11 cents. Delivered every morning by the milkman!

MEYER JONASSON'S

A Moth in the Wardrobe

By ARTHUR 'BUGS' BAER

If Wilhelm met Alfonso on some neat neutral territory they would naturally have a lot of ex-uniforms to compare.

Wilhelm selecting the gravy-proof costume with the steam-heated epaulets might say:

"Al, that was a nice uniform. That was the one I always wore when dedicating cornerstones for roundhouses. I had a good idea for the buttons. They were illuminated from a little dry battery sewed under the lapels."

Now Alfonso wore some military frocks himself. The one he loved the most was the victory outfit for marching past important buildings. He appeared so regularly in this regalia that people used to flag him like a train.

The famous retreating wardrobe utilized by Wilhelm in the prosperous panic of 1918 ferments bitter-sweet reminiscences but Wilhelm would like a reason to use it again. The medals were worn on the back for a king is a king under all circumstances.

The starched coattails were not exactly regal. They stuck out too far when the king was running.

It is a question who would win this sartorial tournament. Wilhelm had 60 different military rigs for weddings, banquets and all occasions like a dance orchestra.

He anticipated television by 30 years for he even had the Hohenzollern eagle woven on his bath towels.

Alfonso has just as many uniforms, but not so many zones. The purple and gold cavalry dress looked just as well on a bicycle as it did on horseback. The only reason why Wilhelm never wore a raccoon coat is because there was no place to hang a sword.

Neither man ever retreated a step from roving bands of Cook's tourists who invaded their native lands from the Far West. There is something about wearing a military uniform that inspires respect from even a man with a good camera.

Which is a reminder that the weekly news reel boys are going to miss the two boy friends. They were handsome figures trying to smack a battleship with a bottle of champagne.

Like our old friend, the Tzarzook of Morebulgia. He showed up for the launching slightly intoxisoused. He made three swings at the prow of the cruiser with the bottle of champagne and struck out.

So instead, he drank the bottle of wine himself and remarked: "That was the only time I enjoyed missing a boat."

BUCKLEY JUDGE IN ALKY SUIT

DETROIT, April 24.—(AP)—Recorder's Judge Edward J. Jeffries, who presided at the Buckley murder trial, and 25 other stockholders in a now defunct company organized to manufacture commercial alcohol were named defendants in a suit filed in Circuit Court yesterday by John A. Ingraham, former bookkeeper for the company, who claimed $700 is due him in wages.

Among others named as defendants are James Barasco, former partner of "Black Joe" Cellura and Ted Pizzino in operation of the Kit Kat Club; Edward J. Jeffries, Jr., the judge's son; Thomas J. O'Grady, former deputy superintendent of police, and Julius Deutelbaum, chief deputy clerk in Recorder's Court.

Pizzino was one of the three defendants acquitted Tuesday night of a charge of killing Gerald E. Buckley. Judge Jeffries and his son, who is a lawyer, were said to be on their way to French Lick, Ind.

DRY ENFORCERS ADMIT FAILURE

DETROIT, April 24.—(AP)—Prohibition enforcement officers told delegates to the Michigan Anti-Saloon League convention here yesterday some of the difficulties in the way of making the country dry. They held out scant hope for rigid enforcement of the law within the near future.

Robert B. Ritter, legal adviser to the deputy prohibition administrator's office, said:

"If prohibition is successful in the United States in the next three generations, it will be a miracle.

"The most we can do is to keep the traffic below the surface until the American people decide they don't want to drink alcohol. We can't put everybody in jail. Pretty soon there wouldn't be anybody outside."

Respites Granted Luzerne Slayers

HARRISBURG, April 24.—(AP)—Gov. Pinchot today announced that he has granted respites staying the executions of Sigismund Szachewicz and John Nafus, Luzerne County, from next Monday to the week of May 25 to permit them to appeal to the Supreme Court for a new trial on the grounds of newly discovered evidence.

These two men were convicted last year of the dynamiting of the Glen Alden Coal Company pay car at Warrior Run on January 13, 1930, in which four men were killed.

Bakery Bomb Shakes Philadelphia Houses

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—(AP)—An entire neighborhood in West Philadelphia was aroused today when a bomb, hurled from a speeding automobile, exploded outside a bakery. Many windows in surrounding dwellings were shattered but no one was injured.

Angelo Landolfi, owner of the establishment, police said, had been warned in letters from a secret organization that he would "be taken for a ride" unless he restored the price of bread, which he cut one cent several weeks ago.

RAIL MAGNATE DIES IN PLUNGE

CHICAGO, April 24.—(AP)—Frederick D. Hoffman, 51, wealthy secretary-treasurer of the Chicago City Railway Company, plunged to his death from the sixth floor of his Sheridan road apartment hotel. No one saw him fall, but the janitor heard the crash and found the body in the alley.

His widow said Hoffman had been in ill health for some time. George Korbe, of Boston, his father-in-law, said Hoffman had left him at the door of their fifth floor apartment after complaining of a headache.

A coroner's jury will determine whether his death was accidental or suicidal.

ALBERT F. YUNKER, Attorney-at-Law, 434 Diamond street, Pittsburgh, Pa. In the Court of Common Pleas of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, No. 821 July Term, 1931. Docket A. In re: Satisfaction of mortgage of James Barry to Cyrus Townsend and of mortgage of James Barry to Margret Murnion, Hugh Kane and Rose Anne, his wife, Mary Murnion and Catharine Murnion, Peter Murnion and Sarah, his wife, John Farrell and Margret, his wife.

To Cyrus Townsend, Margret Murnion, Hugh Kane and Rose Anne, his wife, Mary Murnion and Catharine Murnion, Peter Murnion and Sarah, his wife, John Farrell and Margret, his wife, or their heirs or legal representatives or whoever may be the holder or holders of each of the mortgages hereinafter mentioned.

Take notice, that on the 20th day of April, 1931, Hiram B. Cheetham, Alice Mary Koehler, Richard Andrew Cheetham and George Summerwell Cheetham, filed their petition at the above number and term, averring that Hiram B. Cheetham has a life estate in the real estate hereinafter described, and that Alice Mary Koehler, Richard Andrew Cheetham and George Summerwell Cheetham are the owners in fee of the hereinafter described real estate viz: All that certain piece or parcel of ground situate in Hampton (formerly McCandless Township), County of Allegheny and State of Pennsylvania, being known as Purpart A No. 1, as shown on the plan recorded in Partition Docket Vol 16, page 95, in the matter of the partition of the Estate of George Summerwell, deceased, at No. 17 March Term, 1868, in the Orphans' Court of Allegheny County, bounded and described as follows, to-wit:

Beginning at a pin at the corner of Grubb's line and the line dividing Purparts A-No. 1 and B-No. 1, as marked on said plan; thence North 89 degrees 30 minutes East, along said line dividing Purparts A-No. 1 and B-No. 1, 98.63 perches to the line dividing Purparts A-No. 1 and B-No. 1 and C-No. 1, as marked on said plan; thence North 0 degrees 37 minutes East along said line dividing Purparts A-No. 1, B-No. 1 and C-No. 1, 65 perches to a pin; thence South 89 degrees 40 minutes West 80.63 perches to a pin; thence North 0 degrees 30 minutes East 2 perches to a pin; thence South 89 degrees 40 minutes West along Miller's line 68 perches to a pin; and thence South 0 degrees 37 minutes West along said Grubb's line 69.69 perches to the place of beginning. Containing 60.53 acres.

That two unsatisfied mortgages upon said tract or piece of land remain of record in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, one made and executed by James Barry to Cyrus Townsend, dated May 28, 1852, acknowledged May 28, 1852, and duly recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, on May 28, 1852, in Mortgage Book Volume 23, page 142, in the sum of $200, payable on or before the 1st day of April, 1854, and the other made and executed by James Barry to Margret Murnion, Hugh Kane and Rose Anne, his wife, Mary Murnion and Catharine Murnion, Peter Murnion and Sarah, his wife, John Farrell and Margret, his wife, dated March 1849, acknowledged March 1849, and duly recorded in the Recorder's Office of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, on May 28, 1852, in Mortgage Book Volume 23, page 141, in the sum of $1,000, payable in the following manner viz: $200 on the 10th day of April, 1851, with one year's interest, and $200 in each year thereafter, with interest payable always on the 10th day of April in each year until the whole is paid.

That more than 21 years have elapsed since the principal of each of said mortgages became due and payable, and that no payments of principal or interest have been made within said period of 21 years on account of either of said mortgages by the present owners, or so far as can be ascertained, by their predecessors in title, and praying for satisfaction thereof.

WHEREUPON said Court ordered that notice of said facts be served by the Sheriff of Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, on Cyrus Townsend, Margret Murnion, Hugh Kane and Rose Anne, his wife, Mary Murnion and Catharine Murnion, Peter Murnion and Sarah, his wife, John Farrell and Margret, his wife, or their heirs or legal representatives, and upon the known holder or holders of said mortgages, if they or any of them can be found in Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, and have known residences, and if not then to give public notice by advertisement requiring them to appear in said Court on Monday, the 8th day of June, 1931, at 4:30 o'clock, p. m., eastern standard time, to show cause why a decree should not be made directing that the property described in said petition be released and discharged from the lien, encumbrance and charge of each of said mortgages, and the payments thereof.

A Daily Shower Keeps You Fit

And It Takes Only a Few Minutes . . . Unless You Have to Wait on a Lazy, Inefficient Water Heater

A shower a day will go a long way toward keeping the doctor away . . . And there's nothing more refreshing or more invigorating than this daily shower which takes only a few minutes of your time. Possibly more than a few minutes if you have to wait around for "hot water" as is often necessary when you have an inefficient water heater in your basement . . . But why put up with the short comings of an old water heater any longer when an automatic storage type heater will give you the perfect day in day out service you desire.

$10 Dollars For Your Old Water Heater

We will allow you $10.00 for your old water heater on either the Kompak or Equitable Automatic . . . Water Heaters that never fail to supply an abundance of hot water for everyone—no matter how much you tax its supply . . . And clean, rust-free hot water too, due to the all-copper construction.

CRASH VICTIMS SUE 2 DRIVERS

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Woods and Mrs. Alma Minnick, all of Wall, asked a total of $45,000 damages for injuries in a collision between an ambulance in which they were passengers and an automobile, in suits filed in Common Pleas Court.

T. A. Russell, Pitcairn undertaker, who owned and operated the automobile ambulance, and Helen Czarniecki, of Aspinwall, who operated the other machine, according to the suits, were named as defendants.

Mrs. Woods was being taken from her home in Wall to the West Penn Hospital in Pittsburgh for an operation November 11, and her husband and Mrs. Minnick accompanied her. The collision occurred at Penn and Fifth avenues, East Liberty.

Panama Police Head Held as Agitator

COLON, Panama, April 24.—(INS.)—Capt. Alejandro Ramos, chief of police of the Province of Los Santos, and Miguel A. Gonzales, night court judge, were arrested today upon orders of the Department of Justice, charged with subversive activities against the government.

The charges were reported based on the alleged spread of counter-revolutionary propaganda in the interior of Panama.

PHILOSOPHICAL HONORS FOR 27

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—(INS.)—Twenty-five noted Americans and two prominent foreign men of affairs were elected to the membership of the American Philosophical Society today at the general meeting of the two hundred fourth annual convention.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Sir Arthur Keith, Dwight W. Morrow and Willis R. Whitney were among the men honored. Length of the list of members elected was most unusual in the history of the ancient society. Last year only three men — President Herbert Hoover, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Sir Hubert Wilkins — were honored.

Successor to the president, Dr. Francis X. Dercum, who fell dead at the opening of the convention yesterday, will not be elected until November.

POPE PIUS AGAIN QUITS VATICAN

ROME, April 24.—(AP.)—Pope Pius XI left Vatican City this morning for the second time in his reign to attend the inauguration of the new Propaganda Fide College, construction of which was financed largely by American money.

Two hours later he was back in the Vatican, having inspected the institution in all its departments, accompanied by Cardinal Mundelein, of Chicago, and other high dignitaries of the church. He made the trip of a bare half mile in an American automobile and many of those whose cheers attended his progress were American students for the priesthood.

The Pope imparted his apostolic blessing upon the gathering, blessed the four parts of the chapel, then received members of the faculty and students of the college in the auditorium. Afterward he inspected the living quarters and expressed deep satisfaction at the provisions there.

INJURES MAN, AUTOIST HELD

William E. Moore, 39, of 906 Sandusky street, was arrested today for violating the automobile laws in connection with the injuries suffered by James Sproule, 76, of 525 Grandview avenue, last Sunday.

Police charge Moore with hitting the man as he was crossing Spring Garden avenue near Wicklen's lane, and neglecting to secure medical aid for him. Moore picked the man up, police said, but took him to a grocery store.

Residents of the district took the man to the Presbyterian Hospital and reported the occurrence to police. Mr. Sproule has a fracture of the right leg and head injuries.

Two Boys Missing, Police Aid Asked

A description of Russell Popp, 14, son of Justice of the Peace John Popp, of Castle Shannon, and Wright Provost, 16, son of S. W. Provost, school director in Castle Shannon, who disappeared yesterday, was broadcast over the radio today. Police throughout the state were notified by the teletype machines. According to Mr. Popp, the boys may have gone on a hike, as two blankets are missing from the Provost home.

St. Vincent Players To Present Comedy

The Guild Players of St. Vincent College will present "Three Wise Fools," a three-act comedy, in the auditorium of St. Mary's Church, North Side, Tuesday night, May 5. Leading roles are to be played by Francis J. O'Brien, William P. Guiler and Thomas M. Boyle.

Pittsburgh Hikers Announce Outing

Members of the Pittsburgh Hiking Club will walk from East Pittsburgh to Sandy Creek Sunday afternoon. Howard Morris, president of the club, will lead the hikers, who will travel to East Pittsburgh by trolley, leaving the downtown district at 1 o'clock, daylight saving time.

Crash Stuns Police, 5 Prisoners Escape

MEXICO CITY, April 24.—(AP.)—While five prisoners were riding to jail in Mexico City's black maria this morning the police automobile struck a truck and threw the police guards to the pavement, stunning them. When they recovered the prisoners had escaped.

Coroner Frees Man In Slaying Charge

A coroner's jury today cleared Raphael Delli-Gatti of connection with the murder of Giuseppi Parri, whose body was found in the kitchen of Delli-Gatti's home, 1401 Gilmore street, Sunday, March 29. Delli-Gatti was arrested the day of the murder and has been held without bail since.

4 Firemen Injured As Wall Collapses

MONTREAL, April 24.—(INS.)—Four firemen were injured when a wall collapsed while a fire was raging at the Canada Western Flour Mills early today. The flames destroyed the plant with damage estimated at $500,000.

Six Lives Lost As Boat Founders

GUM
BLACK DEATH TO MOTORS

Why TYDOL Gasolines Are 99 98/100 % Gum-Free

1. SELECTED CRUDES

Crudes selected for their cleanliness are "multi-fractionated" by super-refining equipment costing millions. Each crude gets the exact degree of refining it requires.

2. "GUM-TAPPED"

In towering fractionation stills of the most advanced type, Hi-test TYDOL is refined to gum-free purity. The gum-carrying gasoline is drawn off for re-distillation long before the refining process is completed.

3. GUM-FREE BLENDING

..but TYDOL Gasolines are 99 98/100 % Gum-Free

Due to hasty, or improper refining methods, you will find gum today where you least expect it.

But not in Hi-test TYDOL. For this anti-knock, super-power, high-test gasoline is made more carefully today than ever before. With finer equipment. With greater precision. And with redoubled quality. Millions of dollars have been invested to give you power plus purity. Speed plus cleanliness. Anti-knock plus gum-free clarity.

Hi-test TYDOL is 99 98/100 % gum-free. But you pay no premium... Fast, powerful, anti-knock. But no extra cost... Try it once and you'll buy it for the life of your car.

We Now Present

By DARRELL V. MARTIN, Radio Editor.

Kate Smith, crooner, who did an about-face two days ago by leaving NBC for an exclusive contract with CBS, is scheduled to sing with Major Bowes' Family on WCAE at 7 o'clock tonight. Her sudden departure from one network to the other took everyone by surprise. We trust that she left NBC in good grace, otherwise thousands of listeners may be disappointed this evening. Kate appears in theaters as the "Songbird of the South." She has the Mason-Dixie complex so bad she lives at the Hotel Dixie in New York.

Kate Smith

The aura of romance in Victor Herbert music finds adequate expression on WCAE at 8 when Jessica Dragonette sings "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and the entrancing "Moonbeam" song from "The Red Mill."

England's outstanding comedienne—Beatrice Lillie—has three solos on KDKA at 8.

QUESTION A DAY:

Is there any truth to the statement that stations on high wavelengths carry farther than stations on low wavelengths?—J. W., Glenwood.

Answer—Yes and no, mostly yes, as "Andy" would say. It has been demonstrated that the short waves are more sensitive to sunspots, thunderstorms and other types of magnetic disturbances. But this would pertain to wavelengths under 80 meters. We might say that in the broadcast band of 200 to 500 meters there is little noticeable difference.

* * *

David Lawrence, a 6-footer with arms as long as Tunney, bears a profile resemblance to Senator David A. Reed. He was the guest of Lloyd C. Thomas at KDKA yesterday.

* * *

We must prepare Fred Webber for the sad news tonight . . . the Songbird says farewell for the summer, WCAE at 9:30. Her swan song, the "Barcarolle," from "Tales of Hoffman."

* * *

STUDIO LIGHTS

Make a mental note of KDKA tomorrow morning at 10:45 and hear "Miss Elsie" interview John C. McCloy, former page in the House of Representatives. . . . John's uncle handled the campaign for the late President Harding. . . .

"Please send us a picture of Riggs and Moke and their baby," penned a WCAE enthusiast yesterday . . . Riggs "doubles" for the infant . . . the boys are clicking so well that Manager J. L. Kaufman has decided to put them on the air Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 11 p. m. starting next week . . .

A messenger called at NBC studios recently with a package for William Steinke, better known as "Jolly Bill" . . . thinking it was a gift from his admirers he started to unwrap it . . . a mess of fresh meat and bones fell on the studio floor . . . and a note, "These bones are for the poor dog who barks on your program every morning." Bill is the "poor dog."

The LOUDSPEAKER

By LOUIS REID

NEW YORK, April 24.—Thoughts at Random: Several months have passed since we have had any impression, in indigo from George Gershwin, or Ferde Grofe, or Rube Bloom.

* * *

Strange that no place on the air channels has been found for a character named George W. Hokum . . . Wonder if Noël Coward has radio personality? . . . Not much is heard in radio of those individuals who hit saws with padded mallets. It is just as well . . . Among the busiest researchers in the melody marts are the advertising agencies seeking suitable music background for commercial programs.

* * *

The overture to "William Tell" continues to be the evergreen of the musical forests. The fact that it is band-proof may account for its perennial popularity. Not even the cornetists of a college campus can spoil utterly its rapid varied notes . . . Band music is usually sure-fire in radio and the theater. Puccini, Wagner, Charpentier, Verdi, Victor Herbert, Leslie Stuart—all have incorporated band music in their operas . . . The Hippodrome's most successful period was when Sousa's Band played on its capacious stage for a season. The jazz bands of Whiteman, Lopez, Olsen, Ellington and Waring have been featured in various Broadway revues.

* * *

For a note of novelty—and the search for novelty is a leading industry of radio — the broadcasters might occasionally interpret popular songs in the styles of the masters. Wonder how "Just a Gigolo" would sound in the manner of Wagner and Rimsky-Korsakoff . . . The radio chiefs have renewed the contract of a Harry Lauder imitator. Why not lead Lauder himself to the dotted lines? . . . The service bands are the only musical attractions on the air that function without benefit of press agents.

* * *

It would not surprise me were Mr. Raskob and Senator Fess to map out a radio campaign of the hoedowns of an earlier America as a means of keeping their rural votes intact . . . It will be news when a sketch of rural life is offered on the air without a nasal twang as the chief characteristic . . . No radio report has yet been given concerning the progress of government sleuths in tracking down broadcasting bootleggers . . . Granny remains unhonored by the tunesmiths. Only youth gets a melodic fling.

* * *

Our ears have caught recent attempts of dance bands to jazz "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Fancy jazzing ragtime! It's like sending a grammarian to punctuate the essays of A. Lawrence Lowell . . . Among the busiest of the broadcasters are those who not only hunt down new ways of stewing a prune, but who air their ceaseless researches for the ovens of the land . . . The parlors of the republic are all ready for the Oxonian accents of the King of Siam.

* * *

Though the radio is primarily a musical instrument it is those who use it for gabbing who have not only the largest audiences, but the largest money bags . . . If the broadcasters want to make the front page let them bring on Wilhelm of Amerongen . . . We have listened in vain for the expression "Hello folks" from London, for a Negro chorus singing "Dixie," for a Southerner warbling a mammy song, for a politician's tribute to Warren G. Harding, for an airing of "Father, Dear Father, Come Home to Me Now," for any oath stronger than "damn," for an elderly soprano singing "Boop-boop-de-doop."

* * *

Were the jazz hosannas suddenly prohibited and the tear-jerkers of the nineties substituted, the first who would demand a return to present day styles are those who are now loudest in their condemnation . . . There is no escape on the radio from ballyhoo—no escape, that is, short of hari-kari . . . What has become of all those actors who were to bring a new and professional note to radio's dramatic presentations? . . . You have only to be patient for five weeks for the average popular tune to cease its agitation of the air waves. Can you recall when you last heard "Little White Lies?"

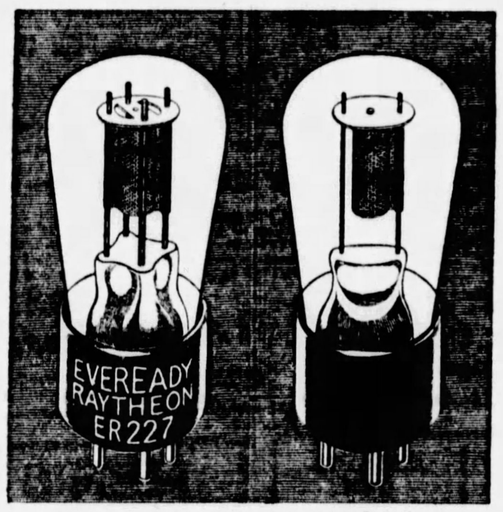
New tubes make your radio new...

4-PILLAR TUBES MAKE IT BETTER



THE NEW

Notice the four strong pillars. With this solid foundation, the many fragile parts in the tube can be assembled with watch-making accuracy, and cannot move a hair's breadth from their fixed position!

THE OLD

In ordinary tubes, the many delicate parts have only a two-legged foundation. Two supports instead of four! Jolts, bumps, vibration from dynamic speakers—all can impair their vital accuracy.

The radio service-man, who keeps your set in repair, is a technical expert . . . he knows tubes! He can explain the value of the 4-pillar principle, and demonstrate it, in your own radio set.

IT'S Tube Replacement Week, and time to make a change. Instead of just new tubes, why not an entirely new kind of tube? 4-pillar tubes, with four strong pillars to anchor their elements in place, instead of the usual two! Stronger tubes, able to resist the destructive bumps and jolts of shipment, and withstand the racking vibration of dynamic speakers, as no other tubes ever have. With a complete set of them in your radio, you can hear all of the rich, clear tone and thrilling performance that were built into the instrument.

Free Home Demonstration

National Carbon Company, Inc., has arranged with its dealers to give you a free demonstration with 4-pillar tubes, in your own radio, at home. That tells you more than any electrical test in a dealer's store. It lets you hear your radio at its best. If your present tubes are a year or more old, you can't afford to miss this opportunity. Call your nearest Eveready Raytheon dealer now . . . it will make Tube Replacement Week a memorable event!

The GREAT HOUSE THAT HARRIS CREDIT ★ ★ ★ HAS ESTABLISHED

Doors Open For This Sale Till 9 O'Clock Tomorrow Night

All prices have been sensationally reduced to manifest our appreciation of the public's marvelously expanding faith in the bona fide cash values we are giving on Harris Budget, Little Easy Payments.

NO MONEY DOWN

Our History:

Starting 35 years ago in a room not much larger than the inside of an ordinary trolley car, Mr. I. S. Harris, the president of this house, became America's first or pioneer credit clothing merchant. Eleven years later, after building one addition after another, he so outgrew himself that he organized this institution, Pittsburgh's one big credit department store.
His 35-year old dream that it would prove just as beneficial and popular for people to buy wearing apparel as sewing machines on easy payments comes increasingly true, as the dean of this mighty system now greets nearly 350,000 satisfied customers.

SCHWAB SEES GAIN IN ADS

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP.)—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, believes that advertising, home building, electrification and the automobile industry will make tremendous gains within the next 10 years.

His predictions of industrial developments of the future were made in an address given before the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association at the Hotel Pennsylvania last night. He said:

"The coming 10 years are going to see the rehabilitation and improvement of properties. Electrification will receive new impetus. Prices will be better stabilized. Home building will gain. The automobile industry will make increased strides. In short, the American family will continue to enjoy a well-rounded, progressive existence conducive to business prosperity and progress."

SPEAKER URGES BIRTH CONTROL

Twelve hundred babies were born in Philadelphia homes during September and October of the past year in which the father was unemployed, Mrs. A. S. Martin, state executive director of the Birth Control League told members of the executive board of the Allegheny County league at a meeting last night in the home of Mrs. William Thaw, Jr.

Relating the activities of the state organization, Mrs. Martin said that the Maternal Health Center in Philadelphia, conducting both afternoon and evening sessions, is still unable to meet the demand for medical advice. Eighty-three social agencies are referring cases to the health center, she said.

Real Estate

The Freehold Building and Loan Association has sold to Louis F. Hrabak a one-and-a-half-story stucco bungalow in Greensburg pike, Ardmore plan, Forest Hills Borough. The Freehold Real Estate Company closed the deal.

MORTGAGES REPORTED

According to the weekly mortgage report of C. C. C. Stotler, secretary-treasurer of The Title Guaranty Company, a total of 394 mortgages amounting to $1,602,523.41 were placed on record from April 16 to, and including, April 22.

Three hundred and sixty-three valued at $1,503,596.49 were straight mortgages, according to the report. The remaining 31 valued at $98,926.92 were purchase-money mortgages. The straight mortgages were given as follows: One hundred and twenty-one were to corporations, 150 to building and loan associations and 92 to individuals.

D. A. Schulte, Inc., has leased the storeroom at 130 Fifth avenue for a term of years to Louis Romano, according to C. C. McKallip & Co., downtown brokers. The same brokers report that they have leased the adjoining storeroom to the Paulson Cleaning and Dyeing Company.

Approximately half the third floor of the State Theater Building, 335 Fifth avenue, has been leased for a term of years by the State Theater Corporation to the A. Nash Company. McKallip & Co. also negotiated this lease.

BUY HOME SITE

A home site in Perrysville avenue has been conveyed by the Stephen Newburn estate to D. Williams for $2,000. W. B. Dawson & Co., realtors, say that the purchaser will construct a six-room brick residence on the property.

In a trade transaction, R. S. Glick has conveyed to August Reitmeyer the deed to a two-and-a-half-story brick home of eight rooms and garage on lot 40x120 feet at 516 Bellaire avenue, Nineteenth Ward. In exchange Reitmeyer gave title to a seven-room frame home at 1829 Woodward avenue, Nineteenth Ward, on lot 60x100 feet. The brokers were the Auslander Krasnow Company in co-operation with Smith & Mott.

$605,145 School Work Contracts Awarded

SIDEWALKS —of— PITTSBURGH

By William Pfarr

Something happened to Dr. E. J. Aiken, of Ambridge, a few days ago. The doctor received a hurry call to the Sewickley Valley Hospital. A motorist, it seems, had been injured in an accident and needed an immediate operation.

William Pfarr

Dr. Aiken sped from his office to the hospital. Doubtless he ignored the speed laws in his hurry to reach the hospital because, in Sewickley, Patrolman Crothers stopped the Aiken auto and wanted to know what all the haste was about.

Dr. Aiken explained that he was on his way to the hospital for an operation, but policemen hear such explanations as that every day, apparently, for Patrolman Crothers doubted it. In fact, he said he'd go along and find out.

And he did. He followed Dr. Aiken to the hospital and the operating room. He saw the

A subscriber wrote in, wanting to know why so many squirrels had been engraved in the big bronze grilled doors of the new county building, so we had to walk all the way over there and find out. As a matter of fact, only one squirrel is present, and that because it fits in with the Romanesque architecture and because it represents an innocent little animal which is fairly plentiful in these parts.

The elevators in this new building are of that new kind—the operator presses a button representing your floor, and the car stops there, no matter if you've changed your mind.

The operator pressed the fifth button for us, we went up to see Mr. Stanley Roush, the architect of the building, and he took us right down to the lobby again and exhibited the bronze compass set in the lobby floor.

Inside the compass, which, incidentally, reveals the whereabouts of north, south, east and west, is the county seal, which represents a plow, a shock of wheat and a boat, each representing an old Allegheny pastime. The compass, though, is what will fool people. You'll think you're facing the south when you're facing the north. It's unexplainable, but it's a fact.

Cut into the wall in the lobby is a statement telling just what the building is all about and listing the names, needless to say, of County Commissioners Armstrong, Babcock and McGovern. We looked for a misspelling in the statement because that's always good stuff, but the nearest approach we found was the word "people's" without the hyphen. Not so good.

We shall go back now to the original question of that subscriber. He wanted to know whether all those squirrels represented the taxpayers.

Herron Hill High Presents Minstrel

A minstrel, with a cast made up entirely of Negro children, was given today in the Herron Hill High School auditorium, under the direction of Miss Jane Howard. About 60 pupils took part in the performance, which was modeled along the lines of "Porgi," presented last year at the Nixon Theater.

LOW BIDDERS GIVEN ALL PROJECTS

New Mifflin Building And Repairs to 18 Structures Among Jobs Let by Board

The Board of Education awarded contracts totaling $605,145 for new school buildings and repairs at 18 other buildings at the meeting yesterday. All awards were made to the lowest bidder.

The largest single award was for the general contract for building the new Mifflin School, which went to the Dick Construction Company on its bid of $447,180.

The board approved contract plans for the new H. B. Davis School and for an addition to the Larimer School. The superintendent of buildings was authorized to take bids for electrical work separately on the two projects before bids are solicited on the other work. Preliminary plans for an addition to the Westinghouse High School were approved and contract plans were ordered drawn. Similar action was taken on preliminary plans for the new William M. Davidson High School to be erected in West Liberty avenue.

FUND FOR FREE MILK

An additional appropriation of $21,187 for the purchase of milk to be supplied free to school children unable to pay was authorized. It was decided to continue the trade schools for boys as summer schools for the usual term of one month, beginning June 29.

The board refused to pay a claim of $2,148 presented by the National Surety Company for alleged extra work and material in construction of the new Clifford B. Connelley Trade School. The Connelley Trade School is to be dedicated next Friday afternoon. Dr. Ben G. Graham, superintendent of schools, reported. He stated that I. Lamont Hughes, president of the Carnegie Steel Company, and Phillip Murray, member of the school board and international vice president of the United Mine Workers of America, would be the speakers.

EMPLOY PITTSBURGHERS

A communication was ordered sent to the Lincoln District Board of Trade, informing that body that substantially all the men employed by Harry Wilmer, Inc., in construction of the Lincoln School, are residents of Pittsburgh. The civic group had informed the board of rumors that many out-of-town workmen were employed on the project. The same trade body had requested an auditorium for the Lincoln district, but was told that the "school board builds auditoriums for school use and that community use of these facilities is incidental."

ASK SERVICE TO REPLACE TROLLEYS

Persons Living Beyond Mars Hope For Extension of Substitute Coach Routes

Hopes of extension of bus service from Mars as far as Butler were being aired today by persons living along the proposed route. They pointed to the discontinuation of trolley service over the Pittsburgh, Mars and Butler Railway leaving the district without adequate transportation.

The present line, operated by the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation Company between Pittsburgh and Mars, was considered the logical medium. The bus continued to run light today on its 11 trips to and from Mars. Most coaches, even on the shorter runs to Gibsonia Bridge and Wildwood, were not crowded.

FARE RATE UPHELD

Charges on the new bus service compare favorably with those on the abandoned railway, according to R. M. Glick, secretary and treasurer of both companies. Tables of bus charges under recently revised schedules, he says, shows only a slightly higher cost over the former Short Line Railway, and on short runs are lower, when the 12-trip bus charges are compared with the 10-trip trolley charges.

At the same time he pointed to the few 40.44 and 60-trip tickets sold over the Mars Railway to show that hardship because of the failure of the bus company to offer similar tickets has been exaggerated.

In 1930, he said, only 50 10-trip tickets were sold between Etna and Valencia, only one 40-trip ticket, 10 44-trip tickets good for 30 days, 14 52-trip tickets and no 60-trip tickets. He pointed to these figures as indicating that but two and one-twelfth persons rode over the Short Line from Valencia, each month, on the special tickets.

MAKES COMPARISONS

Bus fare to Mars, a distance of approximately 24 miles, is 80 cents. Trolley fare was 63 cents, with street car from Etna to the city costing 8½ cents. A 12-trip ticket on the bus costs $8, or 66.6 cents each way from the Duquesne way terminal. By trolley, a 10-trip ticket cost $5.53. Adding 83 cents for street car to Etna, the Short Line's terminal, the trip cost $6.36, or 63.6 from the city.

A similar comparison of rates to Allison Park, Glick showed, gave a rate of 37.5 cents by trolley against 25 cents by bus. Trolley to Gibsonia cost 47.3 cents, while bus costs 54.1 cents.

1 DEAD, 5 HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Four residents of Ingram were injured, two seriously, in a collision of automobiles which claimed the life of a girl and seriously injured another man on the William Penn highway near Bavington last night. The dead girl is Margaret Dotson, 19, of Wellsburg, W. Va. She was riding in an automobile driven by Parul E. Cusic, 25, of Wellsburg.

Those injured were Cusic, Mrs. Elizabeth Geer, 53, of 520 Prospect avenue, Ingram; her sister, Mrs. Edward Dalliquette; Mrs. Geer's son, Charles F. Hitinger, 29, of 437 Fairywood street, and Hitinger's wife, Mary, 24. Mrs. Greer was driving.

An unidentified man, about 40, was in Mercy Hospital today with a fractured skull suffered when struck by an automobile driven, police said, by Albert Good, of 604 Cedar avenue, in the Boulevard of the Allies, near Gist street, last night. Good was arrested.

Running against the side of an automobile driven by Mrs. Alice Hottes, 38, of 4417 Milgate street, Paul Koavan, 8, of 638 Summerlea street, was injured, according to police. Mrs. Hottes took the boy to Homeopathic Hospital.

SHAKESPEARE HONORED HERE

Miss Pauline Bauersmith, drama student at Carnegie Institute of Technology, placed a wreath of flowers on the Shakespeare statue in front of Carnegie Music Hall, yesterday as part of the Shakespeare Birthday Club's program in honor of the three hundred and sixty-seventh anniversary of his birth.

Preceding this, Samuel Harden Church, president of the club, made a brief address, followed by an act from "Macbeth," which was portrayed by Leo Daschbach, Burtt McKee, Edith Tenney, Emanuel Breakstone and Miss Bauersmith, students.

Shakespeare's "Macbeth" was presented by the department of drama in the Little Theater of the College of Fine Arts last night. A matinee for students of the institution and a number of high schools was to be given this afternoon, and repeated the afternoon of May 1.

WILL ROGERS SAYS

NEW YORK, April 24.

To the Editor, Sun-Telegraph:

Newspaper publishers' associations from all over are in convention here and last night was their banquet. Mr. Schwab and I were speakers. Charley was to make them all feel rich by his eternal optimism and I was to bring them back to earth and their second mortgages, with facts. See where the King of Spain has gone over to England to make arrangements to live with his wife's people. Royalty is human after all. I sho would love to be stowed away in that plane with my friend Hawkes over yonder. Say that little Queen of Siam is plum pretty. Nobody in the Astor barbershop just now. Proprietor told me the market must be off.

MISSION SUIT LAID TO STRIFE

An internal controversy in the missionary societies of the Methodist Protestant Church was blamed today for a suit filed yesterday in Common Pleas Court asking for an accounting of $42,000 now held by Mrs. Lida K. East, of 44 Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, former treasurer of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society.

The general conference of the church, meeting in Baltimore more than two years ago, appointed a joint missionary board to take over the activities of the women's society.

Mrs. East, acting for the women's group, refused to turn over the funds. The women, David I. Starr, their attorney, said, contend that the men's missionary organization is in debt and that a consolidation would cripple the activities of their own association.

He said an answer to the suit would be filed here next week.

Burglars Rob Two North Side Homes

Burglars entered two homes in Marshall avenue, North Side, during the night and in one place obtained jewelry valued at $165. The burglars entered the home of Mrs. Margaret Malic, 50 Marshall avenue, and that of J. Krous, at 40 Marshall avenue. The jewelry, a watch and a ring, was taken from the Malic home. It is not known what was stolen in the Krous residence.

Second Marne Battle Forecast Victory for Allies, Asserts Foch

In yesterday's installment Marshal Foch described the progress of the Allied counter-offensive that started July 18, 1918, how it resulted in the withdrawal of the German troops from south of the Marne, and how, on August 2, Soissons was reoccupied. In today's instalment he discusses the outcome of the Second Battle of the Marne.

By MARSHAL FERDINAND FOCH

CHAPTER XXVII.

After three weeks of fighting, the second battle of the Marne came to an end. After having been unprofitably started by the Germans on July 15, it had been turned into success by the Allies on the 18th and continued ever since.

A fortunate combination of circumstances had caused American, British, Italian and French divisions to take part in it. The results were important: 30,000 prisoners, more than 600 guns, 200 mine-throwers and 3,000 machine guns captured; the front shortened by 28 miles; the Paris-Chalons railway line re-established and the menace against Paris removed.

But, above all, the morale of the German Army had been lowered, that of the Allies raised. After four months on the defensive, imposed upon us by the enemy's numerical superiority, a victorious counter-offensive had once more placed in our hands the initiative of operations and the power to direct the progress of events in this long, vast war.

Marshal Foch

It was essential to retain this mastery, by accelerating the phases of the struggle and developing our efforts in a series of well-ordered actions. We must, therefore, bring into play all the Allied resources as rapidly as possible, so as to prevent the enemy from recovering before we could effect his definite destruction.

I drew up the following memorandum (on July 24, 1918):

"I. The fifth offensive, halted at its very start, was a failure.

"The offensive taken by the French Tenth and Sixth Armies has turned it into defeat.

"This defeat must, first of all, be exploited thoroughly on the field of battle itself. That is why we are pursuing our attacks without pause and with all our energy. But the consequences go far beyond the battle itself.

"II. The enemy's defeat forms a basis on which should rest the general attitude to be adopted by the Allied Armies."

BLAST PROBED IN M'KEESPORT

McKeesport police and fire departments today were investigating a mysterious explosion which completely wrecked one home and caused damage to a vacant house and a warehouse. The damage was estimated at more than $10,000.

The explosion, believed to have been caused by a still, wrecked the two-story frame dwelling of John Ellis, 1724 Fifth avenue. The fire which followed damaged a vacant two-story frame building at 1722 Fifth avenue. The Hirshberg furniture warehouse at Pirl street and Fifth avenue was damaged by water.

According to Capt. Albert Watson, of No. 2 Fire Engine Company, a coil similar to those used in moonshine stills was found in the ruins of the Ellis home, and was turned over to the police department. A still was not found, Watson said. The Ellis family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, eight children and two boarders, left the home earlier in the evening and are being sought by police for questioning.

Two Women Robbed By Purse Snatcher

A purse snatcher who robbed two women near their homes last night was being sought by police today.

Miss Margaret Osborne, of 110 Jacksonia street, was robbed of her purse containing $1 near her home by a man who snatched the bag and ran. The same thug, police believed, snatched the purse of Miss Marie Lambert, of 923 Ridge avenue. Miss Lambert told police she had $3 in the purse.

JOB FUND DRIVE PUSHED ANEW

Encouraged with the report of $84,671.83 collected since the report luncheon last week, workers in the Allegheny County Emergency Association drive for $3,000,000, needed to put the Pittsburgh Plan for unemployment relief into effect, today broadened their scope of operations in an effort to reach their goal. Last night the fund stood $1,855,893.32 short of the figure necessary to finance the plan.

The report yesterday was one of the largest made since the campaign began.

Co-operation with the emergency association in instituting public improvements on which only jobless men will be employed, was authorized yesterday by Pitcairn Borough Council, after the body had indorsed the Pittsburgh Plan.

GROUP NAMED TO SURVEY SERVICE

Heavily Burdened Agencies Exceed Budgets, Reserve Cash Nearly Exhausted

The Welfare Fund of Pittsburgh is facing the possibility of a deficit when next fall's campaign is begun, A. K. Oliver, president of the fund, said today in a statement in which members of an endorsement committee were named.

The committee will survey the work of the agency, discover, if possible, any overlapping, duplication of service or waste of effort, pass on proposed extensions of service and suggest changes which it feels will make possible a better welfare service, according to the statement.

Unemployment and economic depression have weighed heavily upon the fund this year, the report said, and in meeting demands, agencies have exceeded their budget and have been drawing from the reserve of the fund, now practically exhausted with only a third of the year gone.

The statement calls attention, however, to the fact that during the last month a slight drop was noted in the volume of relief, and a slight decrease in the number of new cases reported.

BRANDON FLAYS POLITICAL RACKETS

Ex-Magistrate Blames Ward Leaders; Holds Kline Responsible for Succop

Declaring against racketeering in politics, A. D. Brandon, former magistrate of Morals Court, spoke at a meeting in St. Mark's Lutheran Church, Brookline boulevard, under the auspices of the brotherhood of the church last night on "The Undercurrent of Life." Ward chairmen, he declared, are at the seat of all such racketeering. He said:

"I never knew of a single police officer, with the exception of the traffic squad, who has been promoted because of efficiency. But I have seen many demoted because they offended the wishes of their ward chairmen."

Discussing alleged irregularities in the Department of City Supplies he said:

"If Succop is guilty of anything at all, he is guilty of taking orders from his superior officer—Charles H. Kline. If there is anything wrong with that office, Mayor Kline is responsible."

ILLNESS OF 20 LAID TO ICE

One man was in Allegheny Valley Hospital, another was confined to his home and 18 others were recovering from violent illness contracted yesterday while attending a luncheon in the Brackenridge Country Club.

Physicians said the illness was traced to calcium chloride in ice, which had been placed in drinking water.

About 80 men, agents and representatives of the Prudential Insurance Company in the Tarentum district, which includes all communities in the lower Allegheny Valley, attended the luncheon.

James M. Gallagher, of Kittanning, was taken to the hospital. Calvin Cherry, of Tarentum, still was under a doctor's care in his home.

R. S. Pitcairn, president of the club, who investigated the cause of the men's illness, said:

"The ice was made in ice cream cans which had been cleaned by the use of strong chemicals. In making the ice, water was poured into these cans before this solution had been completely removed, so when the ice formed the chemical became a part of it."

OFFICIALS FETE CAVANAUGH

John Cavanaugh, burgess of Homestead, was praised as one of the leading citizens of the state in promoting civic betterment at a banquet last night in the William Penn Hotel.

Many of the speakers linked Cavanaugh's success with the cooperation of his wife, and that sentiment was expressed by State Senator Frank J. Harris, who presented Mrs. Cavanaugh with a bouquet of roses.

Speakers included Senator James J. Davis, County Commissioners Joseph G. Armstrong and C. C. McGovern, President of Council John S. Herron, District Attorney Andrew T. Park, State Senators W. D. Mansfield and James J. Coyne; James E. Lose, superintendent of the Carnegie Steel Company; Assemblyman Frank H. Hoffman, of the Eleventh Legislative District, and Attorneys Harry E. McWhinney and P. H. McGuire.

Three Men Escape As Fire Razes Home

Three persons were forced to flee when fire from an overheated furnace destroyed the home of Mike Orrie on the Lincoln highway, three miles east of McKeesport, early today. Orrie, his father and a brother-in-law were forced out by the flames.

Damage was estimated at $5,000 by Assistant Fire Chief R. C. Smith, of East McKeesport.

It is the mark of a considerate hostess, by means of the Humidor Pack, to "Serve a fresh cigarette." Buy Camels by the carton—this cigarette will remain fresh in your home and office.

CAMELS

Every CAMEL Package Now a Tiny Humidor

Switch over for just one day then quit Camels, if you can

All regular Camel smokers have noticed a significant change in the Camel package. Now their favorite cigarettes come air-sealed in moisture-proof Cellophane.

An improvement in appearance, true, but the reason for this change that cost $2,000,000 was not mere looks.

It was done to protect the fine mild quality of Camels until they reach the smoker.

The best tobacco loses much of its rich flavor and aroma when its natural moisture content is lost through scorching or evaporation.

That's why we have made every Camel package a tiny humidor—so that you may always be sure of getting Camels in fresh mild condition.

Factory-fresh Camels are air-sealed in the new Sanitary Package which keeps the dust and germs out and keeps the flavor in.

Make the switch to Camels for just one day, then leave them — if you can.

EDUCATION DEVELOPS MAN, CATHOLIC DELEGATES TOLD

TWO-DAY MEET OPENS WITH MASS

Duquesne President Tells Of Convention's Aims; Business Sessions Held

Education is more than mere training of the intellect, Dr. J. J. Callahan, president of Duquesne University, told close to 1,000 delegates to the twelfth annual two-day convention of the Catholic Educational Association of Pennsylvania, which opened in St. Paul's Cathedral.

As practiced in the Catholic schools, Dr. Callahan said:

"Education is of the man himself and its aims, as the word itself signifies, is his development to all the perfection of which he is capable. It sees in every person a part of nothing else, capable of almost infinite perfection and it tries to realize this perfection in each individual."

BISHOP HOLDS MASS

Dr. Callahan's sermon followed mass by the Rt. Rev. Hugh C. Boyle, bishop of the Pittsburgh Diocese. The business sessions were in the Catholic High School auditorium, where registrations began at 11:30 a. m.

The first address, by Maria Gertrude Blanchard, librarian of Duquesne University, treated on "The Place of the Library in the High School and College."

Other speakers scheduled at today's sessions were Msgr. William P. McNally, of Philadelphia; the Rev. Harold Keller, of Harrisburg; the Rev. Carl Rossini; the Rev. Alcuin Tasch, of St. Vincent College, Latrobe; the Rev. Frederick Nastvogel, of St. Mary's College, North East; Sister M. Zygmunta, of Reading; the Rev. William A. Stahl, of Philadelphia, and Sister M. Generora, of Greensburg.

TOMORROW'S SPEAKERS

Tomorrow speakers will be the Rev. Eugene A. Mausch, of Villanova College; Sister M. Caritas, of Marywood College, Scranton; the Rev. John F. McElwee, of Philadelphia; the Rev. Brother Gregory Auxilian, of Pittsburgh; Sister M. Zeta, of Erie; Sister M. Vivian, of Johnstown; Sister M. Infanta, of Philadelphia; Sister M. Annunciata, of Wilkes-Barre; Sister M. Gertrude, of the Ursuline Academy; Mother M. St. James, of Philadelphia; M. J. Relihan, dean of the Knights of Columbus Normal School, Pittsburgh, and Sister M. Eulalia, of Erie.

C. D. OF A. CO-OPERATES

The convention is being aided by six Pittsburgh courts of the Catholic Daughters of America. Nora B. King is general chairman of the committee.

Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, archbishop of Philadelphia, is honorary president of the organization, and the Rev. Paul E. Campbell, superintendent of parochial schools in the Pittsburgh diocese, is president.

BLIND EXPERTS QUIT CITY

After a busy program in Pittsburgh yesterday, 160 delegates of the World Conference on Work for the Blind left last night for Cleveland. The body, representing 36 nations, included 25 noted blind personages.

While here the delegates visited the Pennsylvania Association for the Blind, Boulevard of the Allies, took a 25-mile motor trip through the downtown district, saw the city from Mt. Washington, and then had luncheon at the Pittsburgh Athletic Association.

At the School for the Blind the visitors planted two American elm trees. B. S. Joice, superintendent of the school, who acted as host to the visitors, said:

"We dedicate these two American elms, planted by representatives of 36 countries, to typify the planting of the seeds of international fellowship. As they grow, so may our hope and plans for international co-operation mature. We cordially invite you to come again from the four corners of the earth and partake of Pittsburgh hospitality beneath their welcoming shade."

5 DIE AS AUTO HITS TRAIN

CHICAGO, April 24.—(AP.)—Five men were killed early today at Antioch, Ill., when their automobile struck a freight train with such force that five cars were derailed.

The dead are Herrick C. Harrington, 21, a graduate of Marquette University; Daniel Wigham, 24; George H. Eaton, 24; Gus Gustafson, 22, and Edgar Lindroth, 21, a bank clerk. Eaton is a stepson of the Lake County coroner.

The deaths brought to 10 the number killed in automobile crossing accidents in the Chicago area within 24 hours.

CHANGES URGED IN AUTO CODE

Proposed amendments to the Pennsylvania motor vehicle code were to be discussed at a meeting of the legislative committee of the Pittsburgh Motor Club in the William Penn Hotel today. John M. Rice, chairman of the group, was to preside.

State regulation of automobile towing and storage by city police, compulsory inspection as a prerequisite to automobile registration, new regulations governing parking on streets and highways, and arrest on sight for code violations, are included in proposed changes submitted to the state Legislature.

Officiating was the Rev. Dr. George Taylor, Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Wilkinsburg. The service was read in the drawing room before an embankment of cibotium ferns, bamboo and crotons.

Married In Home

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin having a deep yoke of rose point extending into puffs at the top of the long sleeves. Her veil of plain ivory tulle was finished with a band of tulle and orange blossoms. She carried bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Ruth Clark, as her sister's maid of honor, wore a frock of blue chantilly lace with a skirt having godets of silk tulle. She carried roses, snapdragons and delphinium. The matron of honor, Mrs. Norman Sprague, Jr., wore shell pink chiffon, and Miss Margaret Clark, another sister, as bridesmaid, wore apple green chiffon. Both carried Dresden bouquets. Small Martha Jane Tawney, niece of the bride, was the flower girl, in cream net over pink, and she carried a Colonial bouquet.

Serving as his brother's best man was David B. Caldwell, and the ushers included another brother, Harold S. Clark.

There was a reception for 100 guests and the bridal table was banked with spring flowers supplemented by lighted rainbow tapers. Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell will reside in Northumberland street when they return from a honeymoon in California.

GUARD BLAMED IN SHIPWRECK

SEATTLE, April 24.—(AP.)—Fishermen charged the Neah Bay (Wash.) Coast Guard Station with responsibility for the fatal wreck of the fishing boat Alvenes at the mouth of the Quillayute River April 12 in a petition forwarded to the Coast Guard commandant at Washington today.

The Alvenes crashed on James Island in a storm and Capt. Albert Marvold and C. Jacobson, both of Seattle, lost their lives.

The petition charged a Coast Guard power boat appeared off the mouth of the river several hours after the Alvenes was reported in distress, but turned back without investigating.

Actor Under Knife Saved by Hobby For Medicine

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—(AP.)—For years Ralph Forbes, motion picture actor and husband of Ruth Chatterton, actress, has made a hobby of medicine and surgery. The hobby was credited today, by Dr. William E. Branch, his physician, with having saved his life.

Forbes became ill while on a trip alone into the high Sierras. He diagnosed his complaint as appendicitis and sped into Los Angeles, where Dr. Branch ordered him to a hospital for an immediate operation.

The surgeon said the actor had every chance to recover.

DAVIS SPEAKS TO STUDENTS

Honor your father and mother. This was the text of Senator James J. Davis' informal speech to the senior graduating class at South Hills High School yesterday afternoon. He said:

"Never be ashamed of your parents. No matter how poor or illiterate they are, or how twisted and gnarled their hands from work. Be proud of each bend in their back. If their clothes are shabby it's because they are giving you a chance to go to school, and become ladies and gentlemen."

No man or woman ever succeeded in life, Senator Davis told the students, who didn't take his mother and father with him. Teachers are children's best friends, next to parents, he said.

Senator Davis believes that no boy or girl need look outside of Pittsburgh for ample educational and industrial opportunities.

Roosevelt Signs Unification Bill

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP.)—New York City's long battle for state permission to unify its existing and newly constructed subway lines ended when Gov. Roosevelt signed the transit unification bill. The city now can proceed with its consolidated plan to place control of the Interborough and B.-M.-T. lines under a single board of control.

Propeller Drives Coach Along Rails

HANOVER, Germany, April 24.—(AP.)—A stream line passenger coach driven by propeller has whizzed at the rate of 110 miles an hour on a five-mile stretch of railroad track. The sponsors say the Zep on wheels did not have space enough for real speed. They hope for 150 miles an hour.

Plan Ideal Life On Sunday Island

BRISBANE, Australia, April 24.—(AP.)—Fourteen selected families expect to lead an ideal existence on Sunday Island, a spot of 7,200 acres, away from shipping routes. They are going to the abandoned island as an experiment.

Music Club Federation Of State to Convene Here on Thursday

A program of especial interest has been arranged for the luncheon session of the State Federation of Music Clubs Thursday. This part of the day's proceedings will take place in the Twentieth Century Club, the president of which, Mrs. William Maclay Hall, is to be one of the speakers. Mrs. Hall, who is also president of the Pittsburgh Orchestra Association, will have "The Cultural Value of an Orchestra" as her subject. Dr. Will Earhart, director of music in the public schools, is a second speaker, and a quartet composed of Anna Laura Cree, Rose Leader Chislett, Lucile Miller Werner and Ida May Claudy, accompanied by Grace Adele Hall, will provide the music.

The meeting is an all-day one and, with the exception of the luncheon period, will be held in the Pittsburgh Musical Institute. Reports of officers and department chairmen will occupy the morning and in the afternoon the state auditions for young artists will be held. These carry cash awards which will finance the winner to the district contest in New York.

Mrs. T. C. Donovan, state president, has just returned from a regional conference in Valley Forge and a state meeting in Ohio.

* * *

Alice Gerstenberg's playlet, "Hearts," will be presented as the chief program feature of Tuesday's meeting of the Mining and Metallurgical Engineers' Auxiliary in the Pittsburgh Athletic Association. The cast, directed by Mrs. Lewis F. Young, includes Mrs. F. S. Follansbee, Mrs. Charles Herty, Mrs. J. B. Carlock and Mrs. J. French Robinson.

Mrs. Lavine

Mrs. Saul Lavine is the newly elected president of the Pittsburgh Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations. Mrs. Lavine has been active in Parent-Teacher work and is president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Temple Sisterhoods.

* * *

The Conference of Jewish Women's Organizations, which is composed of the 20 leading groups of Jewish women in the city whose interests are religious, philanthropic and social, has chosen Mrs. Saul Lavine, as its new head. Other officers now are: Vice presidents, Mrs. S. S. Cohen, Mrs. Alexander Silverman and Mrs. B. S. Hirshenson; Mrs. Maurice Lyon, recording secretary; Mrs. Maurice Davis, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. M. Kartub, treasurer; Mrs. Morris London, auditor.

* * *

Taylor Allderdice Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular meeting Tuesday evening with Dr. David Sumstine, head of the curriculum and research department of the Pittsburgh public schools, as speaker. There will be other entertainment including songs by Mrs. Celia Little, who will be accompanied by J. Fred Lissfelt.

* * *

Eta Alumnae chapter of Delta Phi Epsilon, national Jewish social sorority of the University of Pittsburgh, will meet in monthly session Sunday at the home of Miss Bessie Sachs, Corey avenue, Braddock.

* * *

The music department of the Woman's Club of Mt. Lebanon is meeting this afternoon with Mrs. Edwin Goldsmith, Hazel drive, for an all Russian program. It will be given by Mrs. J. E. Burke, soprano; Mrs. J. G. Lyle, contralto, and Mrs. C. S. Sierakowski, pianist. The paper will be read by Mrs. R. E. Cuthbert.

The reviewers group will meet Tuesday to discuss Barnes' "The Years of Grace." The hostess will be Mrs. B. H. Lawson, of LeMoyne avenue.

* * *

"Timely Topics" was the discussion subject at the regular meeting of the Rosslyn Farms Woman's Club yesterday. Mrs. W. J. Beggs, leader, gave "Domestic News;" Mrs. W. H. Beighel, "Foreign News," and Mrs. T. A. Sheets, "Local News."

Miss Ethel McPeak sang, and piano solos were given by Virginia Plummer, Anna Margaret Cole and Frances Sheets. Mrs. J. T. Nesbit was hostess.

* * *

A talk on "Superstitions, Fads and Fancies in Medicine" by Dr. Cortlandt W. Elkin constituted the program for yesterday's meeting of the Thursday Afternoon Club of Wilkinsburg. Mrs. R. M. Craig, Mrs. H. R. Craig and Mrs. T. B. Schroeder were hostesses in Mrs. R. M. Craig's home, Hill avenue. The next meeting of the club on May 14 will be guest day and will be held in the Y. W. C. A.

HOOVER TO JOIN COLONY FETE

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP.)—President Hoover tomorrow will turn southward to take part in the celebration of an anniversary of one of the country's important historical events.

He will join Sunday in a pilgrimage to Cape Henry, Va., where 324 years ago English colonists under the leadership of Capt. John Smith, of Pocahontas fame, landed and stopped for a few days before journeying to Jamestown and establishing the first permanent English colony in America.

Last October the President went to Kings Mountain, N. C., and made an address celebrating the battle of Kings Mountain, an important engagement of the Revolutionary War.

Brings Organ Music From Toy Piano

U. S. Envoy's Son Weds in Copenhagen

COPENHAGEN, April 24.—(AP.)—Winifred May Wessel, daughter of the Chilean minister to Denmark, and John Lord Booth, of Detroit, son of the American minister here, were united in marriage in a civil service at Copenhagen town hall at noon today.

EVENING FAVORS CRISP FABRICS

Sketched in Paris

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, April 24.—Some of the newest evening frocks are certainly done to a crisp. Stiff failles and taffetas stand out in a crowd, and further emphasize their outstanding charm by petal-like ruchings placed in close formation on the lower part of the skirt. This is by no means an easy style to wear, and so is not likely to become universally popular. It is a certain type of dress that needs a certain type of figure to carry it off successfully. Just the same, it is a very romantic, dashing fashion and lends a note of the picturesque to any gathering. The general demand for fabrics such as faille and taffeta must be noted and these materials share the spotlight with such clinging fabrics as georgette, satin and chiffon, thus demonstrating the versatility and generosity of the mode.

* * *

THE EVENING GOWN is from Lanvin's latest collection and is done in her unique style. It is of crisp black faille and has even crisper ruchings of the material cut in pointed petals, shirred and attached vertically round the lower part of the skirt. A huge chou of black faille with a dash of flaming red in it — a most dramatic note — is posed on one hip, at the side of a draped belt. The neckline is rounding in back.

Invite You To

PITTSBURGH

ON HOSPITALITY DAYS

Friday and Saturday, April 24th and April 25th

Ingomar Road Extension, one of the many excellent highways leading to Pittsburgh. Notice the extreme width.

All roads lead to Pittsburgh! A phrase which has been made an actual fact by the constant stream of thousands of visitors from all points of the compass who, enthusiastically, respond to the allurements of this city.

Allegheny County is favored geographically, climatically, and economically. It is centrally located where cross-country lanes converge. Its environs offer many attractions that rob the work-a-day world of its tedious routine. Parks, in which native beauty and simplicity abound, provide a welcome escape from the crowded city streets to a rustic wooded splendor. Swimming, golf, tennis, all summer activities are obtainable at these recreation centers.

Access to this city has been made easy by the construction of smooth, well-designed highways which wind their way majestically throughout the entire county. Not only do they provide an excellent pathway for quick, convenient transportation, but also enable one to become acquainted with the beauty of the surrounding territory.

That is why we, the Allegheny County Commissioners, invite you to Pittsburgh on Hospitality Days. We are aware of the importance of the county we represent, and are eager that our neighbors likewise obtain a full realization of its assets.

PRUDENCE PENNY'S RECIPES

RAISIN TWISTS—2 cups flour, ¼ cup sugar, ¾ teaspoon mace, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons shortening, 1 cup seedless raisins, 1 egg, ¾ cup milk.

Boil raisins 5 minutes, drain and chop. Sift together flour, sugar, mace, salt, and baking powder. Cut in shortening and add raisins. Beat egg, combine milk and add other ingredients to make a soft dough. Save the remaining liquid. Roll dough in strips about ½-inch thick. Cut off in 6-inch lengths and twist to make a heart shape and place on a greased baking sheet 1-inch apart. Brush tops with milk-and-egg mixture and sprinkle lightly with granulated sugar. Bake 12 minutes in a hot oven (425 degrees F.). Serve hot.

COCOANUT CREAM JUMBLES—3 cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, ¾ cup cocoanut, 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 cup heavy cream.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt and sift again. Add sugar gradually to the eggs. Add flour alternately with cream, mixing well. Add cocoanut. Chill. Roll ¼-inch thick on slightly floured board. Dredge with sugar. Cut with large round cutter. Bake in hot oven 12 to 15 minutes. Makes two dozen jumbles.

* * *

LIMA BEANS EN CASSEROLE—Soak 2 cups of beans overnight in cold water to cover. Drain and add hot water, using just enough to cover the beans. Simmer until beans are tender and the water is absorbed. Put into casserole, add ½ teaspoon pepper, ½ teaspoon salt, and dot with butter. Add milk to partially cover the beans and bake in a moderate oven.

* * *

STEAMED CHOCOLATE PUDDING—Three tablespoons butter, ¾ cup sugar, 1 egg well beaten, 2½ cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons grated chocolate, unsweetened, 1 cup milk.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and add to creamed butter and sugar and add beaten egg. Add sifted ingredients alternately with milk. Blend melted chocolate in last, pour into greased melon mold. Steam and serve with whipped cream garnished with candied fruit or cream or hard sauce.

* * *

KIDNEY ROLLS—Lamb or veal kidneys may be used. Scald the kidneys, remove the skins and soak them in cold water for 30 minutes. Mix ½ cup stale bread crumbs, ½ onion, finely chopped, and ½ tablespoon parsley, finely chopped. Add enough of 1 egg, slightly beaten, to moisten. Season with salt and pepper, and spread on thin slices of bacon. Wrap the pieces of kidney with bacon slices and fasten each together with a skewer or toothpick. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven.

* * *

BAKED VEAL WITH RICE—Mix 1 cup chopped veal with 1 tablespoon bread crumbs, 2 cups cooked rice, 2 tablespoons cream or milk, 1½ tablespoons butter, 1 cup brown sauce, and season with salt and pepper. Mix well and form into a loaf, or bake in a buttered casserole. Add a little water or gravy if necessary. Bake until the meat is tender.

* * *

DATE BUTTER SCOTCH PUDDING—Add ⅛ teaspoon salt to ¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca and cook with 2 cups hot water in a double boiler for 15 minutes, stirring frequently. The tapioca should be clear when cooked. Melt 3 tablespoons butter, add 6 tablespoons brown sugar and stir until melted. Add the tapioca mixture together with 1 cup dates, chopped, and ½ teaspoon vanilla. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for 30 minutes. Serve with cream.

* * *

ALMOND TART—Beat the yolks of 4 eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add 1 cup powdered sugar and fold in the 4 egg whites, beaten stiff. Add ½ cup almonds, which have been blanched and chopped fine; 1-3 cup grated chocolate, 1 teaspoon baking powder and ¾ cup cracker dust. Bake in buttered individual tins. When cool, split and fill with sweetened whipped cream. Garnish with cherries.

* * *

BRAISED HADDOCK EN CASSEROLE—Heat ½ cup cooking oil in a frying pan and brown a 4-pound piece of haddock on all sides in the oil. Add 2 cups diced carrots to 2 cups sliced or minced onions and 2 cups finely minced celery, then sprinkle with salt. The addition of a small clove of garlic, crushed, adds to the flavor. Place a layer of the vegetables in the bottom of a buttered baking dish. Then place the browned fish on the vegetables. Cover with the remaining vegetables.

To the oil in the pan add 1 pint boiling water, salt and pepper, and pour over the contents of the casserole. Cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven 1½ hours, or until the fish is thoroughly cooked. Serve from the casserole, or on a hot platter, with butter sauce.

* * *

CRUMB DATE CAKES—Beat together the yolks of 3 eggs and 1 cup sugar. Add 1 cup dates cut fine, and 1 cup walnuts, chopped fine. Add the beaten whites of the eggs with a pinch of salt, then add 6 tablespoons bread crumbs mixed with 1 teaspoon baking powder. Flavor with vanilla. Bake in muffin tins in a moderate oven. Serve with whipped cream.

* * *

CHOCOLATE COOKIES—Sift flour and measure 2½ cups, add 1-3 teaspoon cinnamon, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon soda and sift together three times. Cream ½ cup butter or other shortening, add 1 cup sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add 2 eggs, well beaten, 3 squares of unsweetened chocolate, melted and 1 tablespoon cream, and beat well. Add flour, a small quantity at a time and beat until smooth. Roll into thin sheet on slightly floured board. Cut with a floured cookie cutter and dredge with sugar. Place on greased baking sheet and bake in a hot oven six minutes.

* * *

STEAMED PLATTER MEAL—(Danish style)—One medium-sized cabbage, 6 medium-sized potatoes, 2 cups creamed yellow turnips, stuffed onions, 1½ cups water, 2 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper to taste, ⅛ teaspoon sugar.

Pare turnips and potatoes; cut cabbage into six equal parts. Let vegetables stand in cold water at least 30 minutes; they will then be freshened and crisp. Place whole potatoes, turnips and cabbage in a covered roaster, dot with butter. Add water, cover, and cook in moderate oven 50 minutes. When almost done season with salt, pepper and a sprinkling of sugar. Arrange cabbage on platter in the form of a ring. Fill center of ring with mashed creamed turnips. Place potatoes and stuffed baked onions alternately around ring. Serve with Danish sauce made by beating 1 cup hot vegetable broth into ½ cup butter.

* * *

RICH BRAN MUFFINS—Cream ¼ cup shortening and ½ cup light brown sugar. Add a well beaten egg, 1 cup sour milk and 2½ cups bran and let stand while measuring other ingredients. Sift together 1 cup flour, 1½ teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon soda and add to bran mixture. Add ⅔ cup chopped nuts. Bake in greased muffin pans in a 400-degree over for about 25 minutes.

* * *

BROCCOLI ON TOAST—Remove the coarse leaves and the tough part of the stalks of 1 bunch broccoli. Wash thoroughly. Split the stalks into convenient sizes for serving. Cook in boiling water 20 to 30 minutes, or until tender, adding salt during the last five minutes of cooking. Arrange on slices of toast.

To 2 cups well-seasoned white sauce, add 2 hard cooked eggs, which have been put through a strainer, and 1 teaspoon onion juice. Pour over the broccoli and serve immediately.

* * *

COTTAGE PUDDING—One and one-half cups pastry flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ cup sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 2/3 cup milk, 1 teaspoon lemon extract, ½ teaspoon orange extract, 4 tablespoons fat, melted.

Mix all ingredients. Beat 2 minutes. Pour into shallow pan lined with waxed paper. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Cut in squares and serve with sauce.

* * *

MAPLE UPSIDE DOWN CAKE—Two cups sifted cake flour, ½ cup butter, 3 egg yolks, well beaten, ¾ cup maple syrup, 1 cup nut meats, chopped; 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 cup sugar, ¾ cup milk, 1 tablespoon butter, melted, 1 teaspoon vanila.

Sift and measure flour, resift with baking powder, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks, beaten with ¼ teaspoon salt. Add flour alternately with the milk. Beat after each addition and add the vanilla.

Combine the syrup and the melted butter, pour into a greased, paper-lined pan, 3x8x2 inches. Sprinkle with nuts. Add the batter and bake in moderate oven 50

TELL IT TO SALLY

By SALLY MARTIN

Abandon Your Dreams and Go After Reality

Valerie thinks I'm an old meanie—

Because I told Nola to snap out of her "love" for a man she'd never met, and go in for some honest-to-goodness living.

"Don't you realize," she sobs, "that some people can't snap out of their blues, that they're snubbed and shunned until the only thing they can find any comfort in is their dreams?"

All of which sounds pitiful, I'll admit. But—is it true?

Need any healthy hustling female "live in dreams?"

"Dear Miss Martin:

"May I say a word to you about Nola who wrote that she was in love with a man she didn't really know.

Has "Secret Romeo"

"I have a 'secret Romeo' myself, and somehow I just have to write to you, and let you know that I don't agree with what you told her.

"Have you ever stopped to realize that some people aren't given a chance to 'snap out of their blues'—that they are shunned and snubbed until the only place they can find a bit of rest is in their dreams?

"Like Nola, I saw a fellow, and fell in love with him . . . and have loved him ever since. I have tried to snap out of it plenty of times, but to no avail.

"I know Nola's letter probably sounded funny to you, but I know just how she feels. I have never been out with the man I love either, although I have met him. I see him often enough, and hear what people say about him. He is highly respected and very intelligent, and has a responsible position. But he never even looks at me. He only speaks to me if I have to go where he works . . . and then only a curt 'hello' . . . and I can't tell you how much that hurts. All the boys treat me the same way but somehow, when he does it, it hurts worse.

"I am one of those girls who has been cheated out of looks, charm and education. I am as big as a horse, and I've tried to get thin but I can't. I have thyroid trouble, and I have been told that getting thinner is impossible.

"I suppose you'll say that being fat is not a crime" . . . but what if you can't develop any charm? I've tried. I would rather be called anything than contradict someone and, if people insult me, I swallow it all and forgive them, even though they have hurt me. But it's no use.

Not an Idle Dreamer

"Can you wonder now, that this fellow doesn't like me? Can you realize how much happiness I get out of just dreaming about him? He is in my mind from morning till night. Could what you call 'true love' be any deeper?

"Whatever faults I have, I have one point which I know is good. I have a great faith in God, and maybe that is what makes me cling to the hope that some day I will have a chance to tell him of my love.

"Don't tell me to forget him. I am not lazy, and I am not just an idle dreamer. Other fellows wouldn't interest me even if I could have them.

"Don't tell me that you can't love a man you've never gone with. God has answered so many of my prayers that I am sure He would have sent me something to make me realize it, if this were just a silly infatuation, and not real love. Are you sure you meant what you told Nola? Have you ever had the same experience?

"Remember, when a man dates a girl, he doesn't look for one of my type. He wants one he can show off and be proud of. So what have I but dreams? Nothing! VALERIE."

"Nothing but dreams to live for"—?

Nonsense! You have scores of other things to live for—sweet, stimulating things—but you're afraid to go after them!

That's your trouble, Valerie. Not your looks, or your height, nor your thyroid . . . , but laziness and self-pity and fear. You have found life difficult. Romance and joy aren't to be had for the asking. People won't admire you just because you wish them to. There are handicaps. A cranky gland in your throat. Layers of fat on your ribs. Shyness. Melancholy. So what do you do?

Do you decide to fight for that education you've missed for the health and happiness which you lack? Not you! You say that you've been told that getting thinner is "impossible"—so you don't even try to get thinner. You do not consult a doctor. You just sit down in the midst of your suet and sorrow, and weep big tears of self-pity and dream of some imaginary lover . . . and get a big bang out of it!

Go After Happiness

And you think I'm going to weep with you? Well I'm not. If you want to sog, sister—sog! But don't kid yourself that you're humanity's most pitiful martyr, for you're not. Millions of other humans have handicaps as great, and greater, than yours. Yet they make a glowing success of life. And so can you—if you will.

You can be rid of your fat, if you'll consult a good doctor, then follow his instructions, and keep up the right diet and exercise.

You can be rid of your ignorance if you'll dig in and get an education as countless other young people are doing—by going to night school, taking correspondence courses or university extension courses. Education is the easiest of things to find—if you have the spunk to go after it.

And you can be rid of your loneliness and melancholy if you'll quit dreaming and begin living—normally. Some of the most popular women on earth are fat and homely and poorly educated. They have made themselves so jolly and interesting, so sympathetic and companionable that they are loved by everyone who knows them. But you can bet they didn't get that way by dreaming, lady.

So if you want happiness, go after it, Valerie. It's yours—if you'll work for it.

Whether this common interest is for good or evil, for pleasure or protection it is instant and often lasting.

Let two persons meet and discover that their interests are the same and it is at once as if they had known each other always.

Another two persons may go through life on the same block, exchanging all the polite pleasantries and considerations of good neighbors, and yet never feel that they really know or actually care very much about each other, because there is such a vast difference in interests.

We like and know those best who like the things we like.

Madge Tells Veritzen About Mary Rejecting Picture Offer

Mary was silent during the rest of the luncheon. I guessed that the child had almost come to the end of her self-control in accepting our ultimatum that she refuse the talkie role with Colin Cameron, and I was careful to say nothing myself save an occasional comment on the food or the weather, which demanded no reply.

But as we went up in the elevator I spoke to her in commonplace tones, but with a hint of command.

"Get your things on as quickly as you can. I'm going to redeem my promise to take you shopping. This is our last chance, you know. We leave early in the morning for the farm."

"Oh! I can't," she began, then stopped, patently realizing that she would have no other opportunity to complete the Christmas shopping.

"I'll be ready in no time," she amended, and kept her word, emerging from her room dressed for the street as I was drawing on my gloves.

Mary and I shopped until the stores closed their doors, and with the satisfying knowledge that all my purchases and those of my mother-in-law were completed, returned to the hotel, tired but content save for two unpleasant tasks which loomed before me. One was the delivery to Philip Veritzen of Dicky's ultimatum—I meant to throw all responsibility upon him—that Mary could not accept the talkie role which Colin Cameron had offered her. The other was the explanation to Dicky of my arrival upon the through train should he tax me with it.

Dicky had not yet returned, and hoping that I could get through my interview with Mr. Veritzen before he returned, but determined that I would not see him alone, I knocked upon Lillian's door, and when she had opened it, spoke quickly, softly.

"Will you come over to the apartment for a few minutes? I've got to tell Mr. Veritzen that Dicky won't let Mary accept that position with Colin Cameron, and—"

"You want a chaperone," she interposed with twinkling eyes. "I'll be right over. Is he there now?"

"No. He may not even be in the hotel. But I'm going to telephone him right away."

"Dicky home?"

"Not yet."

"But he may be at any minute," she said. "So you would better telephone Phil from this apartment. Then we can meander over together. It wouldn't be so pleasant to have the Dicky-bird hop in and find his mate cheeping over the telephone to that old—supply the name of the bird yourself."

She grinned mischievously at me, and though her raillery annoyed me, I gave no sign of my feeling, but turned back with her to her telephone, getting a connection with Mr. Veritzen's apartment at once.

"Would it be possible for you to come up to our apartment for a few minutes?" I asked when he had greeted me.

"I shall be there immediately," he said flamboyantly, and when I had hung up the receiver, Lillian and I went over to our apartment.

"Mr. Veritzen will be here in a minute or two," I told Mary, and she made a flying leap for her room.

"Let me out when he leaves," she said, and she was but barely in the room, when a knock sounded upon the door and I opened it to my employer. I came to the point as soon as he was seated.

"I am so busy that I find it impossible to get in touch with Mr. Cameron," I said. "May I send a message from my husband to him by you. I know it is an imposition, but——"

He had stiffened at the proposition, but he unbent at my apology.

"You should know," he said reproachfully, "that I am only too glad to execute any commission for you."

"You're the handy little executor, Phil. I'll swear to that," Lillian gibed with a grin at him, which my employer returned rather constrainedly.

"It is simply this," I said hurriedly. "Mary's uncle has decided that he cannot permit her to accept Mr. Cameron's offer, but he wishes him to know how appreciative we all are of the great honor done Mary."

Mr. Veritzen disposed of the compliment with a gesture, and his voice was a trifle raucous as he asked.

"Is this Miss Mary's decision also, or is her uncle overruling her?"

"Absolutely overruling her," I returned, anxious that he should have no further cause for rancor against Mary. "Indeed, she is wild to accept the offer, and is grievously disappointed at her uncle's decision."

Beauty Box

By HELEN FOLLETT

Do you know that the blood streams bring food to muscles and tissues and, at the same time, carry away body debris, old cells that are done for? That is why scalp massage helps the hair to grow, and why quick, brisk tapping takes up the slack in sagging facial tissues. Massage is a natural solace and upbuilder. Even babies know this; they rub the sore spot.

We are hearing all that good old-fashioned talk about the need of blood tonics in the spring. Don't you remember the sulphur and molasses period? No? Well, your mamma does. A lot of hooey, if you ask us. Spring fruits and vegetables are rich with tonics. Eat plenty of carrots, spinach, lettuce and cabbage, and that winter-worn appearance will depart from the complexion.

Putting the dull finish on the supercillious nose is not the only purpose of complexion powder. It's main job is to give the facial coating an appearance of freshness, that fine delicate velvety tone of youth. Powder must be in color harmony with the skin, it must be of the right weight and consistency, and it must be applied properly. Use a lamb's wool powder pad, start under the chin and work upward with quick pats. Remove the surplus with a camel's hair brush and tap with the finger tips. Apply rouge. Give a final fling of powder.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Same Diet Cause of Pellagra

I have discussed with you many constitutional diseases that are caused by poorly-balanced diets. Today I want to tell you of a disease caused by lack of proper food. In addition to harming the general health, it affects particularly the digestive organs, the nerves, and the skin. This disease is known as "pellagra," and is most common in the South.

Dr. Copeland

The disease may occur in the rich as well as in the poor. But it is the poor man who suffers most from it. In the well-to-do, it occurs usually because there has been some radical change in the diet. Such a change is likely to be due to an attempt at reducing, or the practice of some absurd fad. Such cases have been reported and brought to hospitals in serious condition.

It was believed at one time that pellagra was caused by eating diseased maize or corn. Others believed it to be an infection carried by the sand fly. Studies of recent years all point to the conclusion that it is due to an improperly balanced diet.

In the localities where they have it the poor man usually lives on a diet which varies very little from day to day. It may consist essentially of pork, beans, corn meal, corn bread and molasses, with complete absence of fruits, fresh vegetables, milk, cream and eggs. Such a diet is completely devoid of the vitamins necessary for the prevention of pellagra.

The skin symptoms of this disease are varied. There is usually a dark redness of the skin, which is soon followed by intensive scaling. This is particularly true of the exposed parts, as the face, neck and hands. The skin is usually swollen and it burns and itches.

The nervous symptoms consist of tenderness in the region of the spine. There is marked mental depression, often ending in melancholia, with hallucinations, stupor and convulsions.

The intestinal symptoms are such as would be expected with a marked inflammation of the lining of the mouth, with swollen and bleeding gums and increased formation of saliva. There is usually present a persistent diarrhoea.

Most cases, if recognized early, quickly respond to treatment. This is a simple thing, consisting mainly of a properly balanced diet which includes plenty of milk, green vegetables and fresh fruits.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Saturday, April 25

The lunar transits for this day show a very contradictory state of affairs. With the luminaries in square aspect there is danger in employment and, with superiors, a menace, heightened, if not aggravated, by the dominance of Mars, with its incitement to belligerency and violence, of speech as well as action. With the tendency to quarrels and aggressiveness restrained, the favorable place of Neptune may assist new projects and the Venus friendliness heighten personal popularity and prospects.

Those whose birthday it is may look for an exciting and eventful year, with the prospect of quarrels and passionate indulgence imperiling employment and jeopardizing progress unless restrained.

A child born on this day should be energetic and aggressive and at the same time kindly, sympathetic and affectionate. With these qualities coordinated it should make progress and attain personal favor and happiness.

Correct Manners

Personal Thanks for Expressions of Sympathy

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. Is it considered proper to acknowledge letters or cards of sympathy with the usual engraved form that one uses in acknowledging flowers, or should personal notes be sent?

2. How soon after a death should acknowledgments be sent?

3. When flowers are sent by several of a family should the acknowledgment be addressed to "The Jones Family" or to the eldest? M. M.

1. If at all possible, and it is usually, personal notes of thanks should be written for letters of condolence and for flowers offerings. Such personal attentions demand personal acknowledgment. The note may be very short, a sentence or two is enough, but it should be written.

Something like this is enough:

Dear Jane:

It was most kind of you and John to send us such a fine, friendly letter of sympathy and understanding, and we appreciate it very deeply. Thank you, too, for the beautiful roses, that brought us your message of sympathy.

Very sincerely yours,

2. As soon as it can be done conveniently, without too much grief and discomfort. In this cases, punctuality is never looked for by our understanding friends, and so we can take our time, can wait until we feel that such a social duty is possible of performance.

3. Address the note of thanks to the mother of the home, if there is a mother, or to the father. If there is neither, to the eldest child.

A Privilege of the Bride-to-Be

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. When a couple have been engaged for two years, is it proper for the girl to suggest the date of marriage, or should she wait until he decides upon a date?

"A" insists that the man should say when they will or will not be married, and "B" insists it is the privilege of the girl to set the date. Who is correct?

2. Would the same ruling apply nine or 10 years ago as well as today?

ANXIOUSLY WAITING.

1. B is right . . . this important question is the privilege of the girl to decide.

2. Yes.

Answer to the Asparagus Question

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

1. Will you please inform me as to whether or not it is correct to eat asparagus, either served in a salad or as a hot buttered vegetable, with the fingers?

2. Also, is it proper to cover boiled or mashed potatoes with the gravy, or should the gravy be put on the plate right next to the potatoes?—B. M.

1. It is not correct to take stalks of asparagus in the fingers as we eat them. They should be eaten with a fork, for they are messy, indeed, when we take them in our fingers.

2. This is as we prefer.

Spinach Praised as Beneficial Food

Dr. Copeland declares that this vegetable should be included in your daily diet because it contains much iron and has a high cellulose content.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,
Former Health Commissioner of New York City
United States Senator From New York

Every housewife appreciates the need of a good broom. The French call spinach "the broom of the stomach." Just as it is essential for you to have a broom for your housework, so should spinach be included in your daily diet.

Spinach received this name because of its high cellulose content. The cellulose serves as "roughage," which brushes the intestinal lining. It stimulates the muscular layers of the stomach and intestines. This stimulation insures proper action of these organs.

The importance of spinach cannot be overestimated. It is a food containing water, protein and fat. In addition, it is a valuable source of mineral elements and vitamins.

RICH IN IRON

It has been definitely proved that the leafy vegetables like spinach are exceedingly rich in iron, manganese and copper. These mineral elements are of vital importance because they supply the essential salts to the body.

Spinach contains more iron than any other food except peas and egg yolk. On this account it is an excellent food for blood building.

One advantage of spinach is that it may be used in the meal without omitting the staple foods. Its bulk is great, but it does not make the total food consumption excessive. Even though taken in generous quantities, there will be no undue demand upon the digestive organs.

Spinach is particularly rich in vitamin A and also contains vitamins B and C. Since these three important vitamins are found in spinach, its importance as a vitamin carrying food ranks high.

GOOD FOR YOUNGSTERS

Because of its content of vitamins, minerals and other nutritive substances, spinach is an ideal food. Its ease of digestion makes it desirable as a food for young children.

By the time the infant reaches the age of six months it may be fed spinach. When given to an infant, the vegetable should be thoroughly steamed and put through a strainer.

Many persons do not like spinach because of its taste. This objection can be removed by serving it with a meat or fish dish. There are various recipes in the cook book that will help to overcome this difficulty.

BERG HOLDS EDGE IF NOT WEAKENED

ANOTHER FISTIC TITLE hangs in the balance as Tony Canzoneri, champion, and Jack (Kid) Berg, challenger, await the bell for their 10-round bout in Chicago tonight, on the outcome of which the world lightweight crown will be at stake. Whether or not the scepter is to change hands for the third time in a little more than nine months appears to hinge mainly on a question of weight making. Berg at his best would look like the probable winner, but it remains to be seen if he has come through the task of grinding himself down to 135 pounds without sacrificing some of his stuff.

Tony Canzoneri

As holder of the world junior welterweight championship, Berg has proved his superiority over the 140-pounders of the present day, and at that he has rarely scaled above 138. But the removal of three pounds sometimes takes more out of a fighter than he can afford to lose, and the possibility that the operation may have sapped some of Berg's strength, speed and stamina is the one thing that clouds the chances of the challenger in tonight's battle.

ASIDE FROM THAT angle, there is no question that the edge is with Berg. He is a perpetual-motion, windmill fighter on the order of the late Harry Greb a marvel of endurance and stamina at his best weight, always on top of an opponent and throwing punches from every angle. Only Billy Petrolle has beaten him. As a decision fighter he is one of the best, and on paper looks superior to the Canzoneri of today in general fighting qualities.

Canzoneri at 26 is one year older than the man he meets tonight and has been fighting two years longer. He has been slowed down by six years of battling through three classes, is not as shifty as he used to be, and is quicker to tire. Probably it was on the latter account that he picked Chicago as a battle-ground on this occasion, as he will have to go only 10 rounds there, whereas the distance for title competition in New York is 15 frames.

BUT EVEN FOR 10 rounds, Tony has never been forced to travel at such a pace as he will have to follow tonight if Berg has not left too much of his strength and speed on the road or in the gymnasium. The challenger will have the better chance to win if he is not below form.

The last two championship changes came about through first-round knockouts. Al Singer took the title by stopping Sammy Mandell in the opening round on July 17 last year, and on November 14 Singer was dethroned in the same quick time by Canzoneri.

ONE MORE OF Knute Rockne's former football pupils has gone to join the famous coach in the beyond. Notre Dame men here have received word of the death in Chicago, after a prolonged illness, of Joe Prelli, former halfback at the South Bend university. Prelli, who was graduated in 1928, played on the Irish elevens of 1925, 1926 and 1927, with such noted teammates as Parisien, Enright, Flanagan, Wynne, McManmon, Voedisch, Boeringer, Chevigny, Moynihan, Cannon, Hanousek, Law, Colrick and others. Prelli is the sixth Rockne-coached Notre Dame player to cross the Great Divide in addition to the wizard mentor himself. The others were George Gipp, Max Houser, Rupe Mills, Jimmy Powers and Dr. John Weibel.

Bill McKechnie

THE SENSATIONAL START made by the Boston Braves in winning seven of their first nine games, more victories than any other major league club was able to score in the same period, has brought new praises for Manager Bill McKechnie from prominent baseball men.

One of Bill's admirers is James E. Gaffney, who owned the Boston club in 1912-13-14-15, and on account of whose political connections with Tammany the team was first nicknamed the Braves. "Judge Fuchs scored a ten-strike when he signed McKechnie to manage the Boston club," Gaffney said. "In my opinion, McKechnie is one of the greatest managers in baseball, and it is only a question of time until he produces another pennant winner for Boston."

ALWAYS A MASTER at handling pitchers, McKechnie this spring has been showing to even better advantage in that respect than in the past. His slab staff was supposed to be the weakest part of his club, but the smooth stride in which Bill has the Hub flingers going is attested by the fact that in their last three games they have allowed only one run and 15 hits.

The Wilkinsburg man's smart tactics in firing one lefthander after another against the Robins, whom the Braves have defeated five times in a row with four of the victories being credited to southpaws, have finally had the effect of leading Manager Robinson to bench two of his star southside swingers, Lefty O'Doul and Johnny Frederick, in favor of righthand batters.

WHEN HE SUBDUED the White Sox yesterday, Wesley Ferrell, Cleveland ace, became the first pitcher in the majors to win three games this year. He is charged with one defeat. His three wins leave him needing only one more for a total of 50 victories since he broke into the big show. Walter Stewart, of the Browns, previously unbeaten, also had a chance to score his third triumph of the spring yesterday, but lost a 1-to-0 heartbreaker to Tom Bridges, Detroit righthand rookie from Evansville. Pitchers who have won two games up to today are Grimes, Root, Fitzsimmons, Seibold, Brandt, Zachary, Mitchell, Jumbo Elliott, Pennock and Sherid.

WHILE HIS CLEVELAND teammates were piling up 13 safeties in Chicago yesterday, Joe Vosmik went hitless in five times at bat against Pitchers Braxton and Moore, with the result that his sensational spring batting average dropped from .567 to .486.

Another of the early hitting standouts, Jimmy Levey, the Pittsburgher who is playing shortstop for the St. Louis Browns, also failed to connect yesterday. This was the second hitless game in succession for Levey, who batted .600 in his first four contests with nine hits in 15 times at bat. However, he still sports the healthy average of .409.

NEGOTIATIONS THAT WERE carried on for some time between Carnegie Tech and Southern Methodist University, of Dallas, Tex., for a football game to be played in Dallas next December 5, have been definitely called off, the Tartans deciding that they would not be able to make the trip this year.

Clarence Overend

The game had been hanging fire for almost two months, and several delegations from the Texas city had visited Graduate Manager Clarence Overend, of Carnegie, in an effort to clinch it. Actually, it looked for a time as if the Skibos and Mustangs would hook up, since the Plaid had only eight contests scheduled for next fall.

BUT, THE FACT that Carnegie has one trip to the South scheduled, to meet Georgia Tech in Atlanta on October 10, and also must go on the road for the last two games of the season, with Temple and New York University, utilizing all the time away from school that the faculty permits, caused the proposition to be turned down. However, the way has been paved for a game between the schools some time in the future, and it would not be surprising to see them get together in another year or two. Southern Methodist is the eleven that gave Notre Dame such a thrilling battle in the opener last year. Perhaps the leading exponent of the forward pass in the South, Coach Roy Morrison had brought his teams up to major class in a few seasons.

CHICAGO, April 24.—(AP.)—Two championships or none at all!

That is the ambition of Tony Canzoneri, the game cock lightweight champion of the world, and Jack (Kid) Berg, Great Britain's fistic pride and holder of the world junior-welterweight title. Their ambitions will be realized, one way or the other, when they toss their respective boxing crowns into the Chicago Stadium ring tonight.

Canzoneri's lightweight championship will be at stake and so will Berg's title, a minor championship, recognized by the National Boxing Association. The titles will be involved as both warriors will be under the lightweight division limit of 135 pounds.

BOTH AT WEIGHT

Canzoneri scaled 132 pounds yesterday after going through a brisk warming-up workout, while Berg tipped the beam at 135. The British fistic ambassador says he will make 135 pounds easily when they officially weigh in at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The battle promises to be the most exciting lightweight championship encounter since the days of Benny Leonard, but the attendance may prove disappointing.

With prices ranging from $2 to $10.80, the bout, with a sellout, would have grossed a gate of $136,000. The advance sale, however, failed to come up to expectations and the gate may not gross more than $65,000 and may fall short of that figure unless there is a last-minute rush toward the box office.

The challenger rules a 7-to-5 favorite to win, with little or no Canzoneri money in sight. Ring observers believe Berg will beat Canzoneri and carry the lightweight title back to England.

BERG CONFIDENT

Berg made the weight without difficulty; he is in superb condition and his ability to set and maintain a terrific pace is expected to carry him to victory if the bout goes the limit. Canzoneri figures he will win within five rounds by a knockout.

Berg said he had no trouble in defeating Canzoneri in their battle in New York before the champion won his title, and figures he can repeat. Canzoneri will go into the fight under a slight handicap as he received a small cut over the right eye in his final workout with the gloves Wednesday. This wound, if opened up, may prove troublesome.

Outstanding lightweight youngsters will tangle in bouts supporting the title event. Tony Herrera, fast punching Mexican lightweight, will engage Steve Halaiko, Buffalo, N. Y., in the eight-round semi-windup at 135 pounds.

SCHOOL LINKS PLAY OPENS

The Interscholastic Golf Conference begins operations today with the links teams of Taylor Allderdice and Shady Side. The schedule originally called for the match to be played over the Schenley Park public links, but it was shifted to the Academy's course.

Play will be over 18 holes, with the Nassau system of scoring used. Each team will consist of nine players. William Succop will captain the Academy outlay, other players being Joe Miller, Cris Goldsbury, Jack Oppenheimer, Jim Marks, Roy Myers, King McCreery, Jack Baur and Al Curry.

Allderdice will be captained by Johnny Hahalyak, the remainder of the team consisting of Andy Kosen, Mike Walsh, Joe Paulovich, Bernard Palley, Martin Dunn, Jack Long, Charley Sikors and Galvin Dort.

Other members of the Conference, Kiski, Langley and Oliver, will be idle today. Langley meets Shady Side next Tuesday and next Saturday, the Academy plays at Kiski. Oliver's schedule has not been completed.

LA BARBA GETS TITLE CHANCE

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP.)—Christopher (Bat) Battalino, featherweight champion, will defend his title here in a 15-round match with Fidel La Barba, of Los Angeles, Cal., May 22, Madison Square Garden has announced.

GIANTS SELL PRUETT

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP.)—The New York Giants have announced the outright sale of Herb Pruett, left-handed pitcher, to the Newark club of the International League. James Moore, rookie outfielder, and Harry Rosenberg, who was with the Giants last year, were sent to Newark on option.

Sport Vignettes

Would you call wrestling a muscling-in industry, the way it's conducted? . . . Word from New York is that Don George, who lost the alleged heavyweight mat championship to Ed (Strangler) Lewis in Los Angeles more than a week ago, has sent a challenge to Lewis in Chicago for a return bout under "any terms." . . . The only terms necessary are to get a sucker town to go for it, because George and Lewis are booked out of the same office in Boston . . . A second grappling show is announced for Motor Square Garden next Wednesday night, and, in the absence of a statement by the Boxing Commission with regard to its attitude on enforcing the rule which prohibits sham exhibitions, part of the state law placing the control of boxing and wrestling in the hands of the commission, it is to be assumed that Promoter Sharkey's playful little fellows again will be permitted to put on the old fol de rol, lacking only clown suits to complete the circus that is supposed to make the folks who shell out $1, $2 and $3 for tickets under the delusion that they are looking at wrestling matches roll out into the aisles and split their sides in laughter over the so-called comical antics of the over-rehearsed performers.

Charley Gehringer, of the Detroit Tigers, rated the greatest second baseman in the majors, also is a dry wisecracker, and is responsible for one of the best "cracks" of the season . . . Two lively rookies were fighting for a position on the Detroit club . . . One of them had a frail appearance and eventually there was a report that he had tuberculosis . . . The other rookie, hot after the job, carried the information to Manager Bucky Harris, who told him not to worry too much about his rival, and added, "I'm going to play him against the Pirates today." . . . The supposedly sick one rammed out two triples and two singles against the Buccos . . . Gehringer scored on the last triple, and, as he came into the dugout, he yelled so the crestfallen rival could hear: "Yes, he's got T. B.—total bases!"

Homestead folks still are talking about the great showing of Lenore Kight, of that town, in the recent national A. A. U. women's indoor swimming championships in New York . . . She figures to be in the headlines often this summer, taking the place of Josephine McKim, also formerly of Homestead, now of California, as the leading local mermaid . . . Mae Cutnell, a backstroke star, is another top-flighter among the fair local swimmers, take it from Ben Bright, who is one of the leading workers in the cause of the water sport in these parts . . . . Jack Scarry, Homestead Library Club coach, has been named a second vice president of the new Swimming Coaches' Association of America . . . Coaches of leading colleges and amateur clubs are members . . . . Young Stribling will do his last two weeks of training for his title fight with Max Schmeling in Cleveland, July 3, at night to accustom himself to staying awake at fight time, which seems to be not at all a bad idea . . . . You can kick it around that Jack (Kid) Berg will leave the Chicago Stadium ring a double champion after his bout with Tony Canzoneri tonight . . . . The truth about Canzoneri is that he won the title from Al Singer after he had passed the peak of his career, and, even if Berg may have some difficulty paring down to 135 pounds, he should be able to outgallop the little Italian with something to spare.

The second Schenley Park golf star and former soccer player to branch out as a golf pro within a period of a couple of weeks is George Lumsden, who has just been appointed professional at the Conneaut Lake Park links . . . Bob Graham was named the Schenley pro recently to succeed Al McBride, who now holds forth at South Park . . . Graham is Irish, whereas Lumsden is Scotch . . . Lumsden laid the foundation for his golf at Kennymuir, in Scotland, and he formerly played at halfback on the

LOTT REACHES SEMI-FINALS

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., April 24.—(AP.)—Competition in the men's annual Mason and Dixon championship lawn tennis tournament has advanced through the quarter-finals with George M. Lott, Jr., Philadelphia; Dr. J. A. Wright, Montreal, Canada; Clifford S. Sutter, New Orleans, and J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., emerging as the survivors.

Lott is scheduled to meet Wright in the upper-half match of the semi-finals today, while Sutter and Hall compete in the lower section. The winners of the matches will meet for the title won last year by John Van Ryn, East Orange, N. J. Lott has two legs on the challenge bowl, and a victory this year would give him permanent possession of the prize.

Lott, Davis Cup star, defeated young Eugene McCauliff, of New York, yesterday by the scores, 6-3, 7-5.

Wright, of the Canadian Davis Cup team, won by default from Berkeley Bell, of Austin, Tex., due to Bell's illness.

WOMEN STARS PLAY IN FINAL

HOT SPRINGS, Va., April 24.—(AP.)—Miss Helen Hicks, of Hewlett, L. I., and Mrs. Opal S. Hill, of Kansas City, clash in the final round of the Old Dominion women's golf championship over the Homestead course today.

Miss Hicks won from Miss Betty Dix Perkin, of England, yesterday, 6 and 5, and Mrs. Hill defeated Mrs. J. Marvin Haynes, of Washington, D. C., 6 and 4.

MATMAN INJURED

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 24.—(AP.)—John Katan, heavyweight wrestler, was taken to a hospital here last night after he had been kicked under the jaw by Pat O'Shocker during a bout. Katan had taken the first fall. Katan was still unconscious two hours after the match.

TRACK MEET TODAY

MONESSEN, Pa., April 24.—Monessen and Donora High Schools meet in a dual track meet here today at 3 o'clock. Monessen has entered the Westmoreland County championships, to be staged at Latrobe on May 3.

PIRATES, CUBS ON EDGE FOR INAUGURAL

By CHARLES J. DOYLE

At last!

The Pirates and Cubs finally were able to reel off the opening game of the home season at Forbes Field this afternoon.

Gentle balmy breezes routed the cold and dismal damp of the past two days and Old Sol was on hand to warm up the occasion, while a cheerful crowd of fans early began to descend upon the Oakland baseball orchard.

Manager Ens this morning was undecided as to the second base position in the opener. George Grantham still suffers from his injured leg, but if the member responds to action in the practise drill, George probably will be asked to go to his post. If he still is bothered to a marked degree, the assignment will be given Oakland Bill Regan.

Ens intends to stick to his original slab choice which means that Larry French will grace Fogarty Knoll on the big occasion. The same Laughing Larry was on the home slab one year ago when a snowstorm turned the picture in a distinctive winter scene, the game ending in the third round.

BLAKE TO OPPOSE FRENCH

Manager Hornsby also will stand by Fred Blake as his starting pitcher for Chicago. The Sheriff gave a fine display of his cleverness against the Pirates in Chicago about one week ago, but George Grantham picked one of Fred's hooks in a clinch and the two resultant runs gave the Buccos the only game they won in the four battles at Wrigley Field.

Pitcher Bob Osborn, who was sold by the Cubs to the Pirates on the previous day, reported to Manager Ens and Owner Dreyfuss yesterday morning. The tall fellow is glad of his new association. He had a long talk with his new employers, he informing them he felt he would be able to help the Buccos.

BOB READY FOR WORK

Osborn is a likeable chap and one who appears to have the quiet confidence that counts. Although he did not see much real action in the spring training period he is in excellent physical condition; in fact, he will be able to go to the mound in a few minutes' notice.

The Bears and Buccos are slated to wind up their series tomorrow afternoon. At the conclusion of the second fight the Pirates will head for St. Louis where they will be entertained by the fast-going Cardinals in four battles. There is a chance that Ervin Brame may be able to take a part in this series, but neither Ens nor he is banking on this as an assured eventuality.

SPORT SHORTS

NEW YORK.—(AP.)—Miss Loretta Turnbull, of Monrovia, Cal., 18-year-old women's national outboard motorboat champion, who won 43 of her 48 trophies in competition with men, will sail today for Italy to take part in the international outboard races at Lake Garda, May 9-17.

TORONTO.—(AP.)—The Telegram says the Maple Leafs, of the International League, have purchased Guy Cantrell, righthanded pitcher, from Detroit and obtained Ivy Shiver, recruit outfielder, on option from the same club. Cantrell pitched for Toronto last season before his sale to Detroit.

MEXICO CITY.—(AP.)—The three young tennis players who will represent the United States in the first round North American zone tie against Mexico, Sidney Wood, Frank Shields and Wilmer Allison, spent their first afternoon in Mexico City practicing on the courts of the Chapultepec Country Club in an effort to get used to the altitude.

PINEHURST, N. C.—(AP.)—L. B. Smith, of Millbrook, N. Y., topped the field in the 16-yard consolation shoot of the North and South target tournament, winning the Class A title by breaking 96 targets out of a possible 100. R. C. Coffey, Prairie City, Ia., was second with a score of 94. Class B honors went to William E. Beers, New Britain, Conn., who broke 92 targets.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—(AP.)—Harry N. Purdy, of Atlanta, Ga., southwestern champion, yesterday won his first victory of the national amateur three-cushion billiard championship, defeating Joseph Hall, of San Francisco, 50 to 46, in 57 innings. The defeat was Hall's second in four matches.

Says Nick Altrock

(Baseball's Comedian)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Joe McCarthy got a tough break in Boston. They say as Babe Ruth goes so go the Yankees, so it looks like they were ticketed for the cripples' ward. And McCarthy's chances for a pennant are on a trip around the world.

Nick Altrock

The Yanks were going good, too. Of course, most of their games they took from the Red Sox, but it counts as much in the box score whether you took candy from a baby or held up a full-grown man.

Over in the National circuit Brooklyn and Cincinnati are fighting so hard for the cellar they may have to put in a sub-basement to accommodate both teams.

'DARK HORSE' CROWDS PENN ATHLETE

FRANKLIN FIELD, PHILADELPHIA, April 24. — (AP) — Seeking his third consecutive victory, Barney Berlinger, Pennsylvania's all-around ace, held the lead over six eastern rivals today after five events of the inter-collegiate decathlon contest, opening day feature of the Penn relay carnival.

Traveling at close to a world record clip, Berlinger piled up a total of 4,092.7125 points for the first half of the 10-event battle. The Penn star was 130 points ahead of his pace a year ago, when he wound up with a new carnival decathlon record of 7,460 points.

Berlinger won the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet, 9¼ inches, the high jump at six feet and set a new carnival record of 46 feet, 9⅜ inches in the shot put.

Fred Klauer, an added starter from Boston and Colgate University, furnished unexpectedly keen opposition for Berlinger. Klauer won the 100 and 400-meter runs, equaling the carnival record in the 100, and occupied second place with a total of 3,833.695 for the first five events.

Otto Bruno Schoenfeld, of Cornell, competing in his first decathlon, was third with 3,601.455 points, and Berlinger's teammate, George Munger, was fourth at the half-way stage with 3,589.6655 points.

The others stood as follows: Fifth, T. H. Swartz, Gettysburg, 3,196.808 points; sixth, Walter Hutchinson, Ithaca (N. Y.) School of Physical Education, 3,168.4505 points; seventh, James Deering, Yale, 3,098.890 points. The summary:

100-meter dash—Fred Klauer, Colgate, 11.2 seconds; Otto B. Schoenfeld, Cornell, 11.6 seconds; Barney Berlinger and George Munger, Pennsylvania, 11.7 seconds each; T. H. Schwartz, Gettysburg, 11.8 seconds; James Deering, Yale, 12 seconds; Walter Hutchinson, Ithaca College of Physical Education, 12.6 seconds.

Broad jump—Berlinger, 22 feet 9¼ inches; Klauer, 21 feet 8½ inches; Munger, 20 feet 10⅝ inches; Swartz, 20 feet 1½ inches; Deering, 19 feet 3⅜ inches; Hutchinson, 19 feet ⅜ inch; Schoenfeld, 18 feet 7⅜ inches.

Shot-put—Berlinger, 46 feet 9⅜ inches (new carnival record); Schoenfeld, 44 feet 2½ inches; Hutchinson, 39 feet 2⅜ inches; Klauer, 36 feet 9½ inches; Deering, 36 feet 8½ inches; Munger, 36 feet 6⅝ inches; Swartz, 34 feet 1⅛ inches.

KING LEVINSKY AND SISTER-MANAGER ARRIVE HERE

Levinsky, former fish peddler, of Chicago, now a heavyweight boxing attraction around the country, poses with his sister-manager, Mrs. Lena Levy, upon their arrival here this morning for the King's bout with Emmett Rocco at Motor Square Garden Monday night. Note that the King is a perfect gentleman. He always removes his hat before he socks a lady.

Tiger Joe Randall vs. Tug Phillips, 10 rounds, and Mickey Feder vs. Jimmy Moore, 6 rounds, Franklin, Pa.

Ben Jeby vs. Johnny Pile and Joey La Grey vs. Jack Rosenberg, 10 rounds each, and Rocco Vigna vs. Maxie Lehner, 8 rounds, St. Nicholas Arena, New York.

Sports Editor.

King Levinsky, the Jewish heavyweight boxer, of Chicago, who arrived in town today from Boston to prepare for a 10-round windup battle with Emmett Rocco, of Ellwood City, at Motor Square Garden next Monday night, went to see his home-town baseball team, the Cubs, help the Pirates make their delayed opening of the local National League season at Forbes Field this afternoon. He wanted to go down on the bench and lend his moral support to the Hornsby crew, but only men in uniform are permitted on the field or in the dugout.

Levinsky, whose real name is Harry Krakow, was accompanied by his sister-manager, Mrs. Lena Levy, of Chicago, who wants to help second him against Rocco, but will not be permitted to do so under the rules of the boxing commission. Mrs. Levinsky has two sons, Edward, 18, and Adolpr, 16, the eldest of whom is studying law. She is managing her brother's ring career because she believes she can do it better than the men who have held the reigns until recently.

Does Levinsky think he'll win over Rocco? Huh! And pish and tut!! Isn't Levinsky the king, and who's this Rocco fellow, anyway? That's how Levinsky felt about it as he rushed from the Hotel Henry, where he's stopping, for a taxicab for the baseball park.

BABE RUTH LOST TO YANKS FOR LONG SPELL

BOSTON, April 24.—(AP.)—No matter where he is Babe Ruth can not escape the camera. Baseball's Sultan of Swat, laid low with a severely bruised hip, spent most of yesterday posing his injuries before the X-ray camera here at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

Dr. Francis Newton, the attending physician, used up scores of plates, almost as many as the news photographers devote to the Babe when he is cavorting on the diamond, and the late afternoon's supply revealed that the Babe's muscle and nerve injuries were becoming less marked.

OUT INDEFINITELY

Ruth, confined to a hospital for the first time since 1925, when he had a stomach ailment, is gradually becoming reconciled to such confinement. Since his admission, he has enjoyed the comforting presence of Mrs. Ruth and she has finally prevailed upon him to be philosophical.

The physician, a specialist on bone structure, has advised Ruth to remain in the hospital for five days more and then rest for several weeks. This plan meets with the approval of Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York Yankees, who ordered the Babe to remain idle until he was positive his injury was completely healed.

McCarthy fears that the bruise may develop into a chronic "charley horse," which would result in gradual disablement. Several of the Yankees recalled that Ruth suffered a somewhat similar injury in Chicago several years ago and expressed the opinion the old hurt was a contributory factor in the severity of the present one.

IN FINE SHAPE

Ruth was in splendid shape when he arrived here for Wednesday's game with the Boston Red Sox. He came to bat in the sixth inning. He smashed out two singles and a double on three trips to the plate and made three sensational catches of wind-blown flies in left field before he collided with Catcher Charley Berry on a dash to home plate and suffered the bruises that caused his leg to buckle under him while chasing a fly during the Red Sox' turn at bat.

"That's what you get for trying to avoid hurting another player," Ruth said today. "Fifteen years ago I would have slid spikes first into any catcher that tried to block me from the plate and I'd cut him to pieces if he didn't get out of my way."

Local Swimmers To Invade Buffalo

Tomorrow marks the second meeting of the representative swimming teams of the Downtown Branch, Pittsburgh, and that of the Buffalo Central, New York. This time the meet will be held in Buffalo. The local swimmers will leave tomorrow morning and arrive in Buffalo in time for the meet at 8:15 p. m.

In the last meeting the Downtown team was defeated, 30-28, by the Buffaloers.

Betty Nuthall Wins Over Elizabeth Ryan

LONDON, April 24.—(AP.)—Betty Nuthall, the English girl, who is women's tennis champion of the United States, today confounded those critics who said she was not playing good tennis by defeating Elizabeth Ryan, the former American star, in straight sets, 6-1, 6-3, in the semi-finals of the women's singles of the West Side Country Club invitation tournament at Ealing.

Between Rounds

Benny McArthur and Jimmy Reilly, McKeesport boxers, are on a fishing trip in Maryland. Benny's next start will be against either Buster Brown or Mike Sarrie at Hagerstown, Md., May 7.

Buddy McArthur, McKeesport lightheavyweight, is booked for two bouts next week. He meets Harry Williams, in the eight-round semi-final at the Garden on Monday night, and, on Thursday, boxes Red Barry, of Washington, D. C., in an eight-round main bout at Cumberland, Md. Frankie Reilly, of McKeesport, will box Young Kenny in a six-round preliminary of the latter show.

Promoter Jim McGirr, of McKeesport, looks for an entry of more than 100 boxers in his Greater Pittsburgh amateur championship tournament, Wednesday and Thursday nights of next week. The entries do not close until Monday, but more than 80 already are in line, including 24 from the Pittsburgh Lyceum, 16 from the Pittsburgh Boys' Club, 12 from the Al Sands Club, of Uniontown, 20 from the McKeesport A. C., and 10 from the Boylstein A. C., of Kittanning. The Burke A. C., of Johnstown, plans to enter upward of 10 boxers.

Pete Latzo, former welterweight champion, boxes Matt Adgie in the 10-round semi-final to the Harry Blitman-Lew Massey bout at the Arena in Philadelphia next Monday night. In three six-rounders, Tony Morgano boxes Lew Lafferty, Pinky Kaufman meets Johnny Hayes and Frankie Lazzeri engages Johnny Andrews.

Arthur Sharkey's wrestlers break into Erie tonight, show at the Castle Bowl in New Castle Monday and then return to Motor Square Garden here next Wednesday to complete the tour around the circuit. Five of the grapplers on the New Castle card will show here two nights later.

Mike Romano will be one of the principals in the windup at New Castle, with Taro Myoki, of Japan, as his foe, in the other bouts, Karl Pojello meets George Tragos, Billy Bartusch engages Tony Felice and Jack Washburn grapples with Ivan Zucturoff. At the Garden, Dick Shikat returns against Jim Clinstock, both having been on the opening bill, week before last; Jim McMillan, headliner in the first show, goes with Don Delaun, Felice meets Wladek Zbyszko, Romano is in with Tragos and Pojello hooks up with Zucturoff. The two top bouts are to a finish, the McMillen affair limited to 45 minutes and the preliminaries are 30-minute affairs.

JOE HAUSER DRILLS

BALTIMORE, April 24.—(AP.)—Joe Hauser, home run champion last year, who has been out with an injury since the International League season opened, was ordered back in uniform today for a slight workout.

YANKS FARM PAIR

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS.)—The New York Yankees have announced the release of Catcher Hank Karlon and Pitcher Ben Miner to the Albany club of the Eastern League on option.

BUNOLA PLANS STRONG FLAG CONTENDER

By TOM BIRKS

With the announcing of the Monongahela Valley League schedule, Secretary Joe Tabory of the upriver loop, states that some classy outfits will be out fighting for the title now held by the New Eagle Indians. It would appear that the latter club, still under the wing of Manager Joe Montana, is going to get plenty of keen competition from the other clubs.

With opening day only 10 days away, Manager John O'Hara, of the Patton club, of Bunola, has announced the team that will be doing its stuff in representing that town.

STARS ON ROSTER

O'Hara has been working hard scouting around to get the best material available on his roster for the season, and has gotten the signatures of the following to Bunola contracts: Arthur Codeluffi, Earl Nicholls, Pete Pavlock, Mike Kerzman, Johnny Popovich, Fernand Boisin, August Kalini, Louis Allegree, Steve Zurenda, John Heidrick, Joe Chomas, John Hynach, Eugene Allegree, Mike Crovak, Johnny Kozanick, Bob Lauder and John Balogh.

Most of the boys are holdovers from last season's classy team, Bob Lauder hails from Glassport, as does Johnny Balough, former Yankee and later mainstay of Keenie's Garage nine.

With a bunch of ball tossers of this type, Manager O'Hara feels that Patton is headed pennantwards. Bunola enjoyed its best season in 1929. That year found the Patton boys copping 29 games and only losing one.

SWISSVALE READY

The Swissvale Community nine of the West Penn League will open its season at Verona next Saturday, and is booking games home and abroad. The Community nine expects to compare with the best clubs in the district. Manager Walsh wants to book with the leading teams of the tri-state district. For games write Ed Walsh, 2035 Monro street, Swissvale, or call Brandywine 0106-J.

The Grantham Club, of Turtle Creek, is back on the diamond with a strong club. Teams in the light first class should get in touch with Manager Braden at 1016 Airbrake avenue, Wilmerding, or call Valley 1138-J.

Anderson Praised By Jesse Harper

WICHITA, Kan., April 24.—(AP.)—Jesse Harper, recently appointed director of athletics at Notre Dame, said today that full responsibility for direction of the football team next fall will rest on the shoulders of Heartley (Hunk) Anderson, senior coach.

Harper told the Associated Press he has "every confidence in Anderson's ability to carry on Knute Rockne's program."

BENEFIT SOCCER GAME

Dunlevy and the Scottish Stars will meet at Husher Field, Monessen, Sunday in a benefit game for Referee W. Williamson.

O'Doul, Frederick To Be Benched

NEW YORK, April 24.—(INS.)—Manager Wilbert Robinson, of the Brooklyn Dodgers, planned today to bench Outfielders Lefty O'Doul and Johnny Frederick, lefthanded batters, in the two remaining games of the series with the Boston Braves because of poor hitting. They probably will be replaced by Max Rosenfeld and Rube Bressler, who are righthanded hitters.

Six of Brooklyn's seven defeats have been inflicted by southpaw pitchers. Two more lefties, Sherdel and Brandt, are scheduled to face them in the next two games with Boston.

SWETONIC TO WED

Andy Swetonic, brother of Steve, Pirate pitcher, and himself a former baseball star, has taken out a marriage license to wed Margaret R. Polyrak, of the North Side. The ceremony will be performed in the Annunciation Church next Monday.

STAR ACCEPTS $12,500 OFFER

ST. LOUIS, April 24.—(AP.)—Charles (Chick) Hafey, heavy-hitting outfielder, today telegraphed President Sam Breadon, of the St. Louis Cardinals, that he would accept Cardinal terms and would leave for St. Louis from Berkeley, Cal., early next week.

The telegram from Hafey, who has been a persistent holdout, came less than a day before the expiration of the 10-day grace period, after which he would have been automatically suspended if he had not accepted terms. The outfielder will return to the National League champions at a salary of $12,500, an increase of $3,500 over last year. Hafey had asked $13,500.

The return of the Cardinals' chief gunner to the fold brought a feeling of relief to the club and St. Louis fans, for Hafey has been looked upon as one of the leading figures in the Cardinals' pennant conquests. His heavy hitting has pulled the Red Birds out of many a scrape and Manager Gabby Steet's men have watched anxiously for his return.

Hafey last year played in 120 games and had a batting average of .337. His 150 hits were good for 291 bases. They included 26 home runs, nine more than George Watkins, second Cardinal home run hitter, made.

CUBS DENY CUYLER DEAL

CHICAGO, April 24.—(A.P.)—William L. Veeck, president of the Chicago Cubs, denied a report current yesterday that the Cubs had traded Kiki Cuyler, star outfielder, for Chick Hafey, holdout outfielder, and Sylvester Johnson, pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Camp Bests Woods In Cue Tourney

NEW YORK, April 24.—(A.P.)—Marcel Camp, of Detroit, overwhelmed Arthur Woods, of Pawtucket, R. I., 125 to 30, in last night's game of the Strand Academy pocket billiard tournament. The game lasted six innings with Camp making a high run of 97 to 15 for Woods.

Camp is scheduled to meet Andrew Ponzi, of Philadelphia, today, while Ralph Greenleaf and Onofrio Lauri, of New York, meet in a night game.

SECTION V.

Beaver at Aliquippa.

SECTION IV.

Wilkinsburg at Scott.

SECTION V.

Turtle Creek at Mckeesport.

Westinghouse, of Section I, and Oliver, of Section II, hope to continue their undefeated paces in the City League campaign this afternoon. Westinghouse at the expense of Connelley and Oliver by riding over South Hills.

At the same time Schenley will endeavor to remain in a mathematical tie for the Section I lead with Westinghouse by defeating Peabody in a contest that appears to be the feature struggle of the day. Peabody won over Connelley, 8-0, Tuesday, with Pitcher Martin turning in a no-run, no-hit performance. Martin likely will face Schenley's batters today. Stratton figures to handle the hurling for the Bellefielders. Against Allderdice, Tuesday, he fanned 13 batsmen and won his game, 5 to 2.

MAY FORCE TIE

A victory for South Hills over Oliver will toss the Tunnelites into a tie for the Section II lead with the Brighton road entry. At the same time, Allegheny can make it a three-way deadlock by defeating Langley. Carrick can gain a 50-50 standing by taking over Vocational.

In the Junior section three games are on the card. Gladstone is host to Latimer, Washington Traders appear at Baxter, and Herron Hill takes on Liberty.

The three sections of the W. P. I. A. L. will see action today, four games being listed. In Section I, Carnegie and Mt. Lebanon go to bat at Mt. Lebanon and Crafton meets the tough McKees Rocks entry at the Rox.

The defending champions, Scott High, of North Braddock, begins defense of its title by meeting Elmer Carroll's formidable Wilkinsburg team on the Edgar Thomson Park diamond in Braddock. Wilkinsburg has played and won one game in league competition so far.

In Section V, Turtle Creek and McKeesport hook up at McKeesport.

Two interesting non-league tussles also are on the lists. Shady Side Academy's nine meets Edgewood at Edgewood, and the Duke Preps appear at Rankin against Jock Rosenberg's Rankin High nine.

TO HONOR SCOTT

A town meeting for the purpose of honoring the state basketball champions of Scott High will be held tonight in the Scott auditorium, North Braddock. Various civic leaders and town and school officials will speak.

Listed among the speakers are Lamont Hughes, president of the Carnegie Steel Company; O. J. H. Hartsuff, superintendent of the Edgar Thomson works; F. F. Slick and John Lloyd, Edgar Thomson works officials; Dr. H. Clifford Carlson, University of Pittsburgh basketball coach; E. A. Hering, L. J. Loughner, William C. Evans, Scott High principal, and others active in the community. F. DeWitt Zuerner, superintendent of schools, will act as master of ceremonies.

The "town meeting" committee will present each of the boys an order for a suit of clothes and other wearing apparel. Each boy and Coach Johnny Reed also will receive gold watches, the gift of an unknown donor.

Tonight, at New Castle, Phil Bridenbaugh's New Castle football team will meet Erie Academy High in a nocturnal spring tussle. The game is the first of its kind to be staged in New Castle. Graduate Manager of Athletics Ralph Gardner has announced a hefty advance sale of seats.

Expert Baseball Lessons

For Fans and Sandlot Players.

By WORLD CHAMPIONS.

No. 12—COACHING.

By "Kid" Gleason

WORLD CHAMPION COACH.

When they see coaches out there on the base lines jumping around, yelling, howling and going through a lot of funny motions, a lot of folks think they're next door to crazy men. But they're not. The coaches are just a part of the game and most of those funny motions and antics you laugh at have a really serious meaning that the players understand.

The coach on the base lines is the eyes of the attack. He's the chap responsible for the baserunners—responsible for getting them around safely; responsible for protecting them and seeing that they're not caught off bases or between the sacks. He's the telephone line between the bench, the base-runner and the hitter—a sort of human semaphore who signals the players so all will know just what is to be done.

If the manager wants a hitter to sacrifice, he tells the coach and the coach gives the signal. If there's a hit-and-run on, it's up to the coach to tell both the hitter and the runner. All that is done by a series of signals and those antics in the coacher's box are part of the signal system.

The chief asset for a coach is a good, keen pair of eyes and constant watchfulness. The good coach never takes his eyes off the ball or the play. Baserunners can't watch the play. Frequently it's directly behind them, and to try and watch it themselves would slow them down. That's where the coach comes in. He watches the play and the base-runner watches him. If the player is caught off base or between bases it's the coach's fault.

You don't need a whole lot of signals. One for the sacrifice, one for a steal, one for a hit-and-run and signals to tell the hitter when to hit and when to wait out the pitcher are about all you ever use. But those signals have to be a sort that can be easily distinguished by the players of your own side, yet complicated enough that they can't be guessed by opposing players.

Usually coachers signal with their arms or hands, occasionally they signal with their feet, more rarely they use certain words or inflections. But, regardless of the type, they all work the same way. And the first thing for a coach to do is to get his signals down pat. After that it's a question of watching the game.

THE END.

INDIANS TAKE SECOND PLACE

Associated Press.

The ballplayers who are trying to get their teams into the American League pennant race this year are inclined to fear the Cleveland Indians more than several other teams which the fans consider about as strong. And Cleveland's playing so far has shown they have a good reason for that fear.

Escaping the season's first general deluge of postponements yesterday, the Indians won their sixth game in nine starts to take undisputed possession of second place. Wesley Ferrell, star hurler of the fine Cleveland staff, gave the Chicago White Sox just five hits to win his third victory of the season by an 8-to-2 score. Behind him the Indians hit safely 13 times.

This was just one sample of how Cleveland has been going through the early games. Ferrell has hurled two full games and parts of two others, winning three and losing one. Brown, Harder and Hudlin also have given Cleveland some good hurling.

Yesterday's other game produced a tight battle between the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers, two teams which have shown signs of being dark horses in the pennant race but have not had much chance to display the degree of darkness. They have met five times so far out of six games for the Browns and eight for Detroit, and the standing between them is 3 to 2 for St. Louis despite yesterday's defeat.

Tom Bridges, the Tigers' recruit hurler, had the better of the mound duel with Southpaw Walter Stewart, who pitched his third full game of the season. Bridges allowed only four hits and Stewart five.

HOMESTEAD GIRL CHAMP

ERIE, April 24.—(AP.)—The Junior A. M. A. swimming championships for women were held at the Erie Y. W. C. A. last night, with a large field entered.

Pittsburgh district splashers made a creditable showing, with Miss Dornam, of Homestead Library, winning the 100-yard back stroke title and Miss Louttik, of Uniontown, the 100-yard breast stroke wreath.

All of the first four finishers in the 100-yard back stroke broke the old record for the distance. The old record was 1:36 4-5, set by Isabelle Matthews, P. A. A. The summary:

50-yard free style—First, Marose, Erie East High School; second, Beerlich, Erie Academy High; third, Daugherty, Homestead; fourth, Berger, Erie East. Time, 33 seconds flat.

100-yard back stroke—First, Dornam, Homestead; second, Pattnick, Homestead; third, Moore, Pittsburgh Y. M. H. A.; fourth, Clark, Pittsburgh Y. W. C. A. Time, 1 minute 26 3-10 seconds.

100-yard breast stroke—First, Louttik, Uniontown; second, Cutnell, Homestead; third, Hickey, Homestead; fourth, Vines, Homestead. Time, 1 minute 28 3-10 seconds.

DISTRICT TEAMS COMPETE IN PENN MEET

By JESS CARVER

Save for Carnegie Tech's track and field squad, the city and district have been deserted for the weekend by varsity and preparatory school athletic teams. Most of the boys are sojourning in Philadelphia, where they'll participate in the thirty-seventh annual relay carnival of the University of Pennsylvania. Others, golfers and tennisers, are also cavorting on foreign links and courts.

Pitt is represented in Philadelphia by Capt. Everett Utterback, the national intercollegiate indoor broad jump champion and record holder, and two relay teams. Carnegie Tech has its hurdle star, Tommy Coulter, oiled and primed for the very grueling 440-yard high hurdles. Geneva has a relay team and a couple individual performers at Franklin Field, and West Virginia has sent Russ Calloway, a hurdler; Charley Hill, weight star, and Gordon Fraser, sprinter, to the Penn event.

PREP SCHOOLS ENTERED

Both Shady Side Academy and Kiski have relay teams entered. Kiski is being represented by Johnny Kadlic, Jimmy Bell, Charley Schmitt, Bob Scallan, Eddie Eberts and Johnny Bettridge. Shady Side's squad consists of Miller, Howat, Stevenson, Vance, Oliver, Bydate and Graham.

Tomorrow Carnegie's trackers engage Western Reserve in a dual meet in the Tartan Bowl. The Skibos opened their campaign by downing the P. A. A. squad last week by a 13-point margin. Three or four school records were washed off the boards and new ones written thereon in this event. The chances are that tomorrow others may be set.

Prior to departing last night for Philadelphia, Coach Frank Shea, of Pitt, announced his relay lineups for tomorrow. In the quarter-mile event, Utterback, Vitulla, Monheim and Harris will run, in the order named. The mile quartet will be composed of Watkins, Vitulla, Monheim and Harris.

PITT TEAMS AWAY

Pitt's varsity golf team opens its season today by meeting George Washington University at Washington, D. C. Tomorrow the Panther mashie wielders take on Georgetown.

The Panther net squad, led by Capt. Eddie Jacobs, as No. 1 man, plays a return engagement with Bethany's varsity at Bethany this afternoon. Last week, here in the city, the locals whitewashed the Bison hopefuls.

England Advances In Davis Cup Play

PLYMOUTH, Eng., April 24.—(AP.)—England advanced to the second round of the European Zone Davis Cup tennis play today by taking the doubles match from Monaco and gaining a lead of three matches to none, a handicap Monaco cannot overcome.

Two singles matches remain to be played, but their result will have no bearing.

C. H. Kingsley and G. P. Hughes paired to gain the victory for England, defeating R. Gallepe and V. Landau, the Monaco doubles team, 6-0, 6-2, 6-0.

South America Play On Tomorrow

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 24.—(AP.)—The start of play in the South American zone Davis Cup final between Argentina and Chile has been postponed until tomorrow because of an injury to Elias Deik, one of the Chilean players. The matches were scheduled to begin today.

The winner will represent South America in the interzone meeting with the North American winner.

FIGHT RESULTS

At Philadelphia—Mickey Diamond defeated Ritchie Martell, 8 rounds.

MARKET MAKES SUBSTANTIAL RECOVERY

List Nervous in Early Trading, But Turns Up Later—Steel Fluctuates

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP.)—The selling flurry in the stock market appeared to have burned itself out today, and the list accomplished substantial recovery in dull trading.

The market showed some signs of nervousness in the early trading, when Westinghouse Electric, some of the oils and miscellaneous issues were offered rather freely, but the list turned upward before midday. The rails which dragged in the late rally yesterday, showed better recuperative power in spots.

U. S. Steel fluctuated uncertainly. Westinghouse dropped 4 to a new low since 1927 and Standard of New Jersey and Texas Corporation sold off about a point to new lows for the movement.

The week-end trade and business reviews reported little change. One of the mercantile reviews said the actual changes scored in trade were surprisingly small. Moody's monthly analysis of business conditions showed that its weighted index for March, unlike some similar compilations, scored no further gain over February, but nevertheless the analysis stated that this did not alter the belief that the very low levels centering around the turn of the year will prove to have been the bottom of the depression.

Although there had been some expectation that the Federal Reserve, after cutting its bill rate, presumably to check the flow of gold from France, might go a step further and reduce its rediscount rate to 1½ per cent, the fact that the rate was left unchanged caused no disappointpointment for the lower bill rate appears to be accomplishing its supposed purpose, and money is again about as cheap as it can be. Call loans were offered outside at 1 per cent.

The drop of only $5,000,000 in brokers' loans in a week of declining prices was interpreted as indicating that there had been considerable selling of investment stock, but that kind of selling is not the sort that has to culminate in a violent shakeout, so some observers feel that if the market drifts off into a period of extreme quiet, it will be a reassuring development.

Steel Subsidiary To Reopen Mill

NEW YORK, April 24.—The Colorado Fuel and Iron Company plans to reopen its rail mill at Pueblo, Col., soon to fill a $500,000 order from the Great Northern Railroad, according to reports in Wall street. The mill was closed early this year because of lack of business.

Eastern Refiners Cut Sugar Prices

NEW YORK, April 24.—Eastern sugar refiners today reduced the price of the refined product 10 points to 4.40 cents a pound. The move was led by American Sugar Refining Company and National Sugar.

Jones & Laughlin Blows in Furnace

Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation has blown in one of its "Eliza" stacks, giving the corporation six active furnaces compared with three at the beginning of the year.

Magnolia Follows Humble Oil Cuts

DALLAS, Tex., April 24.—Magnolia Petroleum Company has met the reductions in Texas crude oil prices posted April 21 by Humble Oil and Refining Company.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, April 24.—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 11 to 13 points. The buying was fairly active, but it was supplied in liquidation or realizing, around 10.18c for May and 10.80c for July, with the market later showing reactions of 2 or 3 points from the best.

The market showed very little change later in the morning. At midday May was selling around 10.16 and October 10.78, or 10 to 11 points net higher.

GRAIN MARKET

CHICAGO, April 24.—Crop deterioration reports from Kansas and unexpected firmness of Liverpool wheat quotations led to early upturns today in grain prices here. Absence of any important amount of moisture in spring wheat territory was also a bullish factor. Opening at a shade decline to 5/8c advance, wheat later held near to the initial limits. Corn started 1/8 off to 1/4 up, and subsequently showed all-around gains.

MAE MURRAY LOSES IN COURT

FRESNO, Cal., April 24.—(AP)—A ruling of a Los Angeles court giving Mae Murray, film actress, judgment of $32,295 against Jack Donovan, Los Angeles architect, was reversed by the Fourth District Appellate Court.

Miss Murray brought the action against Donovan and his mother, Mrs. Jeannette Donovan, for alleged misrepresentation in the sale of a residence at Los Angeles for $50,000.

Miss Murray charged that while numerous pieces of furniture in the home were represented as antiques and ancient heirlooms of the Donovan family, they were nothing more than cheap imitations. She further alleged the construction and architectural qualities of the residence were grossly exaggerated.

NOTED X-RAY MAKER DIES

COVINGTON, Ky., April 24.—(AP)—J. Robert Kelley, 60, president of the Kelley-Koett X-Ray Manufacturing Company, Covington, died at his home last night after a long illness.

Known throughout the medical world for the X-rays he manufactured, the malady which afflicted him was believed to have been contracted during the days of his experiments. During his earlier years of investigation, he received many burns which caused him intense suffering throughout his later life.

Born in Thessalia, Giles County, Va., November 17, 1871, at the age of 20 he became a telegrapher.

Kelley later visioned great possibilities in the discovery of the X-ray by Roentgen, and devoted much of his time to experimental work. In 1902 he came to Covington and opened a small X-ray shop which was destined to become one of the largest of its kind in the United States.

BUILDERS MUST REPAY BUYER

Three officers of the General Homes Corporation, David Hammond, of Wilkinsburg, and Arthur L. Brown and D. E. Walker, of Beechview, found guilty recently in Criminal Court of defrauding Samuel Toia out of $2,600, were sentenced by Visiting Judge E. M. Biddle, of Cumberland County, to make complete restitution to Toia within three months. If they fail to do so, the judge said, he will impose sentences.

It was testified Toia had paid the amount on a house which the corporation was to construct for him, and which he never got.

School Marks Low, Boy, 18, Kills Self

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 24.—(AP)—Temporarily suspended from high school here because he was below in his studies, Jack Sauers, 18, yesterday shot and killed himself. According to the high school principal, Joseph Hays, Sauers probably would not have been graduated this year although it was his fifth in the school.

IMMIGRATION MUCH REDUCED

WASHINGTON, April 24.—(AP)—Less than three-tenths of the immigrants admissible to the United States under the quota provisions of the immigration act were given entrance visas during the first nine months of the present fiscal year.

The State Department published a compilation of consular reports, most of them giving figures down to March 31, showing that of 153,714 quota visas issuable for the fiscal year ending June 30, only 44,490 had been granted, including 19,268 to immigrants of preferred classifications.

The small number issued was due largely to rigid application by American consular officers of provisions of the law authorizing them to exclude would-be immigrants likely to become public charges.

Great Britain and Ireland, with the largest quota, 65,721, had used up only 10,090, less than one-sixth the allotment, by the end of March. Of the German quota, 25,957, the second largest, only 9,123 visas had been issued.

ALL MACHINERY IMPORTANT ON POLAR SUB

Leaders to Keep Constant Watch in Operating Room To Avert Perilous Errors

By HERMAN GIESKE

YONKERS, N. Y., April 24.—If anything goes wrong in the trans-polar submarine Nautilus, it is instantly reflected in the "C. O. C."—or main operating chamber of the vessel.

Here is gathered a bewildering maze of machinery. There are gauges, valves, dials, wheels, electrical switches, pipes and insulated wires in such profusion as to look like an inexplicable maze. Yet every bit of machinery has its particular function. Misuse or carelessness by a manipulator might easily bring disaster and death to Sir Hubert Wilkins and his companions.

While the submarine is in motion under the water, either Capt. Sloan Danenhower, Chief Officer Ike Schlossbach, or Diving Master Elwood Hanson will be constantly on duty.

MUST ACT QUICKLY

The instant anything goes wrong, and many things can go wrong, a man of understanding must be there, ready to act. From this compartment runs a dictograph system to every member of the Nautilus. Capt. Danenhower, standing there, can have his voice echoed at will in any compartment. Speaking in natural tones, he can be heard in the engine room, the forward diving compartment, the cook's galley, or the scientists' laboratory.

In the C. O. C. are gathered the marvelous gyro compass, by which the Nautilus expects to steer correctly at the North Pole; The main battery controls, operating either port or starboard propellers, or both, at a given speed; the huge Kingston valves, by which water ballast is admitted to enable the Nautilus to descend lower in the water; and the air manifolds, by which the water ballast may be forced out, permitting the vessel to rise.

LEEWAY PROVIDED

Most of the traveling under the polar crust will be at a depth of 30 to 60 feet. This is to give the vessel leeway for operating just as a dirigible would operate in the air. Should she strike a fresh water pocket, she would drop like a plummet just as a dirigible would drop in an air pocket. Should too much water be forced from the ballast tanks, the Nautilus would rise like a bubble and strike the ice above with terrific impact, perhaps ripping her hull and causing her to founder.

In the C. O. C. also are the periscope, by which those in the chamber can see what's overhead; an eight-inch ice-boring machine through which air will be admitted for charging batteries, and "Metal Mike," the automatic robot steersman, who keeps the vessel on her course by constant contact with a gyro compass.

One man stands with his eyes glued on the depth gauge, a dial 18 inches in diameter, for if a submarine starts down, from too much ballast, she may plunge swiftly to a terrific depth. One man watches the diving rudder, by which the vessel's prow is elevated or lowered. Should the bow get down too far, the Nautilus might make a catastrophic dive to the Arctic deeps.

Hence there is always the highest state of tension in the C. O. C. The Nautilus must be kept on an even keel as she feels her way, at three knots an hour, on her long, uncharted track across the Arctic Ocean.

Tax Commissioner In Wisconsin Dies

MADISON, Wis., April 24.—(INS.)—Nils P. Haugen, 83, tax commissioner of Wisconsin for 21 years and the first candidate for governor under the LaFollette movement, died at his home here. In the early part of his career Haugen served as congressman from Northern Wisconsin. He claimed to be the first public official in the state to use a typewriter.

Wife of Former W. Va. Warden Dies

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., April 24.—After a brief illness, Mrs. Eleanor C. Robinson, 59, wife of Dr. L. M. Robinson, former warden of the Moundsville Penitentiary and former member of the state House of Delegates in which he was Republican floor leader, died at her home here. She was a native of Indianapolis. For years she was prominent in social service work.

Motorist Held In Death of Man

GREENSBURG, Pa., April 24.—Adam J. Spatz, Jr., 30, Sinking Springs, York County, Pa., arrested by state police as driver of an automobile which ran down and fatally injured Frank Kolaric, 39, of Ligonier Township, on Lincoln Highway, east of here, April 6, was held under $2,000 bond for court on charge of involuntary manslaughter following a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. A. Walton here.

Pennsy Assigns Big Tender Here

Pennsylvania Railroad officials have assigned to the Central region in Pittsburgh one of the largest tenders ever attached to a passenger locomotive. It is 55 feet 5¼ inches long, 14 feet 11½ inches high, has a capacity of 25 tons of coal and 25,000 gallons of water, and weighs 142,180 pounds. It will be attached to engines hauling Blue Ribbon trains through this district.

Five Tech Students Win Scholarships

The Pittsburgh Builders Exchange at a luncheon in the Keystone Athletic Association yesterday awarded scholarships to five students of the School of Building Construction, Carnegie Institute of Technology. Winners were Harold D. Gableman, of Webster Grove, Mo.; Abe S. Eisen, of Richmond, Va., and James A. Krebs, of Pittsburgh, seniors, each awarded scholarship funds of $75; Charles Looney, of Lawton, Okla., junior, $45, and Irvin Fritz, of Reading, a sophomore, $30.

PICKERINGS SAY.... GOOD-BYE! Quitting The Furniture Business Forever!

After 59 years in the furniture business, we are saying "good-bye" in preparation to closing our doors forever. It is a sale without a precedent! Everything in this 12-story store and our warehouse must be turned into cash immediately. As soon as our stocks on hand can be sold, this great sale will end—and Pickering's will be remembered as the store whose last sale was the greatest sale in the history of Pittsburgh.

One Thing Is Not For Sale

Although we are engaged in the greatest close-out of furniture Pittsburgh has ever seen, and although everything in our store and warehouse must be sold immediately, one thing is not for sale—our good name.

Throughout the 59 years we have been in business, the faith and honor of this institution have been considered above everything else. We have held fast to fundamental principles of honesty and square-dealing—and we are going to close our career as we began—with the confidence of our friends.

As the day draws nearer when we will close our doors forever, we again wish to thank the people of this city for the faith they have had in us.

FOUR TEMPTING HEALTH-RECIPES

THE familiar red-and-green ALL-BRAN package has four famous recipes for hot breads printed upon it. Muffins. Griddle Cakes. Brown Bread. And ALL-BRAN Bread. Each of these recipes has been tried successfully by thousands of housewives.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN brings roughage to hot breads. Without this vital bulk in the diet, constipation is likely to occur.

Yet constipation is so easy to prevent. Two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily are guaranteed to prevent and relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

How much safer than using habit-forming pills and drugs. ALL-BRAN also provides needed iron for the body. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

HOLLYWOOD AND GOTHAM LIFE IN REVIEW; LOCAL AMUSEMENT NOTES

Dolores Del Rio May Star In 'Bird of Paradise' On Talk Screen

By HARRISON CARROLL

(Copyright, 1931, by Premier Syndicate.)

HOLLYWOOD, April 24.

A most exciting rumor comes my way—that Dolores Del Rio will be starred in "The Bird of Paradise."

Radio Pictures are said to have acquired the rights to the melodrama, which has been tied up by litigation for a number of years. They plan to make it into a special with Dolores in the Laurette Taylor stage role.

First produced in 1912, the play made a fortune for Richard Walton Tully, whose authorship later was challenged in a series of bitter legal actions.

Dolores del Rio

The melodrama has been the model for dozens of other stories of the South Seas, none of which have achieved an equal success.

Immediate production is not likely as Dolores must go to Paramount for "The Rose of the Rancho" and already is booked for "The Dove" at R-K-O.

NEW ONE FOR MARY

Hollywood's busiest commuter, William Le Baron, wires from New York that Mary Astor will star next in "Daughters of Joy," an original by John Howard Lawson, whose contract with R-K-O allows him to write his stories in the East. While no director is selected as yet, Mel Brown is the likely choice. He stands in favor with Radio officials for his direction of "White Shoulders," Mary's current picture.

LATEST GOSSIP

A sufferer from cronic insomnia, Edna May Oliver has tried dozens of homes in search of quiet. Recently she bought a house in Beverly Hills, but discovered that mocking birds and frogs in the pond kept her awake at night. Her only relief is to sleep with wax plugs in her ears. She buys them in large lots from a Boston firm . . . Dolores Ethel Mae Barrymore, who celebrated her first birthday on April 9, has learned to walk and will accompany her famous parents on a two weeks' yachting trip. Barrymore, a great fisherman, has increased his equipment by a two-ounce tackle, which is so delicate that it sometimes takes two hours to land an eight-inch mackerel. . . . The Rupert Hugheses will be back here May 15. When they are in Hollywood, no first night is complete without them . . . Speaking of first nights, half the film colony turned out in homage to Mrs. Leslie Carter's return to the stage in "The Shanghai Gesture." The veteran actress received one of the most heart-warming welcomes in local foothight annals. Mary Duncan, who created the role of Poppy in the Colton melodrama, was among those in the audience . . . Once a Biograph star, Gertrude Robinson now acts as a 'stand-in' for Betty Compson. This actress was the first Mrs. James Kirkwood . . . Apparently, the tiff between John Considine and Joan Bennett is still on. The young Fox executive is paying attention these days to Maureen O'Sullivan . . . Madge Bellamy, one time star, will write a series of articles on Europe for a New York newspaper. Madge doesn't have to worry about the movies now. Her beach property is in the Venice oil fields.

Betty Compson

SYDNEY FOXE IN IT

Hollywood is being kind to Sydney Foxe, Young Broadway actress, who came out here under contract to Universal. Several good parts have come her way, and now she is to play opposite Robert Armstrong in "The Whole Town's Talking." You may recall this as Anita Loos' and John Emerson's story of a small-town boy who falls in love with a film star's picture, and then meets the original. Miss Foxe will play the film star. This remarkable young lady was writing a column of advice to the lovelorn at the age of 16.

Plays, Players and By-Play

By WILLIAM J. LEWIS

The hero of "On the Spot" next week's bill in the Alvin is a gangster who plays the organ. He must be pretty terrible at it, too, for they keep trying to present him with a pineapple, as a bomb is called in the best circles of gangdom. Now if he were only a sax player—well, let it pass. Mr. Crane Wilbur will be the organist when he isn't a beer peer. Matinees, as matinees in this house are so apt to do, will fall on Wednesday and Saturday.

Small Timer says it's high time low skirts came back, as there are a multitude of shins it would be a real charity to cover.

* * *

Time and space have been calculated with Einstein exactness for the presentation of "Strange Interlude" by the George Sharp Players in the Pitt next week. In the matter of space, nine acts will impinge upon six scenes. Time will be calculated upon such fixations as 11 a. m. until 5 p. m. for Thursday and Saturday matinees, and 5:45 until 11:15 p. m. for nocturnal shows, with an hour and 20 minutes allowance in each case for revictualing. There is relativity for you in a nutshell.

Can it be said of the peroxide blondes of the chorus that money goes to their heads?

Maurice Schwartz and his Yiddish Art Theater company will play the Nixon for one night next week, same being Wednesday. "Uncle Moses," Jewish-American comedy, will be presented by a company of 20. Now you know it—acting IS a business.

Troubles of the theater are at an end—because the season is.

WILL SHAKESPEARE HAS A BIRTHDAY TREAT IN 'MACBETH'

By GEORGE SEIBEL

In sooth, said Will Shakespeare at 11 o'clock last night, the wreath they put on my head did not keep me warm upon my pedestal in front of the Carnegie Library, and 'twas my birthday, and no Mermaid Tavern to cheer me with sack or small beer, so I did hie me to the theater of the Tech School to see what the Drama Department might do with my lamentable tragedy of "Macbeth."

George Seibel

Marry, it was well done. They had arranged the stage very much like our Elizabethan stages at the Curtain and the Swan and the Globe, though there was no apron to jut out into the audience and no young lordlings sitting at the side of the scene. A wight by the name of B. Iden Payne had done this, and it enabled him to have the tragedy played without any cuts. Which is well done, for the play as ye have it is a stage version and was cut as much as it should be.

THE BURBAGE ROLE

The part of Macbeth was well done likewise by a wight named Leo Daschbach. I would that Dick Burbage could have seen him, for this was the part Dick played. This Daschbach knows how to speak my lines and does not mumble them as some others do.

My Witches were also well taken, especially the Third Witch who was Ella Haith methinks. And McClellan Shinn who played Siward had an excellent delivery. And Pauline Bauersmith was a worthy Lady Macbeth, though she showeth not the stony soul of a murderess. And Frances Heckert was such a fair Lady Macduff that 'twas a pity to murder her. I must rewrite that scene and let her escape.

WHAT PLEASED HIM MOST

What pleased me most, I must confess, was the cauldron scene of my witches. When I saw that played so capitally, I was proud to be the author of the piece. And though the soldiers did not fight with the fury of Elizabethan warriors, I was well pleased that all wore Elizabethan garments in honor of my natal day. The Macduff, who was well taken by Clancy Cooper, even looked a bit like that rogue Francis Bacon ruff and all. It really rejoiced my heart, and it has been the pleasantest birthday I've had in years, and I returned to my pedestal in front of the Library and put my wreath on awry as if I had been all night at the Mermaid with Ben and the rest. And I'm warmed by the thought that this tragedy of "Macbeth," which I did write, is still worthy of the players. Would that Dick Burbage could have seen it!

Promise

Some day I know that I will nurse regret
For all my vagrant days and fevered nights;
The primrose path hides many a silken net—
To trip the weak half-blinded by the lights;
Some day, the gold that I have freely spent,
Will mock the lad who flung it carelessly,
And I will sob and bitterly repent
The wastrel years that took so much from me.

But now, since wine and lips are crimson red,
I've very little time for morbid fears;
The game is on—the kitty must be fed,
So why be burdened down with futile tears?

(I know my ways will bring me endless sorrow—
But I will change—I swear I'll change—Tomorrow!)
—Don Wahn.

The Not So Merry Magdalens

In the Broadway show shops and cabarets when a chorus girl misses a number, the stage manager bars her from appearing during the rest of the show. Then she is fined. If a chorine cannot prove she was ill, and she misses a performance, she is not only fined about $5, but they make her miss another show so they can double the fine and so she will "feel" it.

Which is a pip of a time to relate that one about the beautiful but numb thing appearing in a "Vanities." She missed several performances and the stage manager cautioned her that if she did it again, she would be discharged.

The following week she overslept and missed a matinee. So she telegraphed the stage manager as follows:

"Dear Mr. Cody: I'm so sorry I missed today's matinee but I was suddenly stricken with appendicitis. However, I will be around for this evening's performance."

By Golly!

George Jessel's expert toastmastering at recent functions was masterful, and the Street is talking about Jessel's breezy speeches. No matter what the occasion, a benefit, a dinner or a funeral, Jessel says the right thing. One lad said last night:

"He surprised me. That boy is knocking 'em dead. He reads a lot, you know."

"What? Variety and Zit's?"

The comeback was:

"Say! He's a big Saturday Evening Post man, too!"

SECOND MARNE BIG VICTORY FOR ALLIES

equality in the number of battalions at least, and, in a more general sense, in the number of combatants, though superiority in the total number of divisions is not yet on our side.

American Forces Grow

"The Germans have been compelled to throw so many divisions into action that, for the first time, we have a superiority in reserves; and also, owing to the large number of exhausted divisions which they will be compelled to relieve from the battle front, we shall likewise have a superiority in the number of fresh reserves.

"Moreover, all available information is in agreement as to the enemy being reduced to the state of having to have two armies—an army for occupying the line, reduced in strength and condemned to be sacrificed; and a shock army, maneuvering behind the flimsy protection of the other. This shock army, though trained with the utmost care by the German high command, has been already greatly weakened.

"In addition, the Allies have a material superiority in aviation, which is beyond dispute; also in tanks. In artillery our advantage is bound to be increased when and as the American artillery arrives.

"Finally, in the rear of the Allied armies, the powerful reserve of the American forces pours 250,000 men every month onto the soil of France, while on the enemy's side, we know the urgent measures which he has been forced to take in order to meet the crisis in the supply of men for the month of May; and it is apparent that, owing to the difficulty which the Germans find in keeping up the strength of their various units at the front, a new crisis is now asserting itself.

"In addition to all these indications that the factor of "material force" is veering around in our favor there can be added the moral ascendancy which has been maintained on our side from the beginning of the battle, owing to the fact that the enemy, despite his unprecedented efforts, has been unable to bring about the decisive result he must attain. And this moral ascendancy has been increased by the victory won by the Allied armies.

At Turning Point

"These armies, therefore, have arrived at the turning point of the road. They have recovered in full tide of battle the initiative of operations; their numbers permit and the principles of war command them to keep this initiative.

"The moment has come to abandon the general defensive attitude forced upon us until now by numerical inferiority and to pass to the offensive.

"III. This offensive — while not seeking a decision—should consist of a series of movements to be undertaken immediately, and having for their object results favorable to:

"1. The further development of the operations, and,

2. The economic life of the country.

"They will also serve to keep the fighting initiative on the side of the Allies.

"These movements should be executed with such rapidity as to inflict upon the enemy a succession of blows. This condition necessarily limits their extent. Their extent will likewise be limited by the small number of units at the disposal of the Allies for these offensives after four months of battle.

"Keeping these considerations in mind, the program of offensive actions to be executed without delay can be established as follows:

Seeks to Free Railways

"(a) The freeing of the Paris-Avricourt railway line, in the Marne region; this is the minimum result to be obtained from the offensive movement now going on.

"(c) The clearing of the Paris-Avricourt railway line in the region around Commercy, by reducing the Saint-Mihiel salient, an operation which should be prepared without delay and carried out by the American Army, as soon as it has the necessary means.

"2. Operations having as their objective to clear the mining region of the north and drive the enemy once for all from the vicinity of Dunkirk and Calais.

"These operations presuppose two attacks, which may be carried out separately or conjointly.

"As previously stated, these actions must succeed each other at brief intervals, so as to embarrass the enemy in the utilization of his reserves and not allow him sufficient time to fill up his units.

Warns Against Surprise

"IV. It is impossible to foretell at present where the different operations outlined above will lead us, either in the matter of time or space. Nevertheless, if the objects they have in view are attained before the season is too far advanced, there is reason for assuming now that an important offensive movement such as will increase our advantages and leave no respite to the enemy will be launched toward the end of the summer or during the autumn.

"It is still too early to be more precise in regard to this offensive.

"V. Finally, it must be borne in mind that either for the purpose of freeing himself from our pressure or for economizing manpower, in the course of these operations the enemy may be compelled to execute a series of retrograde movements to shorter lines prepared in advance. If this should happen, the Allied armies must not be taken by surprise.

Commanders Approve

On July 24th, while the victorious battle of Tardenois was in progress, the commanders-in-chief of the Allied Armies—Field Marshal Haig, Gen. Petain and Gen. Pershing—were assembled at Bombon in order to examine with me the possibilities presented by the future.

I requested my chief of staff, Gen. Weygand, to read the memorandum quoted above, and I must admit that it seemed to excite in them a considerable surprise by reason of its ambitious nature, its magnitude and the number of operations it contemplated.

FIELD MARSHAL HAIG: The British Army entirely disorganized by the events of March and April, is still far from being re-established.

GEN. PETAIN: The French Army, after four years of war and the severest trials, is at present worn out, bled white, anemic.

GEN. PERSHING: The American Army asks nothing better than to fight, but it has not yet been formed.

How then, under such conditions, were we to contemplate the possibility of carrying out a succession of offensives, each on a considerable scale?

While recognizing the justice of each of these observations, I insisted that I had given due weight to the temporary weaknesses mentioned and I urged the fact that a proper combination of our forces would make the contemplated program practicable, especially as we could carry it out at a pace which I would fix as circumstances arose—my idea being to hasten it or slow it up according to the success obtained as we went along.

The commanders-in-chief offered no formal objections. When they left me, they took with them the text of this note of July 24th, and the following day they gave it their full approval, accepting in principle the projected operations.

Roosevelt Signs Bill to Protect Actors

ALBANY, N. Y., April 24.—(AP.)—Gov. Roosevelt has signed a bill eliminating the word "actor" from a subdivision of the penal law dealing with improper plays. The act made it unlikely any actor would be arrested unless he was playing a part "offensive or violative of public decency."

The Governor said wholesale arrest of a cast was questionable and that provision was made in another part of the law for prosecution of actual offenders.

JACK, ESTELLE STILL 'SPAR'

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—(INS.)—Another conference loomed today between attorneys for Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor in an effort to break the deadlock existing in their respective divorce plans.

Since the previous parley at San Francisco, Attorney Joe Scott, representing Miss Taylor, and Jack's attorney, Dr. Robert Burns, have been sparring at long distance.

Scott yesterday conversed with Burns at Reno, but reached no agreement upon various problems in the proposed settlement and divorce.

It was said to be likely that Burns will go to Los Angeles or Scott will journey to Reno in an effort to effect an agreement.

Mexico Must Pay For Villa's Home

MEXICO CITY, April 24.—(AP.)—The Supreme Court today notified President Ortiz Rubio that the government would have to pay the original owners for two large haciendas, in Durango, which were confiscated in 1923 and given to Pancho Villa under the terms of the guerilla chieftain's withdrawal from public life.

WHITNEY WARNS INVESTMENT TRUSTS

N. Y. Exchange President Cites 'Possible Dangers' Of 'Unsound Practices'

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—(AP.)—Richard Whitney, president of the New York Stock Exchange, told the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce today that the exchange was considering what action it should take to draw the public's attention to the "possible dangers connected with fixed investment trusts."

"In fact," he said, "the necessity is so great, I am confident some action will be taken in the near future."

This is the first time that an official of the exchange has publicly discussed this comparatively new method of security distribution which has grown rapidly in the past year.

HINTS DRASTIC ACTION

Mr. Whitney's topic was "Business Honesty." In addition to a critical discussion of fixed trust practices, he announced that the exchange was prepared to take drastic action against corporations which indulge in unsound accounting practices.

"No person who has carefully examined and analyzed fixed investment trusts," he asserted, "can be unaware of the fact that many trusts have featured which do not properly protect investors and that some are offered in a manner which does not disclose the true amount which the public is paying for this type of investment."

Mr. Whitney criticized methods used in determining the cost of trust certificates to the investor, particularly the "loading" charge, which is the percentage added to the cost of the underlying stocks to cover distribution expenses and profit to the underwriter.

PRICE METHODS HIT

The public, he said, did not realize that "in most cases the percentage is based on the offering price and not on the cost of the underlying property," and added that although the investor thinks he is paying a definite per cent more than the cost of the property "he is actually paying a larger sum."

Among the features of fixed trusts which Mr. Whitney found objectionable was "the supposed statement of past performances."

"Most fixed trust certificates are offered with a statement of what would have happened if an investor had bought these trust certificates five, 10 or 15 years before. . . . I doubt very much whether any of us would have bought in 1900 the securities which are today considered eligible for a fixed investment trust portfolio."

"Besites, dot Veenchill is a liah! I deedn't sad you deedn't cum humm for four nights—I sad tree nights!"

By Way of Report

Last night one of the Broadwayokels was complaining bitterly about night life in New York. He told how he preferred the sawdust type of speakeasy, where the patrons may be drunk, boisterous and sloppy, but they rarely curse or fool around the other fellow's girl. They have good speakeasy manners. The chap said:

"In one of those dives I had a good time for a reasonable tariff. It was an old fashioned barroom, red and white checkered tablecloths on the ugly tables, it smelled of beer, but there were no fights and nobody annoyed me or my girl friend.

"Later I went to one of those fashionable speakeasies where 'gentlemen' in evening dress lost no time trying to steal my gal. There was a fight and the men cursed loudly, the liquor was lousy and I was short-changed out of eight dollars!"

Merciless Truth

Stanley Sharpe, who for a long spell served Mr. Ziegfeld as general manager, produced his first play the other night.

The following evening a group of mutual friends gathered in a restaurant and discussed it. A critic friend of Sharpe's said:

"Gee, it is tough sometimes having to sit in judgment on shows produced by friends. Take that play by Sharpe. I had to pan it—and he's one of my best friends."

Another snapped:

Capsule Criticism

The New Haven Register's drama defender says of a new play trying out there that a puppy is brought into the show, and concludes:

No Dramatics

One of the few "novelties" in the Broadway area is a blind newsdealer at Fifty-fifth street and Seventh avenue, on the southeast corner. He is there at midnight.

He is most sensitive about his blindness, it appears, and will not let you know he is sightless. A friend suggested he could make more coin if he put up a sign reading: "I am blind!" But he strenuously objected:

"That would be hokum, and Broadway has enough of that. I can tell a $5 bill from a ten or twenty, anyway!"

Swifty

Take it from Morton Irish, a celebrated actress once was enraged at some of John Barrymore's vagaries. She stormed off the set with the ringing announcement that she would never act with him again.

Barrymore cast a wearied glance after her and murmured:

A Form of Criticism

Harry Bestry, the booking agent with the Brill Brothers' figure, was talking shop in Reuben's again last night, and he tried to sell a vaudeville act to a producer of a current musical show. Bestry said:

"They played the Palace a couple of weeks ago, and went over big."

"I know, that's a great idea. They are doing nearly all the jokes out of my show—so they won't have to rehearse!"

As If We Didn't Know

NO. 174.

AN ORDINANCE Authorizing and directing an increase of the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh in the sum of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars, and providing for the issue of bonds of said City in said amount to provide funds for furnishing supplies, materials, equipment, skilled labor and supervision for improvement generally of streets, parks, playgrounds, sewers, etc., the labor to be furnished by the Allegheny County Emergency Association, and providing for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon.

SECTION 1. Be it ordained and enacted by the City of Pittsburgh, in Council assembled, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by the authority of the same. That the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh be increased by the amount of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars, to provide funds for furnishing supplies, materials, equipment, skilled labor and supervision for improvement generally of streets, parks, playgrounds, sewers, etc., the labor to be furnished by the Allegheny County Emergency Association and providing for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of interest thereon.

SECTION 2. That bonds of the City of Pittsburgh in the aggregate principal amount of ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ($100,000.00) DOLLARS be issued for the purposes aforesaid. Said bonds shall be in denominations of ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS or multiples thereof, shall be dated as of the first day of April, 1931; and shall be payable in Ten (10) equal annual installments of TEN THOUSAND ($10,000.00) DOLLARS EACH, one of which shall mature on the first day of April in each of the years 1932 to 1941, inclusive. Said bonds shall bear interest at the rate of four and one-quarter per centum (4¼%) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of April and October in each year, without deduction for any taxes which may be levied thereon by the State of Pennsylvania pursuant to any present or future law for the payment whereof the City is assumed by the City of Pittsburgh. The principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable in lawful money of the United States of America at the office of the City Treasurer of said City. Said bonds shall be in coupon bonds, exchangeable at the option of the holder for a registered bond or bonds of the same maturity and of the denomination of ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS or a multiple thereof, but not exceeding the aggregate principal amount of the coupon bonds surrendered in exchange therefor, by surrendering such coupon bond or bonds with all coupons not yet due, at the office of the City Controller, and the City Controller is hereby authorized and directed to cause to be engraved and registered bonds to be engraved and to issue the same in the name of the City of Pittsburgh, the expense to be charged to Appropriation No. 42 Contingent Fund. Registered bonds shall be registered with the City Treasurer, and shall be transferable only on the books of the said City Treasurer. Said bonds shall be signed by the Mayor, countersigned by the City Controller and sealed with the corporate seal of the City of Pittsburgh, and the coupons attached thereto shall be authenticated with facsimile signature of the City Controller. In case of the absence or disability of any of such officials, the bonds shall be signed by the official authorized by law or by resolution of Council to act in his place. Each of said bonds shall be known and designated as GENERAL IMPROVEMENT BOND, 1931.

SECTION 3. That said bonds shall be sold by the Mayor and the City Controller, at not less than par and accrued interest, after giving such notice of sale as may be required by law.

SECTION 4. That until said bonds, issued as herein provided, shall be fully paid, there is hereby levied and assessed annually upon all subjects now by law liable to taxation for the purpose, an assessment for taxation for city purposes, an annual tax, commencing the first year after said debt shall have been increased or incurred, namely the year 1932, sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds as the same shall accrue and become payable, and any tax on said interest which by the terms of said bonds is assumed by the City and also an annual tax commencing in the said year sufficient to pay the total amount of said bonds hereby authorized, to be set apart as a sinking fund for the payment of the principal and redemption of said bonds as they become due and payable as the law directs, and the same is hereby appropriated out of the revenue of said City for the payment and redemption aforesaid.

SECTION 5. That all bonds issued by the authority of this Ordinance and the Acts of Assembly authorizing the same shall be and become part of the funded debt of the City of Pittsburgh, and shall be entitled to all the rights, privileges and immunities thereof, and shall be free from taxation, as aforesaid, and for the payment of the principal of said bonds and the interest thereon semi-annually as the same shall become due, the faith, honor, credit and property of said City are hereby pledged.

SECTION 6. That the form of coupon bonds agreed upon in pursuance of this Ordinance shall be substantially as follows:

No. . . . . No. . . . . .

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
CITY OF PITTSBURGH
GENERAL IMPROVEMENT BOND, 1931

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS, That the City of Pittsburgh, a municipal corporation, created by and existing under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, is indebted to . . . . . in the sum of . . . . . Dollars ($. . . . .), lawful money of the United States of America, which sum the said City of Pittsburgh promises to pay to the said . . . . . or legal representatives or assigns, at the office of the City Treasurer of said City on the first day of April, A. D. . . . . with interest thereon from the date hereof at the rate of four and one-quarter per centum (4¼%) per annum, payable semi-annually to the bearer of the annexed coupons at the time and place therein specified without deduction for any taxes which may be levied thereon by the State of Pennsylvania pursuant to any present or future law for the payment whereof the City is assumed by the City of Pittsburgh. And for the true and faithful payment of the principal of this bond and the semi-annual interest thereon, as aforesaid, the faith, honor, credit and property of the said City of Pittsburgh are hereby pledged.

Any one or more of the coupon bonds of the series of which this is one may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged at any time for a registered bond or bonds of the same maturity and of the denomination of ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS, or a multiple thereof, not exceeding the aggregate principal amount of the coupon bonds surrendered in exchange therefor, by surrendering such coupon bond or bonds with all coupons not due at the office of the City Controller, and the said bonds shall be transferable only on the books of the said City Treasurer.

This bond is one of a series of bonds amounting in the aggregate to ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ($100,000.00) DOLLARS, issued by the City of Pittsburgh for valid municipal purposes by virtue and in pursuance of an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entitled, "An Act to regulate the manner of increasing the indebtedness of municipalities, to provide for the redemption of the same and to impose penalties for the illegal increase thereof," approved April 20, 1874, and the several supplements and amendments thereof; and by virtue of an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entitled, "An Act for the government of cities of the second class," approved March 7, 1901, and the supplements and amendments thereof, and an Act of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania entitled, "An Act to authorize the registry of transfer of certificates of loans," approved May 5, 1915, and in pursuance of an Ordinance of the City of Pittsburgh entitled, "An Ordinance authorizing and directing an increase of the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh in the sum of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars, and providing for the issue of bonds of said City in said amount to provide funds for furnishing supplies, materials, equipment, skilled labor and supervision for improvement generally of streets, parks, playgrounds, sewers, etc., the labor to be furnished by the Allegheny County Emergency Association," duly enacted by the Council thereof and approved by the Mayor thereof on the . . . . day of . . . . . 19. . . , and duly recorded and published in the manner required by law.

It is hereby certified and recited that every requirement of law affecting the issue hereof has been duly complied with; that provision has been made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest and also the principal hereof at maturity, that the total amount of the indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh, created without the consent of the electors thereof, including the entire issue of the above mentioned bonds aggregating ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND ($100,000.00) DOLLARS of which this is one, is less than two per centum (2%) of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property therein; and the entire indebtedness of the City of Pittsburgh, including the entire issue of the above mentioned bonds, of which this is one, is less than seven per centum (7%) of the last preceding assessed valuation of the taxable property therein; and that this bond and the debt created thereby are within every debt and other limit prescribed by the Constitution and Laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Given under the corporate seal of the City of Pittsburgh, signed by the Mayor thereof and countersigned by the City Controller, as of . . . . day of . . . . . (Seal of the City of Pittsburgh)

CITY OF PITTSBURGH,

Business Leaders Organize Against Racketeers

Markham, publisher of the Star, sat in his private office, deep in conference with an earnest group the day after the trial. The gathering had come secretly. Not even the publisher's secretary knew they were there.

Organize Against Crime

"They freed Scorpio," stated the publisher, "and from a number of sources we have word that he was really guilty."

"That in itself is not so important—but what lies behind it will be.

"Of course the police proved nothing. They never will. They're afraid to. I had the courage to throw the racketeers out of my factory when they started that strike. Their demands were exorbitant."

"And yet—I can't prove a thing."

"They are levying an assessment on all my milk drivers," added Denton, head of the Denton Creameries, "and they have the men terrorized. I tell you—something has to be done."

Markham glanced at his listeners.

"There are six of us here—representing all the big interests of the city," he stated. "My paper'll get back of this to the limit.

"What we have to do is fight organization with organization.

"What I propose is that we find a secret headquarters and organize a counter-body of the forces of law and order."

* * *

Hank, the reporter had been dropping into the former Franks restaurant, operated by the Gouger—during the imprisonment and trial of Scorpio and Vronski. He and Anne had become more than friendly. Carl dropped in, too, and between the two arose a lively rivalry over the girl, almost as keen as their rivalry over news. The day of the trial, Hank brought Anne disquieting tidings.

"They're threatening to close this place up," he stated. "It seems that though they know no booze was ever sold here, they found some in Franks' office. I don't know whether they can make it stick—Newton's pretty smart."

"Say," she retorted, "you know I fell for that big brother stuff once."

In Love With Hank

Peaches, sitting at a table in the restaurant, watched the little drama. She smiled a hard smile. She thought she saw a way of riding herself of Anne as a rival charmer.

"Like that reporter pretty well, don't you?"

"I sure do."

"Well, you're a sucker to hang around with him. Why don't you grab yourself some real dough? You won't be young long, kid."

"Say, Peaches, you weren't born yesterday—and you seem to be going pretty well."

"I'm hanging on like a bat out of hell." Peaches grimly answered. "A queer look came over her hard face.

"I hate him—and I love him," she breathed. "I'd kill anyone who tried to take him away from me."

"You mean Scorpio?"

"Sure. You see, he's my last chance. In another year I'll be cracking up like a hard winter. Then he wouldn't look at a dame like me. He'll be after 'em young. I'll get the gate.

"That's why I'm makin' my innings now. Grabbing all I can get."

"Vronski get life! Scorpio freed!"

DAILY TRUE STORY

Tea for Four

Wealthy Man Pursues His Eloping Daughter

John Millikin took the message from the boy. "Wait," he said, "there may be an answer."

He read:

"Dear Dad: So sorry you wouldn't consent; hoped you would. However, I told you that I intended to marry Carter Leighton, so don't accuse me of deceit. I know you made me promise to tell you when and where I would be married. All right, I am keeping my promise. We will be married tomorrow forenoon at River View. Love and kisses,

"MYRTIE."

"Who gave you this to deliver?" John Millikin asked the messenger boy, handing him a half dollar.

"A swell looking girl," he answered.

"Where was she?"

"In th' office."

"Do you mean the telegraph office, where you work?"

"Yes, sir."

"Was she alone?"

"What's this, mister? Are you a detective or something?"

"Something like that," Millikin answered, patiently but rather grimly.

"Well, there was a feller with her. They drove away in a car."

"Thanks," said Millikin.

He called Dawton as soon as the boy had gone.

"Telephone for my car—the coupe," he ordered.

"Yes, sir—shall I call Ryan?"

"No. If he's there have him drive it over; if not, have someone at the garage drive it over."

Discovers Clues

He found a packet of letters. To do him credit he did not read any. He looked at the signature. Finally he found the right packet. The first one he opened was signed:

"Yours adoringly, Carter."

The envelope was postmarked, "Leaville, Connecticut."

It was a matter of deduction. Last summer this Carter Leighton had been away on a vacation. That was about the time they thought they had fallen in love. Myrtie received letters from him and wrote to him. Millikin was not interested. Myrtie had quite a number of boy friends—nice chaps—they often corresponded.

Leaville was, it seemed, away up in a corner of the state. It would be a long drive and he asn't very familiar with those roads.

He couldn't get out of the city very rapidly. It seemed to Millikin that he had never seen so many lights turn red or stay red for so long. Finally he got up to the parkway. It was late then, between 11 and 12. He began to make speed.

Dawn came. It seemed to Millikin that he ought to be almost there. He would have been there sooner if he hadn't got mixed up on a road and gone out of his way.

It was 8 o'clock when Millikin reached Leaville, an absurd little cluster of houses and shops.

Meets Carter's Mother

The place was pretty. Neat as could be all about it. The lawn was like a carpet, the shrubs trim, the roses in long beds and blooming riotously. No one seemed about as he stopped his car on the wide yellow gravel drive and went up to the veranda.

The door opened and a woman came out with a garden basket of tools. She seemed surprised to see Millikin.

"May I see the manager of this hotel?" Millikin asked.

"Hotel? Oh, I'm sorry, this isn't a hotel, it is a private home."

"Isn't this River View?"

"Yes, sir, but that's just a name. There is a good hotel some miles beyond here—"

"I don't understand quite. You see, I want to stop a couple who think they want to be married—my daughter, I—"

Millikin wasn't usually hesitant about anything, but he never gave chase to an eloping daughter before or found it necessary to talk about it.

"This will explain," and he handed her the note Myrtle had written.

"I'm Carter's mother," she said faintly, "but I didn't think he would marry until he got your consent. I've never seen your daughter, but from all Carter has told me, he is going to be fortunate if he does get her. Oh, excuse me—you must be tired and hungry, you must have driven all night."

Carter Telephones

"Yes, Mrs. Leighton. I take it that they haven't arrived yet. Now—"

"My breakfast will be ready in five minutes. I want you to join me, then we can talk this over."

She took him into the house, which was thoroughly well furnished, and sent him to wash up. They sat down to breakfast on an eastern porch overlooking a great flower garden.

Millikin marveled that Mrs. Leighton could be old enough to have a son 22. He told her so. She had been married at 16. She had been a widow 10 years. They talked about each other at first.

"It is a matter of age, that's really all. I looked up your son, Mrs. Leighton, and aside from being young he seems to be all right. They tell me he is going to be a success as an architect."

"Well, Carter's youth may be against him but he will outgrow that defect. How old were you when you married?"

"Twenty—" Millikin stopped to laugh. His laugh was pleasant. "I was 21 and my wife was 17. It seemed quite old at the time."

Mrs. Leighton was laughing with him by this time.

"Are you going to play the stern parent and drag your daughter away?" she asked.

"Not me, Mrs. Leighton. My plans when I started were to have a long talk with them, make them wait a year, but now—well, it seems that this Carter Leighton who has captured my daughter's affections must be quite a wonderful chap—to have such a clever and attractive mother."

They finished breakfast. Millikin went around with Mrs. Leighton while she picked roses. He surprised her with his knowledge of shrub and fruit tree pruning.

By noon they were each a little nervous.

A telephone call came through from Carter Leighton, explaining to his mother that he was coming home with his bride-to-be and that an accident to the car had delayed them. He wanted her to telephone for their minister. He had already secured a license.

"Shall I tell him you are here?" Mrs. Leighton whispered.

After the telephone conversation Mrs. Leighton sat down and dabbed at her eyes a bit. Millikin tried to comfort her.

"Shall I get the clergyman?" she asked.

"How do you feel about it, Mrs. Leighton?"

"I'm like all mothers—hate to give up my son to another woman—but I want him to be happy. Suppose you help me decide?"

"I think," Millikin said, "that we would all be happier off if we gave them our blessings."

Couple Surprised

Two hours later Carter and Myrtie arrived.

The room was beautifully decorated with flowers.

Carter and Myrtie stood in the wide arch, hand in hand, staring in utter amazement. Millikin's car had been put up so they had no hint of his presence.

"Why Dad-dee Millikin—if you aren't a fast worker I never saw one!" Myrtie cried.

After paternal and maternal kisses Carter said, "I assume, from what I have seen, that there is to be but slight parental objection."

"The minister will be here at 5," Mrs. Leighton said. She called the maid.

Asked a girl if she'd give him a date,
Said she, "Want a hot one?"
Said he, "If you've got one—"
So she gave him the date of the Chicago fire.

PUPPY LOVE

My gal's coy and bashful,
And I think that she
Is as nice a maiden
As a maid can be.
She is quite a hoyden,
Likes to pout and balk,
Minches, lisps and giggles,
Whispers baby-talk.
We have fun together,
Goodness sakes alive,
Though I'm almost eighty-six
And she's just sixty-five.

THAT'S TELLING IT TO HIM, BLAINE, OLD BOY!

(From the Lamar (Mo.) Democrat)

Mr. Arthur Aull, Lamar, Mo. Nashville, Mo.

Dear Sir:

I see by the Democrat that the Nashville correspondent has been drinking again.

At least I suppose that is the reason he had the little article about myself twisted. He said I had been in Aurora looking for work. Work is one thing I never look for, or do much of. I went to Aurora for the sole purpose of visiting. The article also said I would go to Tulsa to work in a restaurant soon.

He had just as well have said I was going to Tulsa to tend bar in the First M. E. Church.

Respectfully yours,
Blaine Pittenger.

Curtis Appeals for Deportation of Alien Racketeers

In his address to the annual congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution, Vice President Curtis made a timely appeal in behalf of a more effective system for Americanizing newcomers to the household of the nation.

"In this day and age," said the Vice President, "it is worth much to a man's peace and happiness to be a citizen of the United States. He should be worthy of it. He should seek it as a great boon. He should appreciate its rare value and desire it above all things.

"Our immigration laws should be amended and more rigidly enforced, and especially is this true in these times of depression and lack of employment.. Registration of aliens would be helpful to the department and to all seeking citizenship.

"All aliens whose object is to overthrow our government and all alien criminals and racketeers should be deported, and the sooner this action is taken the better it will be for our country."

No more important question will come before the new Congress when it convenes next December than this three-fold problem of immigration, Americanization and naturalization.

REGISTRATION OF ALL ALIENS MUST BE REQUIRED BY LAW. That law must be enforced if desirable aliens are to be trained for citizenship and undesirable aliens deported.

Training for citizenship should be required of all aliens before they are permitted to take the oath of allegiance.

Not only should the TIME REQUIRED FOR NATURALIZATION be extended, but the STANDARD OF TRAINING preparatory to naturalization should be raised.

Ample funds and forces should be provided for apprehending all undesirable aliens and DEPORTING THEM AS RAPIDLY AS POSSIBLE.

Aliens convicted other than for capital crimes should be sent on their way AS SOON AS THEY ARE CONVICTED, thus relieving the American taxpayer of the cost of their imprisonment.

Finally, existing immigration laws should be revised so as to provide for an INTELLIGENT SYSTEM OF SELECTION.

Those immigrants should be admitted for whom there is an economic need. Selection to this end should be authorized by law.

Canada has found the flexibility of a selective system of immigration works well. Canada's immigration laws are drafted to serve the best interests of Canada.

And the Daughters of the American Revolution can be of great assistance in organizing public sentiment to support of stricter naturalization laws, stronger deportation laws and a more intelligent system of selective immigration.

Welcome to Pittsburgh

Latchstring Is Out for Visitors Who Will Find Many Things of Interest.

Pittsburgh's latchstring, always out, has been adorned with "premiums" that are to be had for the taking by visitors today and tomorrow—"Hospitality Days." Transportation to and within the city has been reduced. Special shopping inducements have been made by many leading retail establishments. Hotels and restaurants, too, have made concessions. We want the visitors to feel that their coming is to prove profitable in a monetary way. We hope that it will be satisfactory in all respects.

There will be various ways to spend the time either seriously or in pursuit of recreation. There are numerous strong attractions for those who like sports. One may watch swimming exhibitions in the morning, "big league" baseball in the afternoon and indoor sports in the evening. In the theaters, too, are programs that will be found to be highly diverting. Performances are continuous in the movie houses and there will be matinee as well as evening shows in the three legitimate theaters Saturday.

An unusual concession is the opportunity to visit the four radio stations, cards for which may be obtained at the office of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph. The studios are all in the downtown district, and the privilege of visiting has been extended to include Sunday. Those who wish to do so may even inspect the powerful KDKA transmitting station near Saxonburg.

For sight-seers there will be motor bus trips throughout the city. This is a rare opportunity for those who never have seen our fine residential districts and the wonderful civic center in Oakland, including Pitt and Tech universities, Soldiers Memorial, Carnegie Institute, embracing museum, art gallery and library, St. Paul's Cathedral and other splendid institutional buildings, the entire group comprising a setting that is perhaps unequaled anywhere in the world.

The parks, too, are worthy of a visit, both Highland and Schenley containing many features of interest, among the most attractive being the Phipps Conservatory, in Schenley Park, and the Zoo, in Highland Park.

Ordinarily two days would be insufficient to see things of Pittsburgh that are worth seeing, but arrangements for Hospitality Days are such that one may condense a lot of time either for business or pleasure in such a way that an overflowing measure will result.

Welcome to Pittsburgh and may your visit be pleasant!

Hit the Blue Law!

Never before has there been such a determined legislative assault upon the blue law, which has seemed a permanent fixture for so many years that liberal thinkers have despaired of ever seeing Pennsylvania have a real American Sunday. Supporters of the law heretofore have been able to work some psychological magic whereby legislators stood in fear, trembling and backing away from anything that approached the hoary old act of 1794 in any spirit except that of awe. Hands off was considered to be the only safe policy by all legislators.

For years that psychological magic has been potent. With the use of it supporters of the outdated law have been able to have any measure for the liberalization of Sunday smothered in committee. That happened in the last session of the General Assembly, and that ended the matter. It has happened even in the present session, but the matter didn't end. In the recent move to insert a Sunday baseball amendment in the Schwartz bill victory was all but achieved as far as the House is concerned. Two more votes would have done it. They could have consistently come from opposing members of the delegation from Allegheny County, in which the community sentiment certainly is most strongly for modification, at least, of the blue law.

There will still be another chance when the Denning bill comes up next Monday. There is one Denning bill on the House calendar and another intended to be a substitute, in committee. The latter would put the enabling power in the hands of local councils instead of having the matter decided by county referendum, as in the original bill, the change being made to avoid possibility of unconstitutionality.

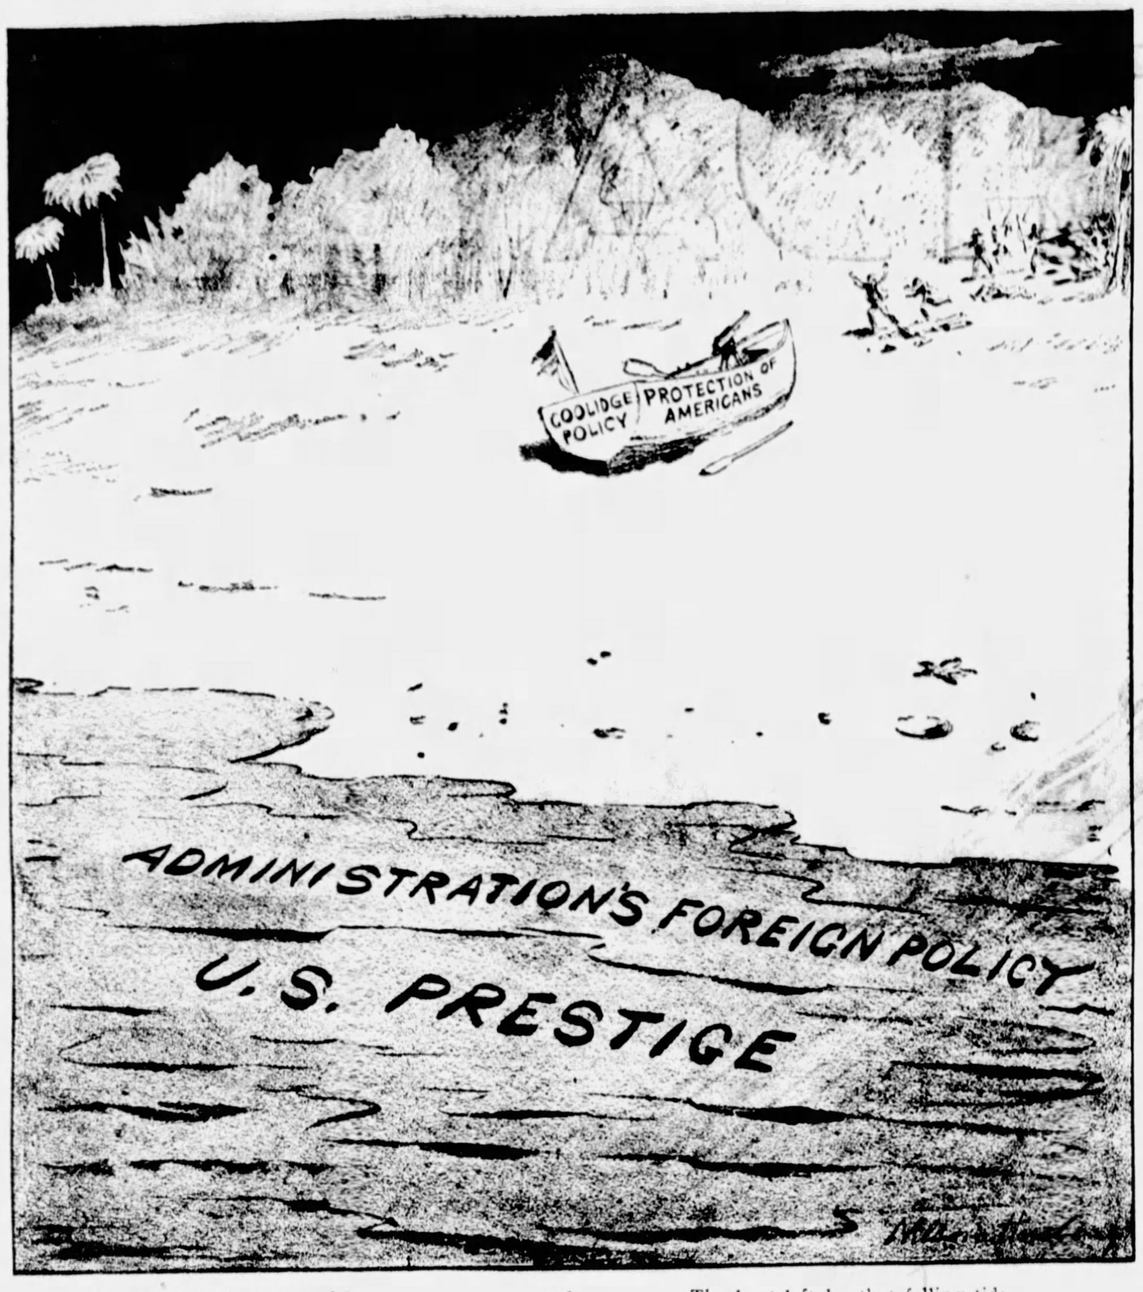
Allegheny and Philadelphia want a modified Sunday observance law. Perhaps others do, too, but we confine our claims in the matter to territory that we are sure of. As a move in that direction we expect our legislators to reflect our wishes at every opportunity. The next will be in the vote on the Denning bill, the new one, if it be reported, or the one now on the House calendar, if there be no substitute.

We already have shown great advancement toward a modern Sunday in the present Legislature. A vote to put it over in the House at this session would be a real accomplishment. It would be a sign to timid legislators that fear of meddling with the old law is the result of a bugaboo and would pave the way for a reasonable discussion of the whole matter of Sunday observance in the next session. Blue law advocates have never yet permitted that.

But give us SOMETHING now!

Low Tide

By Nelson Harding



The tide is at its lowest ebb
Receding from the shore,
And far from those high water marks

The boat left by that falling tide
We hope will not remain
Long stranded; and we wait to see
The tide at flood again.

MATHEMATICS PAYS

By Archibald Henderson

There was a time when mathematics was a bugbear, something to be fled from, like the plague. It was difficult, therefore it must be avoided. Students in high schools, colleges and universities still shrink from mathematics, because it requires clear, sustained thought. People don't like to think, although they think they do! They like to have their hard thinking done for them. They are willing to do the easy thinking, which is, for the most part, only mentally resuming things they already know!

Pure science, virtually without exception, depends upon mathematics. We cannot arrive at exact scientific results without accurate measurement. Things must be counted, weighed, sealed, measured, balanced against other combinations and aggregations which themselves have to be measured.

The pure scientist, so-called, who is working for truth, and not for practical results of economic value, must be given a free hand. No scientific fact can be called valueless. We never know the day or the hour when it may assume a value of gigantic financial significance. A new scientific truth may prove to have enormous therapeutic value; or it may give birth to a new industry involving millions of money.

As Floyd Darrow says in his suggestive work, The New World of Physical Discovery: Who would have thought that the discovery of helium in the atmosphere of the sun would become a factor in the safety of airships? What relation could there be between the invisible radiations of Roentgen's vacuum tube and a method for determining the quality of structural steel?

Would anybody have dreamed that the Polish girl's quest for radio active elements might lead to a method for treating cancer? What more fanciful than to imagine that Maxwell's equations should inspire a search which was to end in the radio conquest of space? Did Davy, as he performed those experiments in chemical decomposition at the Royal Institution, have the faintest glimpse of the vast electro-chemical industry of which they were the forerunners? Absolutely accidental, is it not, that Galvani's experiment with the frog's legs should lead to the first method of producing current electricity?

All of these experiments either depend directly on mathematics or lead directly to research involving mathematics. All eventually give rise to industries involving in sums not millions, but billions of dollars.

The Rhyming Optimist

By ALINE MICHAELIS.

In Storm

Sometimes the storm more comfort brings
Than any gentler breeze that sings,
And in the tempest's shriek and roar
Of angry waves against the shore
A heart can learn how Nature, too,
Has moods too mighty to subdue.

Such forces race along the blast
To thrust all obstacles aside.
With might that will not be denied,
That fresher, purer grows the air,

In storms of life men feel a force
That rends their very being's source,
Yet when at last its furies wane,
With stronger hands they grasp again
The tasks time brings them; through the years
They grow more wise through stress and tears.

MARRY-GO-ROUND

By Helen Rowland

Mrs. Solomon Says—

My son, it is easy to be wise in January. But who shall say what folly a man may commit when the wine of spring is in the air, the spirit is filled with adventure and the heart is more tender than a new artichoke?

* * *

Then, I charge thee, as thou lovest thy freedom, thine own will and thy latchkey, beware! For the hour of thy danger is at hand.

Go to. Fear not a damsel while she pursueth thee with blandishments and seeketh to vamp thee. For, her designs are as easy to see through as a politician's alibi. Yea, they are more obvious than lipstick marks upon the collar. But, when she CEASETH to vamp thee, flee from her while there is yet time.

* * *

* * *

* * *

When she saith, "How comforting is a good PAL! Yea, verily, one honest friendship exceedeth twenty flaming affairs and the transient infatuation of a dozen sheiks!"——

* * *

When she urgeth thee to "explain thy work" and persuadeth thee to talk about THYSELF——

* * *

When she offereth to do thy marketing and chideth thee concerning thine extravagance——

* * *

* * *

When she refuseth to let thee lead her to the gaudy places, saying, "Nay, let us dine at the-little-place-around-the-corner. For, it is cozier and cheaper. And my tastes are SO simple!"——

* * *

* * *

When she appraiseth thy neckties and calleth them "good"——

* * *

When she saith, "How congenial are we in all our ways! For, I, too, detest dancing in a crowd and prefer the dinner without the din. What a pleasant thing is companionability!"——

Then, my son, be not puffed up with vainglory; but watch thy STEP. For a vamp is innocuous but a "little PAL" is a dangerous thing!

Text For Today Know therefore this day, and consider it in thine heart, that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else.—Deuteronomy, iv:39.

Typewriter Champion

Here's a Girl of Power, a Girl of Charm

Stella Willins,
World's Typewriter Champion.

The world admires this young woman. Think of the wonderful co-ordination of brain, nerves and muscles needed to write on a typewriter at the rate of 124 words a minute, 7,440 words an hour, WITHOUT A MISTAKE.

Her ears must hear, or her eyes must read, and her mind must understand. One part of the brain takes in the meaning brought by the "afferent" nerves of eye or ear. Another part of the brain sends orders along the "efferent" nerves, telling the muscles of the fingers what to do.

Marvelous, beautiful, amazing performance at 124 words a minute, more than two words per second.

When she returns from a European trip this charming young American girl will be invited to give an exhibition of her wonderful skill for newspaper readers, particularly for employers that read the Classified Advertising.

Read through the Classified columns of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph today and you will see how many opportunities there are for skill of all kinds in this rich and busy country.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 24.—Thoughts while strolling: Usually something dignified about men named Elliot. A window of ivory elephants. Diamond Jim used to collect them. Since Louis Mann's passing, Charles Dana Gibson wears the biggest collars in town. The president of Dutton's — John MacRea.

Samuel Merwin, an Evanston, Ill., boy, who made good in the city. Harum-scarum girls who breeze into hotel lobbies at lunch puffing cigarettes. And the dazzling human blaze—thief, fraud and courtesan. Furred throats and dimpled knees. A cop talks baby talk to his horse.

Too much chromium in the modernistic stuff. Looks too tinny, says the veteran art critic. A trained pigeon selects "fortune cards" from a box. Bob Kennedy of the Biltmore. The flushed earnestness of Joseph Urban. And the slow gaited swing of his enormous bulk. Those fat ladies who carry long beaded bags.

Raymond Hitchcock's widow Flora Zabelle. Zaz, to intimates. Douglas Fairbanks' closest friend in New York is Frank Case of the Algonquin. Gray black Cairns. Norman Anthony, Jr., who used to edit Life. Now free lancing successfully. I like to hear Zita Johann talk.

Withered ivory-skinned ladies who drive in the park afternoons, holding sun parasols. Fifth avenue doesn't seem the same without Vantine's. Two priests walk with heads bared across St. Patrick's lawn. Slot machine sign: "Drop coin, push button—and see what happens!" Yeah, and be scared out of my wits.

Summer peddlers out in the park—red balloons, crackerjack, lollipops and throw-balls on rubbers. Those fashionable luggage shops—the niftiest designs are manufactured in Oshkosh. They do not teach diving any more at swimming schools. They now call it "plunging."

Sinclair Lewis looks a little drawn. I can't tell a ship captain's uniform from a bandmaster's. White mustached clubmen with pale, puffy lips, who sit in club windows like icy gray clouds. Carl Van Vechten's eyes have a greenish glint. Or is that interesting?

* * *

Now that the Century theater is but a memory, the truth about its whispered "hoo-doo" has become generally known. Its ineffectiveness as a playhouse was an architectural blunder and not due to any eerie mystery. Doomed to failure from the start on account of the acoustics, it merely tried to carry on. On opening night voices could scarcely be heard back of the tenth row and in the balcony a song was a whisper. Fortunes were spent to overcome the difficulty but it could not be accomplished. So the Century came down.

* * *

These sparkling days recall the spring "pool" among small town blades to hire the yellow carriage, with fringe like a hearse, to take favored ladies for the first seasonal ride. Trotting by the post-office some local cut-up would yell: "How long you been saving up?" But you vanished in a cloud of dust across the railroad tracks; headed for the open spaces. Happy days!

* * *

In a Fifty-seventh street window a young girl in gym scanties manipulates a rowing machine as an ad. And those who remember the wind blown Billie Burke of 15 years ago have to look several times to be convinced.

* * *

The majority of my adult years have been spent trying to write. In all that time I do not remember having a satisfactory pen for more than a few days. Nor do I believe there is any model or make I have not given an honest trial. But no matter how satisfactory at the start they soon begin acting up and become a running mate for a postoffice pen at the cross roads. All this is a prelude to the fact that this morning I picked up one in a shabby Third avenue stationery shop. The price was 8 cents and all day it worked dandy. But it is not much fun. Any minute I expect it to kick the chair from under me or explode in my hand. I'm a pencil boy anyway.
